UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

BEFORE THE PATENT TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

SONY INTERACTIVE ENTERTAINMENT LLC
Petitioner,

v.

QUANTUM IMAGING LLC
Patent Owner.

Case No. IPR2023-00995
U.S. Patent No. 10,846,941

DECLARATION OF ALEXANDER HARRY

Sony Exhibit 1011
Sony v. Quantum

I, Alexander Harry, declare as follows:

1. My name is Alexander Harry and I am over the age of 18 years old.

2. I am an analyst with Global Technology Transfer Group ("GTT"), whose principal place of business is located at 919 SW Taylor St., Ste. 900, Portland, OR 97205.

3. Over the course of my work as an analyst, I have had extensive experience with analyzing prior art references, including video game materials. I also have substantial experience in authenticating printed documents and establishing the date when they were accessible to ordinarily skilled researchers.

4. Attachment A is my full resume.

5. As an employee of GTT, I have been retained by KXT Law to evaluate, authenticate, and establish the dates of public availability of certain documents in the above-captioned IPR proceeding. For my time performing this service, GTT is billing KXT Law at my usual hourly fee of $350 per hour. I have no financial interest in this proceeding, or affiliation with Petitioner. My compensation is not dependent upon the outcome of, or my testimony in, this IPR proceeding.

6. In the scope of my employment with GTT, I personally ordered a copy of a video game entitled Phantasy Star Online "PSO" for the Sega Dreamcast gaming console from eBay seller "Matthew's Merch" (eBay username "matthewsmerc") at 2947 Lynnwood Cir. S.W., Decatur, AL 35603. A copy of the purchase receipt and listing showing the sale of the game is attached hereto as Attachment B.

7. On April 20, 2023, I received a package from "Matthew's Merch" which included the PSO. A picture of the PSO and packaging, as received, is attached as Attachment C.

8. As shown in Attachment D, the PSO arrived in a sealed package comprising a plastic crystal DVD case sealed with clear, heat-sealed cellophane wrap. Upon visual inspection, although the plastic DVD case had several cracks, the cellophane wrap appeared to be intact and original from the factory.

9. I personally removed the cellophane seal and inspected the contents, which as shown in Attachments E-N, included the following:

a. A DVD for PSO including a printed statement "SEGA/SONICTEAM, 2000" thereon (Attachment G).

b. A printed game manual for PSO. A true and accurate copy of the manual that was included in the package is attached hereto as Attachment M. Page 33 of this manual includes the statement, "Copying and/or transmission of this game is strictly prohibited. Unauthorized rental or public performance of this game is a violation of applicable laws. ©SEGA CORPORATION, 2000."

c. A promotional advertising insert for Sonic Adventure 2 "coming 2001" including a copyright statement "SEGA/SONICTEAM, 2000" printed thereon. (Attachment H)

d. A DVD entitled SONIC ADVENTURE 2 THE TRIAL, including a printed statement "SEGA/SONICTEAM, 2000" thereon. (Attachment J)

e. Instructions for entry into a sweepstakes which had a deadline for entry of March 31, 2001. (Attachment K)

f. A product registration form bearing the notice "Copyright © 2000" printed thereon. (Attachment L)

10. The manual was a visible insert to the DVD crystal case and the cover of the manual served as the cover to the product packaging.

11. I have reviewed Ex-1008, which is the identical copy of PSO manual described above. Ex-1008 and Attachment M include identical front and back cover and table of contents pages. I have also compared the headings on pages 8-12, 16, 21, 25, and 33 (containing the printed "©SEGA CORPORATION, 2000") in Ex-1008 with the headings on pages 8-12, 16, 21, 25, and 33 (also containing the printed "©SEGA CORPORATION, 2000") in Attachment M, and found them to be identical. I also compared the Sonic Adventure 2 promotional advertising insert (containing the copyright statement "SEGA/SONICTEAM, 2000") depicted in Ex-1008 with Attachment H (also containing the copyright statement "SEGA/SONICTEAM, 2000"), and found them to be identical.

12. The manual was provided with the copy of PSO that I inspected. Based on the integration of the manual into the product packaging, it is my opinion based on my professional experience that the manual would have been provided by SEGA with all copies of PSO that were sold.

13. Furthermore, based on various videogame industry magazine articles, including Computer and Video Games, Issue 227 (Oct. 2000), pages 6-7 (Attachment O); GamePro, Issue 151 (Apr. 2001), page 104 (Attachment P); Gamers' Republic, Issue 34 (Mar. 2001), pages 62-63 (Attachment Q); Hyper, Issue 88 (Feb. 2001) , pages 26-27 (Attachment R); NextGen Life 2, Vol. 3 (Apr. 2001), pages 80-81 (Attachment S), and based on my professional experience, it is my opinion that the manual was available to the public in late 2000/early 2001. I obtained these articles from Sega Retro (https://segaretro.org/) on May 3, 2023.

14. Furthermore, the public website for Sega advertised PSO in 2001, illustrating PSO was available in 2001, as shown by a webpage bearing a 2001 copyright date, obtained from the Wayback machine on May 3, 2023 (Attachment T).

