PROCEEDINGS

Case Management Conference conducted via videoconference. The Court encourages counsel to consider referral of the matter to a Magistrate Judge for all matters, including trial. Plaintiff's counsel briefly summarizes the nature of the patents at issue. The Court allows the parties to agree not to provide damages contentions pursuant to the Patent Local Rules.

The Court agrees with defendants' position that narrowing the claims and prior art to a specific number is necessary and encourages counsel to reach an agreement on the schedule for the reduction within the next two weeks, or to submit competing proposals accompanied by an explanatory joint letter of no more than four pages. The parties should also meet and confer regarding timing of the production of source code and technical documents. If unable to reach agreement, a similar letter brief may be submitted outlining the points of dispute for the Court's determination.

The parties' proposed schedule through claims construction is adopted. A tutorial should be provided to the Court one week in advance of the claim construction hearing.

Claim Construction Hearing set for July 14, 2023, at 9 a.m.
