Saluting Our Rich Heritage 1886 2006

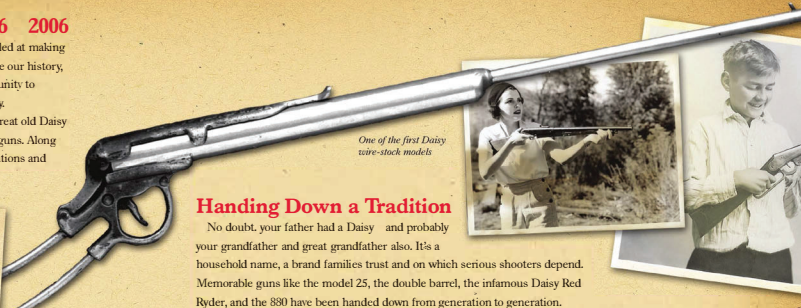

Daisy is one of only a handful of companies that has excelled at making the same product continuously for 120 years. As we celebrate our history, we're humbled by our successes and grateful for the opportunity to continue to serve in this exciting, gratifying and fun industry.

We're proud to have grown this business, preserved this great old Daisy brand and defended our position as the market leader in airguns. Along the way, we've had the pleasure of developing products, traditions and memories for several generations.

Recognizing our Responsibilities

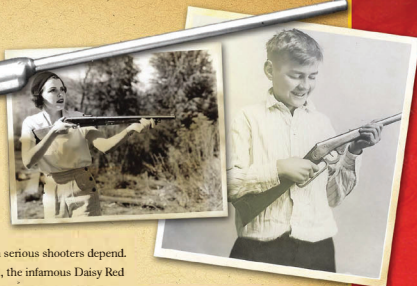

Our products continue to be a rite of passage for young people who are ready for the responsibility of an airgun, and ready to learn shooting safety and marksmanship skills. We recognize that the best marksman, even members of the USA Shooting Team, will tell you they got their start with a Daisy. Always a leader in education, Daisy continues the tradition today through our support of major shooting education programs, sponsorship of the US Shooting team, development of our Mobile Airgun Range and our comprehensive Take Aim at Safety Campaign.

Handing Down a Tradition

No doubt, your father had a Daisy and probably your grandfather and great grandfather also. It's a household name, a brand families trust and on which serious shooters depend. Memorable guns like the model 25, the double barrel, the infamous Daisy Red Ryder, and the 880 have been handed down from generation to generation.

Knowing the Market . . . Serving our Customers

In Daisy's case, older is wiser. Throughout our history, we've developed a unique knowledge of market trends, a respect for consumers' demands, responsiveness to retailers' challenges and, most importantly, an ability to respond. Our new age recommendation graphics are an excellent example. Seasoned by history, tempered by experience, you can look to Daisy to lead your airgun category sales.

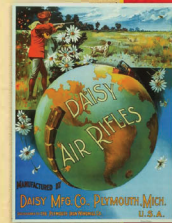

Capitalizing on a Familiar Brand

The Daisy logo is instantly recognizable. Always a believer in prominently marketing the brand, Daisy spent $2,000 on this famous poster in 1895. Today, we're still investing in promoting this great old Daisy brand. In addition to traditional marketing to the shooting sports trade, you'll see the Daisy brand this year on one of the top performing boats in the Southern Drag Boat Association. And, you'll see Daisy banners flying at Professional Bull Riders events in front of nearly twenty million PBR fans or viewed by more than 104 million annual TV viewers. All over the world, we're proudly posting the Daisy brand, in front of your customers. It all adds up to increased exposure of the Daisy brand and new sales opportunities for you.

Taking Pride

We're proud of our history, our brand, our success, our new products and our partnership with you. This year, wherever you see the Daisy brand at the races, at PBR events, on national TV, on your shelf . . . you can Take Pride. It's a Daisy.

Youth Guns

The choice of generations.

Do you remember your first airgun? If you're like most Americans, chances are it was a Daisy. For 120 years, Daisy has remained an industry leader by providing the most innovative, accurate and reliable airguns to generations of shooters. Today, the Daisy name is still the one parents trust more than any other when choosing the airgun their kids will grow up with. Because for anyone who's ever owned a Daisy, it's more than just a matter of loyalty, it's a matter of pride.

Winchester® Quick Power Break-Barrel Pellet Rifles

The brand name says it all. Legendary quality, fit and finish and performance in an exciting lineup that includes our famous Winchester® Model 1894 lever action BB gun as well as an exciting lineup of adult-sized, break-barrel rifles. The quality hardwood or composite stocks on these break-barrel pellet rifles create a felt and feel that appeals to serious shooters and small game hunters. Powerful? You bet. A single break of the barrel will send a pellet downrange at up to 1000 fps. Surprisingly affordable, these rifles live up to every bit of their legendary name. They come equipped with a long list of quality features such as micro-adjustable rear sights, and front and rear Tri-Glo fiber optic sights. Scoped models include a 4X32 fully adjustable air rifle scope. The Winchester® Air Rifles line is versatile, allowing you to choose models with velocities of 500, 800, up to 1000 feet per second.
