Our shop has 3 complete sets including the add on sets that go to 3/4". They are an investment for sure but we drill several hundred holes a month. That lifetime warranty had almost paid for themselves already after the first year.

I have this set; they're great right up until they run into anything hardened. They're only HSS. They're priced like other brands' Cobalt steel (m35 or m42, both much harder) bits.

I have abused mine drilling thru broken grade 8 bolts and none have dulled yet, I was a bit nervous buying something so different but was surprised how well they have stood up to daily abuse.

What is the warranty on these bits? Lifetime on all sizes or what?
