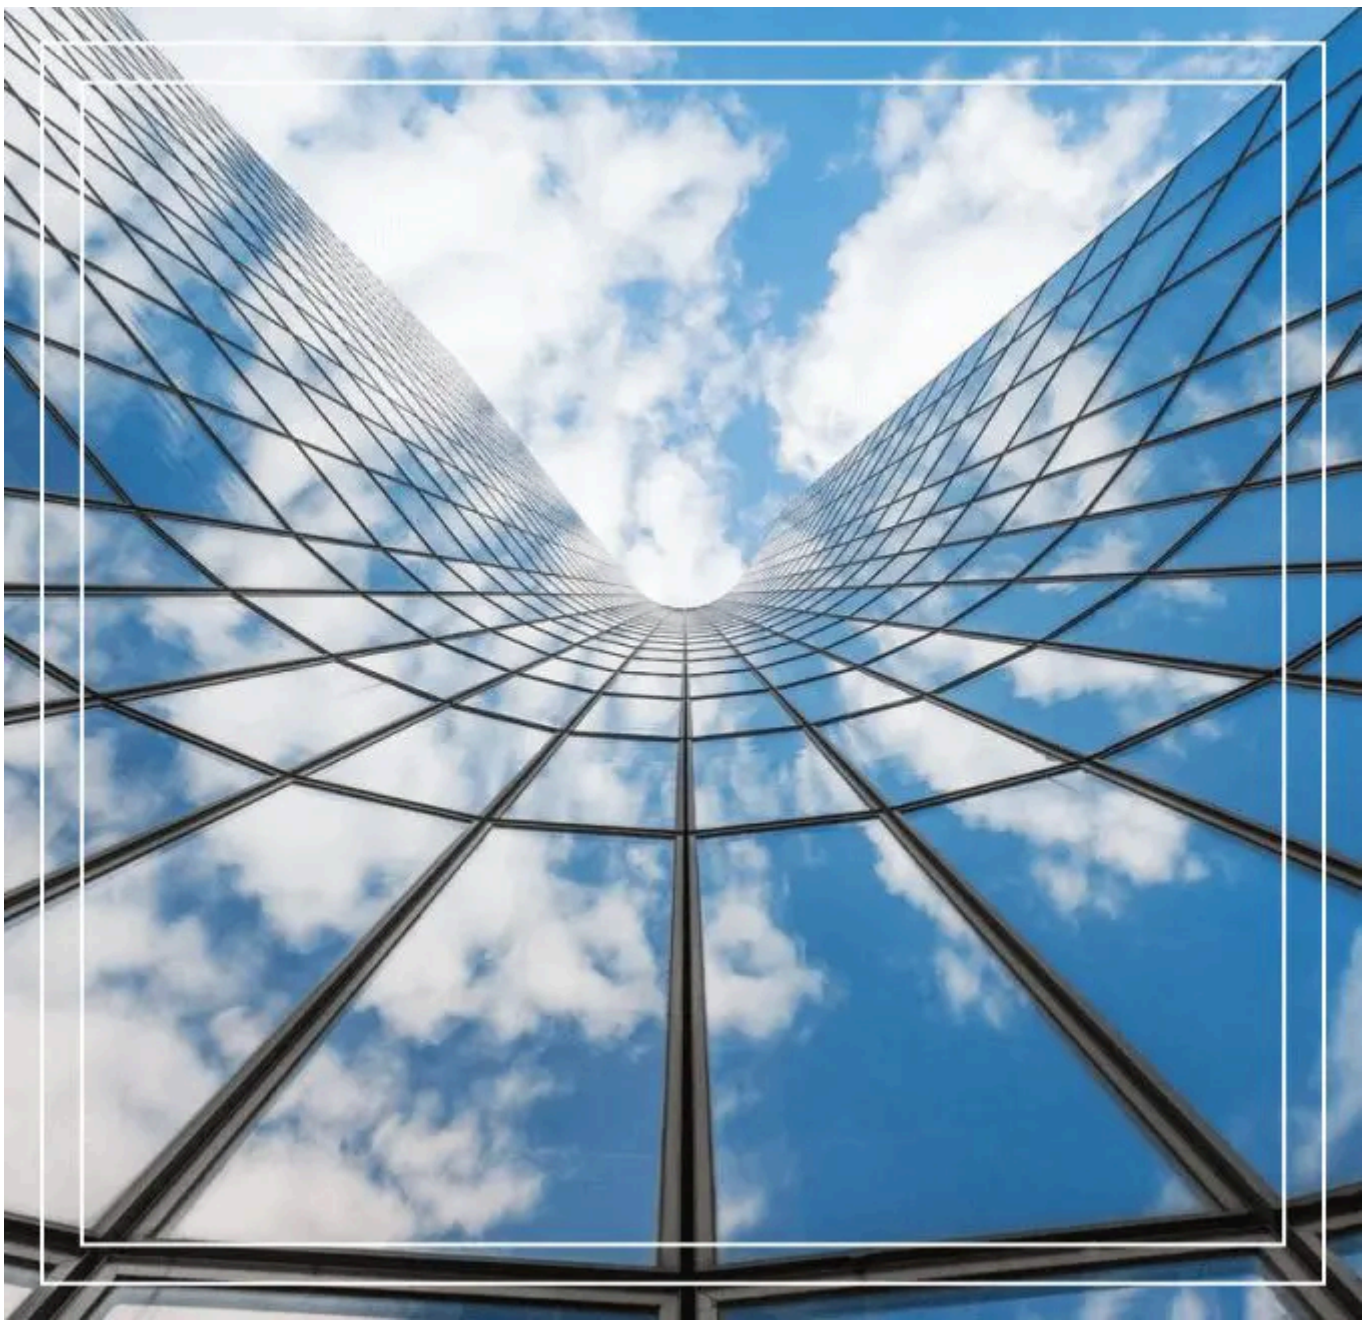
CLOUD BYTE LLC

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY ASSET MANAGEMENT



COMPANY OVERVIEW

Cloud Byte acquires, manages and licenses patents in the field of information and communications technology ("ICT").

Patents are the currency of innovation. They embody the originality, inventiveness and insight of the creative process and supports the functioning of all notable technologies and technology companies worldwide.

Through its commercial activity, Cloud Byte recognizes the value that its patent portfolio generates for its licensees. This value is the distillation of decades of research and development into ICT, requiring substantial investments in human and financial capital.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY PORTFOLIO

Cloud Byte's intellectual property portfolio comprises approximately 350+ global patent assets. These encompass extraordinary innovations in unified communications networks that integrate telecommunications, computers, enterprise networking equipment, servers, switches and storage systems thereby allowing users to access, store, transmit and manipulate information.

This patent portfolio was developed by a formidable multinational ICT company with over 100 years of experience and a legacy that continues to enable a wide range of technologies in almost every industry globally.

It is a unique portfolio of intellectual property that underpins and enables the modern digital world.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Patents are a fundamental building block of progress and commerce allowing inventors to finance innovation and generate economic value for themselves and their stakeholders. This creates societal value in the form of deployed technologies, job creation and GDP growth.

We are proud that our assets have contributed and continue to contribute materially to the growth and profitability of many industries throughout the world.

Our team is therefore dedicated to licensing our assets in a manner that properly rewards the capital investment, business risk tolerance and intellectual commitment required for their creation.
