EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Stephen Vosen on 5/7/2009.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 1-47

48. (Amended) The ~~application system~~ of claim ~~[[47]]61~~,

~~wherein one of said plurality of objects is a child object, and~~

~~wherein the build engine includes is configured to accept user input to~~

~~associate style definition means for associating a style with child button and child image objects, and~~

~~further including a menu for defining child button and child image styles.~~

49. (Amended) The ~~system application~~ of claim ~~[[47]]61~~, wherein at least one of said styles includes settings for multiple object states.

50. (Canceled)

51. (Amended) The ~~system application~~ of claim ~~[[47]]48~~, wherein at least one of said styles includes values defining time lines for child button and child image objects.

52-55 (CANCELLED).

56. (Amended) The ~~system method~~ of claim ~~[[47]]61~~, further including file size reduction means for reducing the total size of files generated by said build engine to a size of between 12K and 50K.

57-59. (CANCELLED)

60. (Amended) The ~~system method of application of claim [[47]]61~~, where said data is stored as one or more of a ~~boolean~~Boolean, an integer, a string, a floating point variables, or a URL.

61. (New) A system for assembling a web site comprising:

a server comprising a build engine configured to:

accept user input to create a web site, the web site comprising a plurality of web pages, each web page comprising a plurality of objects, accept user input to associate a style with objects of the plurality of web pages, wherein each web page comprises at least one button object or at least one image object, and wherein the at least one button object or at least one image object is associated with a style that includes values defining transformations and time lines for the at least one button object or at least one image object; and wherein each web page is defined entirely by each of the plurality of objects comprising that web page and the style associated with the object, produce a database with a multidimensional array comprising the objects that comprise the web site including data defining, for each object, the object style, an object number, and an indication of the web page that each object is part of, and provide the database to a server accessible to web browser;

wherein the database is produced such that a web browser with access to a runtime engine is configured to generate the web-site from the objects and style data extracted from the provided database.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The new claim 61 recites features that are not taught or suggested by the prior art. In combination with the other claimed features, producing a database of the constituent objects of a plurality of webpages including styles that include transformations and timelines for those objects in the manner claimed such that the web sites can be created from the database cannot be suggested by a combination of the prior art. Applicants amendments and remarks regarding claims 56 serve to overcome the rejection under §112. Upon further consideration, because it is a measure of file size, and in combination with Applicant remarks, it is clear that the "K" refers to kilobytes. The newly cited references are cited to show the state of the art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

3. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Adam M. Queler whose telephone number is (571)272-4140. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Stephen Hong can be reached on (571) 272-4124. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.

REMARKS

Status of the Application:

Claims 2-57 were previously pending in the case. Claim 47 is the elected, independent claim. Claims 2-46, 52-55 and 57 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention. New Claims 58-60 are presented herein. Claims 2-60 are thus pending in the application.

Amendment to the Claims:

Applicants have amended Claims 47 and 56 to overcome the rejections under 35 USC 112, second paragraph, and under 35 USC 102.

Claim 47 has been amended to recite that a build engine producing a database usable by a runtime engine for producing pages of a web-site. Support for the database is found, in part, in the original Claim 1 and in paragraph [0008]. Support for the database including data associated with the style of a button and image object is found, in part, in FIG. 16 and the discussion thereof in paragraphs [0270] through [0294]. Accordingly, no new matter has been introduced by this amendment to the claim.

Claim 56 has been amended as to recite file size reduction means to generate files having a size of between 12K and 50K. Support for this amendment is found in paragraph [0016]. Accordingly, no new matter has been introduced by this amendment to the claim.

New Claims:

New claims 58, 59, and 60 are directed to specifics of the database of Claim 47, as amended. Support for the new claims is found, in part, in paragraphs [0008] and [0171]. No new matter has been introduced in this new claims.

Claims 58-60 depend on Claim 47, as amended, and are believed to be patentable over the prior art for at least the reasons provided subsequently.

Claim Rejections -35 USC § 112 Second Parag. (Indefiniteness)

In paragraph 6 of the Office Action, Claim 56 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In response to the rejection, Claim 56 has been amended. Applicant believes the rejection has been overcome for the following reasons, and respectfully requests that the rejection be withdrawn.

