		Gilliland. The Court takes the motion to strike under advisement and the motion to strike is held in abeyance pending further order of the Court or the resolution of the motion to transfer, expect as otherwise stated here: as the Court stated in the text order of September 8, 2023, eCardless may file a reply limited to 5 pages in support of its motion to strike by no later than 7 days after the filing of PayPal's response. In the meantime, the parties are directed to engage in venue or jurisdictional briefing and discovery. Venue or jurisdictional discovery shall be completed no later than 10 weeks after the filing of defendant PayPal's motion to transfer at ECF No. 39. The deadline for plaintiff eCardless's response is 2 weeks after the completion of venue or jurisdictional discovery. The deadline for PayPal's reply is 2 weeks after the filing of the response. The following presumptive limits on discovery related to venue and jurisdiction apply: each party is limited to 5 interrogatories, 10 Requests for Production, and 10 hours of deposition testimony. The time to respond to such discovery requests is 20 days. If a party believes these limits should be expanded, the party shall meet and confer with opposing counsel and if an impasse is reached, the requesting party is directed to contact the Court's law clerk for a telephonic hearing.
