

Ronald Mitsuyasu, M.D.

Edit your Faculty Profile

A Short Biography:

Dr. Ronald T. Mitsuyasu is the Director of the Center for Clinical AIDS Research and Education at UCLA (CARE), a Professor of Medicine in Residence at the UCLA David Geffen School of Medicine, and an Associate Director of the UCLA AIDS Institute. A graduate of UC Berkeley, Dr. Mitsuyasu went on to receive an MD degree from the UCLA School of Medicine in 1978. He completed his residency in Internal Medicine at Rush University in 1981, and a fellowship in Hematology-Oncology at UCLA in 1984. He joined the UCLA faculty in 1984 in the Division of Hematology-Oncology, and is an expert on immune-based therapies for HIV and on AIDS-related malignancies. He is a major investigator of the role of interleukin-2 and other cytokines and vaccines as treatments for HIV, a pioneer in the clinical evaluation of gene therapy for HIV, and the principal investigator for an international Phase III gene-therapy study, which is the first of its kind. He has research and clinical background in hematology-oncology as well as in immunology and immunotherapeutics. In addition, he is the current chair of the AIDS Malignancy Consortium, which is a collaborative network funded by the National Cancer Institute to conduct clinical trials in subjects with AIDS-related malignancies.

Work Titles

UCLA
Professor, Medicine
Professor, Hematology-
Oncology
Director, CARE Center

Education:

Degrees:
M.D., University of California, Los Angeles, 1973 - 1978
B.A., University of California, Berkeley, 1969 - 1973
Fellowship:
1981 - 1984 University of California, Los Angeles

Associate Director for Clinical Programs, UCLA
AIDS Institute

Internship:

1978 - 1979 Rush Presbyterian - St. Lukes Medical Center

Residency:

1979 - 1981 Rush Presbyterian - St. Lukes Medical Center

Certifications:

Certifications:

1981 American Board of Internal Medicine