Claim 56 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, for the following reasons: 1) “[t]he term “from approximately 12K to approximately 50K” in claim 56 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite; 2) “this limitation [“from approximately 12K to approximately 50K”] does not make any sense as it is reducing from a smaller size to a larger size; and 3) “the units used themselves are ambiguous. (“K” usually means kilobytes, however, may refer to transmission speed.

Claim, as amended recites: “file size reduction means for reducing the total size of files generated by said build engine to a size of between 12K and 50K.” Amended claim 56 is directed to the size of of a file, and not to a transmission speed, with the “K” being a measure file size (kilobytes). Applicant believes that Reasons 1), 2), and 3) are resolved with the amended claim.

The Examiner also noted that neither a “byte” nor a “kilobyte” has a standard accepted value. Applicant respectfully disagrees. The IEE Standard Dictionary of Electrical and Electronic Terms (Sixth Edition, 1996) defines kilobyte as being 2^{10} bytes, and Webster's Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged. Merriam-Webster, 2002. (<http://unabridged.merriam-webster.com> (26 Jan. 2009)), defines kilobyte as being 1024 bytes.

Applicant believes Claim 56, as amended, to be definite and distinctly claiming the subject matter, and respectfully requests that the rejection of 56 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph be withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

In paragraph 8 of the office action, Claims 47-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Microsoft® FrontPage® 98 by Denise Tyler (November 1997), “Tyler.” In response Independent Claim 47 has been amended to more clearly distinguish the claimed invention over the prior art. Applicant respectfully submits that Claim 47-51, as amended, are not anticipated by Tyler, and requests that the rejection be withdrawn.

Tyler describes software that is used to generate HyperText Markup Language (HTML). Specifically, in Tyler, individual objects are generated as in-line HTML code. When HTML is interpreted for generating web pages, the instructions for generating objects are provided and interpreted one at a time.

In contrast with Tyler, Claim 47, as amended, recites a build engine (the software used in designing web pages) capable of producing a database of data associated with objects and object styles. The database is usable by a browser having access to a runtime engine to generate web pages. Thus a web browser, which provides for interpretation HTML to display web pages, accesses a runtime engine and a database to determine object styles when generating web pages.

Claim 47, as amended, is not anticipated by Tyler. Specifically, the claimed build engine producing a database is neither taught nor suggested in Tyler. Further, there is no teaching or suggestion of a database of objects and/or styles, nor is there any teaching or suggestion of style definition means for storing information related to the associated object style in a database.

For any of these reasons, Tyler thus does not teach each and every recitation of independent Claim 47. Since Tyler fails to anticipate the invention as claimed, Applicant respectfully requests that the rejection of under §102 of Claim 47, as amended, and of Claims 48-51, which depend on Claim 47, be withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

In paragraph 10 of the Office Action, Claim 56 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyler as applied to claim 47 above, and further in view of Becker; Craig Henry (US 6585779 B1, 07/01/2003). Applicant disagrees for the following reasons and requests that ther rejection be withdrawn.

Becker teaches a method for inspecting the contents of a Java Repository containing Java Beans. There is no teaching of object or object style databases in Becker.

Appl'n Serial No.: 10/351,182 ; Our Ref./Docket No: XPR.001US1

Response to Office Action of August 6, 2008; Amendment filed February 2, 2009

For the reasons presented above, Applicant believes that cited references fail to teach, suggest, or provide motivation for either of the following: 1) a build engine producing a database; 2) a database of objects and/or styles; 3) style definition means for storing information related to the associated object style in a database. Accordingly, there is no teaching, suggestion, or motivation to reduce the file size of such a database.

For any of these reasons, a prima facie case of obviousness has not been established for either of Claim 56. It is thus respectfully requested that the Examiner withdraw the rejection of Claim 56 under 35 U.S.C. §103(a).

Reconsideration and re-examination are requested.

For these reasons, and in view of the above amendment, this application is now considered to be in condition for allowance and such action is earnestly solicited.

Conclusion

Applicant respectfully submits that the application is in condition for allowance and action to that end is respectfully solicited. DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: Application filed January 24, 2003, Preliminary Amendment filed 01/24/2003, and Election filed 05/12/2008
2. Claims 2-57 are pending in the case. Claim 47 is the elected, independent claim.

