DECLARATION OF GUILLERMO MACIAS

I, GUILLERMO MACIAS, declare:

1. I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth herein, I am over eighteen (18) years and, if called upon, could and would competently testify thereto.

2. My name is Guillermo Macias. I have never gone by the name "Duillenno" nor have I ever known anyone who goes by the name "Duillenno." I am a Defendant in this matter along with Colt International Clothing Inc. dba Colt LED, erroneously sued herein as distinct entities (hereinafter, collectively, "Defendants"). Colt LED is not a separate and distinct entity from myself or Colt International Clothing Inc. Colt LED is not my "alter ego." Colt International Clothing Inc. is not my "alter ego." Colt LED is nothing more than a fictitious business name or "dba" under which Colt International Clothing Inc. does business.

3. Plaintiff Laysion, LLC ("Plaintiff" or "Laysion") claims that I am the General Partner in "Colt LED," an unincorporated association, which I deny. That said, I make this declaration in support of Defendants' Consolidated Oppositions to Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Adjudication (the "Motion").

4. Throughout all of 2019, I was a principal of Colt International Clothing, Inc. dba Colt LED ("Colt International") and therefore familiar with its books and records. A true and correct copy of Colt International's current "dba" is attached hereto as Exhibit "A."

5. I met Yajun Zhang ("Yajun") in approximately the end of 2018. Yajun was a facilitator to Chinese manufacturers. He decided at some point in time to open a U.S. office and did so at Colt's location of 28416 Constellation Road, Santa Clarita, CA 91355. At the time I was fine with this because Yajun and I had developed a good working relationship. Neither Yajun nor Laysion are manufacturers. Yajun and Laysion were merely "middlemen" seeking to coordinate the sale of goods manufactured by third parties.

6. Thereafter Yajun and I, on behalf of Colt International, entered into discussions for the development and acquisition of certain stage lighting equipment (the "Equipment") which is the basis for the underlying lawsuit.

7. Colt International presently engages in the business of renting and selling stage lighting

1 rental equipment.

2 8. During our discussions with respect to lighting fixtures, Yajun and I discussed the 3 potential scope of and need for the Equipment within the marketplace as I was concerned that any
4 Equipment would have to have an end-user. As the discussions were preliminary in nature, we had no
5 conversations as to what the price of the units to Colt International would be or for that matter, the 6 cost of production to Laysion/Yajun.

7 9. We also had no detailed discussions of the potential number of units to be
8 manufactured, payment terms or anything else that one (including Colt International) might anticipate 9 to form a binding agreement. In April 2019, Yajun advised that he had already produced the 10 Equipment we had been discussing, and that a substantial order was ready to be shipped. There was 11 not an order or agreement that Colt International or any other Defendant in this Action ever made in 12 advance or otherwise. Until the shipment was en route from China, I had no idea that the Equipment
13 had been produced or the magnitude of its production.

14 10. Laysion now claims to be owed $1,000,000.00 from Defendants for a total of 500 units
15 delivered to Colt International, even though there is no written contract evidencing an order for the 16 Equipment, there is no contemporaneous writing or email evidencing even a verbal agreement, and 17 there is no prior agreement as to payment terms. Laysion claims that the agreement is evidenced by a
18 February 19, 2021, invoice for $1,000,000.00 (Exhibit D to the Yajun Declaration) which was sent 19 only months before the filing of the lawsuit, and almost two (2) years after the Equipment was 20 delivered to the United States. A true and correct copy of the invoice is attached hereto as Exhibit B.
21 It is the only invoice attached to the First Amended Complaint at pages 32 and 54.

22 11. Yajun never disclosed to me the cost of goods, his expected profit, or the final cost to 23 Colt International for the lighting fixtures prior to their shipment. It was only after delivery that he 24 started demanding payments. Other than the invoice at Exhibit "B" I have no other documentation
25 from Laysion with respect to an "order" for the lighting fixtures.