Election/Restrictions

3. Applicant's election without traverse of Group VII, claims 47-51 and 56, in the reply filed on 05/12/2008 is acknowledged.
4. Claims 2-46, 52-55 and 57 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 05/12/2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
6. Claim 56 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "from approximately 12K to approximately 50K" in claim 56 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. Additionally, this limitation does not make any sense as it is reducing from a smaller size to a larger size. Furthermore the units used themselves are ambiguous. An uppercase "K" as used, usually means kilobytes, however, the same uppercase “K” is also used to refer to a 56K modem. In this context, there is no such thing as a 56 kilobyte modems, the term is used in the art to refer to a 56 kilobit modem. These terms are vastly different. In addition, Application should be aware that neither a “byte” nor a “kilobyte” has a standard accepted value. For examining purposes only, this limitation will be interpreted as "reducing the total size of said application.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 47-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Microsoft® FrontPage® 98 by Denise Tyler (November 1997).

Regarding independent claim(s) 47, Tyler teaches a build engine for accepting user input to generate a web site (FrontPage, see for example, input box, Figure, p. 278). Tyler teaches style definition means for associating a style (theme) with button and image objects (step 5, p. 278, applies to buttons which are objects).

Regarding dependent claim(s) 48, Tyler teaches the build engine includes style definition means for association a style with child button and child image objects (p. 281, “Setting Page Properties with Themes”). Tyler teaches a menu for defining child button and child image styles (Fig. 27.2, p. 559 and Table 27.1).

Regarding dependent claim(s) 49, Tyler teaches the styles includes settings for multiple object states (p. 323 , 13; p.279, NOTE at top).

Regarding dependent claim(s) 50, Tyler teaches associating a style with buttons and images including values defining time lines and transitions (pp. 325-327).

Regarding dependent claim(s) 51, Tyler teaches associating a style with buttons and images including values defining time lines (pp. 325-327).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 56 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyler as applied to claim 47 above, and further in view of Becker; Craig Henry (US 6585779 B1, 07/01/2003).

Regarding dependent claim(s) 56, Tyler does not teach a file reduction means. Becker teaches a file reduction means for reducing the total size of generated files (col. 2, ll. 5-11). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to reduce the size of the files because it would have resulted in shorter download times (col. 2, ll. 10-11).

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to ADAM M. QUELER whose telephone number is (571)272-4140. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday.

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. With the Office's apologies, claims 52, 53, and 57 were accidentally grouped in group VII instead Group V, where they should have been. As this might affect Applicant's election, this replaces the original restriction requirement.
2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 2-9 and 14, drawn to a 3 way selection, classified in class 715, subclass 810.
 - II. Claims 10 and 11, drawn to adjusting tot screen resolution, classified in class 715, subclass 523
 - III. Claims 12 and 13, drawn to status feedback, classified in class 715, subclass 772.
 - IV. Claims 15-42, and 54, drawn to an application for designing web sites, classified in class 715, subclass 530.
 - V. Claims 43-44, 52, 53, and 57 drawn to assembling web site transitions, classified in class 715, subclass 500.1.
 - VI. Claims 45-46 and 55, drawn to text input, classified in class 715, subclass 780.
 - VII. Claims 47-51, and 56, drawn to style selection, classified in class 715, subclass 522.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions IV and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the application does not require a particular input method. The subcombination has separate utility such as collecting input for a spreadsheet.

4. Inventions IV and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the application's resolution could be manually adjusted. The subcombination has separate utility such as changing the resolution of a video game.

5. Inventions IV and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the application could display feedback in any number of ways. The subcombination has separate utility such as a use in a control system.

6. Inventions IV and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because a single web page would not need a transition. The subcombination has separate utility such as being used for a slide presentation.

7. Inventions IV and VI are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the application can accept text input in any number of ways. The subcombination has separate utility such as inputting data into an accounting program.

8. Inventions IV and VII are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because a web site does need an explicit style. The subcombination has separate utility such as use in a word processor.

9. Inventions I, II, III, V, VI, and VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, all the subcombinations have separate utilities such as those listed above. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

10. The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

11. The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

12. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include

(i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to ADAM M. QUELER whose telephone number is (571)272-4140. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Stephen Hong can be reached on (571) 272-4124. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