26 12. Although, I had a good working relationship with Yajun on a prior project, the 27 shipment of 500 units of untested products to Colt International, without any agreement or even 28 understanding as to price or payment terms, was unacceptable. I told Yajun that Colt International

1 would attempt to sell or lease the products to the best of its ability but there was no way Colt
2 International could guarantee payment of such a significant "order."

3 13. Eventually, Colt International was able to place through lease certain of the products.
4 Colt International attempted to salvage the situation by wiring a portion of the monies it received and
5 offered to return the remaining product. Yajun/Laysion accepted the funds, although he never 6 responded to Colt International's offer to return the remaining fixtures.

7 14. In this regard, I caused to be wired $210,000.00 to Laysion between November 2019
8 and February 2020. I also wrote to Laysion, LLC on October 7, 2019, advising that the shipment was 9 far too large as the products had never been tested, nor was there evidence of any established market
10 for them. A true and correct copy of my email is attached hereto as Exhibit C. I had conversation with 11 Yajun in this regard as well. This correspondence also is Colt International's offer to return the lighting 12 fixtures.

13 15. Laysion alleges that Defendant Colt International provided seven (7) checks totaling 14 $800,000, of which Laysion suggests (although it never clearly states) that two checks, dated July 25,
15 2019 and August 25, 2019, were declined or rejected by Bank of America. On behalf of Colt
16 International, I contacted Bank of America about those two checks and the bank informed me that they 17 were never deposited. Further, no notice was ever received from any banking institution that any 18 checks referenced in Laysion's Applications were deposited or rejected for nonpayment or otherwise.

19 16. When I learned that Laysion was only charged $387,599.00 for the lighting equipment
20 I was shocked. Laysion and Yajun are now attempting to charge Colt International $1,000,000.00 for 21 the same product. $1,000,000.00 is not the fair-market value for the product. Had I previously known
22 that Laysion was seeking to make a 260% profit margin, Colt International would have immediately
23 returned the lighting fixtures and not attempted to salvage its relationship with Yajun. A true and 24 correct copy of the invoice to Laysion which Defendants received in discovery is attached hereto as 25 Exhibit D.

26 17. Laysion also represented that the product had an eighteen-month warranty, and 27 committed that warranty to writing. (See invoice attached as Exhibit D to the Yajun Declaration.)

28 18. By February 2020, the Equipment had a significant failure rate. Specifically, within

1 the eighteen-month warranty period, at least 64 of the 500 units were no longer functioning and more
2 have failed since.

3 19. In February 2020, I informed Laysion that the units were failing but Laysion refused to 4 honor its warranty, materially breaching same and offered no proposal to fix those which have failed.
5 The failed products, and the breach of warranty, make any determination of monies due to any parties
6 at this stage impossible.

7 20. In addition to Laysion's material breach of warranty, Defendants also should be entitled
8 to offset under Commercial Code Section 2312 (3), which provides a statutory warranty that goods
9 are free from infringing on another's rights, and specifically, patent rights. Presently pending in federal 10 court in Delaware is a patent infringement case entitled, "Colt International Clothing Inc d/b/a/ Colt
11 LED v. Quasar Science, LLC, et al., Case No. 1:22-cv-00213-CFC." There, counsel for Defendants
12 here have stated that they intend to assert that Laysion's equipment which is the subject of this 13 litigation violates their client's patents. Although the claim has not yet been formally presented, this
14 patent case further makes it impossible to determine what sums, if any, may currently be due Laysion
15 for purposes of attachment.

16 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is 17 true and correct and that this Declaration was executed this 20th day of October 2022, at 18 London, England.

Zhang as we discussed when I was there if you feel more comfortable picking up all your equipment and holding onto it until you get paid or we sell some of it - That will be a better situation for me. If one of my clients pays me on the 25th or before as we discussed I will give you a payment. Your equipment is new and you can't expect everyone to jump on board just because I have a relationship with them ; lights have to be tested and approved before they start working on any stage -I will be in China before the 25th and even if I'm in China I can arrange a payment..

Hello,
Last time when we met in Shanghai you told Alex and me that you are going to pay me at least 150,000 dollar starting from this month before 25th. I just want to know that have you scheduled the exact date yet?