15. Online articles also obtained from the Wayback machine on May 9, 2023 further support the dissemination and public availability of PSO and its manual as of late 2000/early 2001. An article entitled "Phantasy Star Online is Hot," published on IGN's website, dated April 6, 2001, and archived on June 7, 2001, states that PSO was released in Japan on December 21, 2000, America on January 31, 2001, and Europe on February 16, 2001, and shows that PSO was in widespread use and publicly available at least as of April 2001. Attachment U. Similarly, an article entitled "PSO Registrations Soar," published on Daily Radar's website, dated April 6, 2001, and archived on April 13, 2001, states that "Sega announced that it gained more than 35,000 new Phantasy Star Online registrants in March, bringing the world wide total of online registrations to over 235,000. At any given time, up to 26,000 people are playing the game simultaneously on secure servers around the world," and shows that PSO was in widespread use and publicly available at least as of April 2001. Attachment V.

16. Online articles and a product page also obtained from the Wayback machine on May 9, 2023 provide evidence of PSO's communication system, including an article entitled "Phantasy Star Online Preview," published on Gaming Maxx's website, dated January 25, 2001, and archived on January 26, 2001 (Attachment W) ("…Communication involves a translation-based 'keyword' system using a standardized set of phrases and symbols which enables players of all nationalities to interact with one another sans the language barrier impeding gameplay"; "Standardized set of phrases and symbols allow for global interaction among players"); an article entitled "Phantasy Star Online Review," published on IGN's website, dated January 31, 2001, and archived on March 31, 2001 (Attachment X) ("…playing PSO online will enable players around the world to get together. Since not everyone speaks English, the symbol chat interface allows you to get basic communication across through happy faces, angry expressions, and other default symbols. You can also edit your own symbols…"); a webpage entitled "Phantasy Star Online Product Page," published on EB Games's website and archived on June 9, 2001 (Attachment Y) ("…Using the Dreamcast modem, connect to the Phantasy Star universe and explore distant lands populated with real players like you. Chat, exchange items and information, and go into battle with players from all over the world – all in real-time…"; "Advanced chat feature allows conversation without language barriers"); and an article entitled "Phantasy Star Online Review," published on Daily Radar's website and archived on February 2, 2001 (Attachment Z) ("Sonic Team has commendable job of giving gamers all sorts of ways to communicate with one another, be it simple mail, guild cards or universal 'translators'"; "Players are also able to swap Guild Cards, … [o]nce you have someone's Guild Card, you can seek them out online…"; "…'simple mail' [] allows you to send limited email to a friend online....").

17. Based on my professional experience, and the indicia described above, it is my opinion that the manual was publicly distributed contemporaneously with the distribution of the PSO software. Further based on my professional experience, and the indicia described above, including the magazine articles and internet webpages, and the various dated indicia in the package for the PSO software, including copyright notices, a promotion for a game "coming in 2001," and a sweepstakes entry instruction sheet with a deadline for entry of "March 31, 2001," it is my opinion that the manual was made available to the public in late 2000/early 2001 and at least as early as March 31, 2001.

I hereby declare under the penalty of perjury that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code.

SWEEPSTAKES RULES

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

1. HOW TO ENTER: No purchase necessary to enter. Complete the Sega Registration Card to be automatically entered in the sweepstakes, or legibly hand-print your name, address and zip code on a 3 1/2" x 5" postcard and mail to: Sega Free Arcade Sweepstakes Offer, P.O. Box 489004, Dept. KGB, Denver, CO 80248-9904. Sega of America Dreamcast, Inc. ("Sponsor") not responsible for lost, late, damaged, misdirected, illegible, incomplete or postage-due mail in entries. No mechanically reproduced entries accepted. Entries must be reached by March 31, 2001, when the sweepstakes ends.

2. ELIGIBILITY: Open to legal residents of the U.S. only, except employees of Sponsor, its affiliates, subsidiaries, agencies, persons living in the same household, and the families of each. Void where prohibited. All federal, state and local laws apply.

3. MONTHLY AND GRAND PRIZE DRAWINGS: A random drawing will be held each month from April 1, 2000 to March 31, 2001, from entries received during the previous month. Odds of winning a monthly drawing depend upon the number of entries received for the applicable monthly drawing. The Grand Prize Drawing will be conducted in April 2001 from among all entries received. Odds of winning the Grand Prize depend upon the total number of entries received throughout the promotional period. If Grand Prize is won by a minor, prize will be awarded to parent or legal guardian. Potential winners must sign any required Winner's Agreement and Release within 14 days of attempted delivery or prize will be forfeited and an alternate selected. Winners will be notified by mail within one month of each drawing. No substitution or transfer of prize permitted, unless prize is generally unavailable, in which case a prize of equal or greater value will be substituted. All taxes are the sole responsibility of winner. By entering sweepstakes, entrant accepts and agrees to these Official Rules and the decisions of Sponsor, which shall be final in all matters. Acceptance of prize constitutes permission to use winner's name and likeness for advertising/trade purposes without further compensation, unless prohibited by law.

4. PRIZES: One (1) Grand Prize: a Sega Emergency Call Ambulance Arcade Machine. Approx. Retail Value (ARV): $7,000.00. One hundred twenty (120) Monthly First Prizes (10 each month): a Sega Dreamcast video game. ARV: $49.99 each. Sixty (60) Monthly Second Prizes (5 each month): Sega Dreamcast T-shirt. ARV: $15.00 each. Total prize value $14,000.00. Limit one prize per family/household. All prizes will be awarded.

5. WINNERS' LIST: For the name of major prize winners, send a self-addressed, stamped #10 envelope to Sega Free Arcade Sweepstakes Winners' List, P.O. Box 173133, Denver, CO 80217-3133.

Sponsor: Sega of America Dreamcast, Inc., P.O. Box 489004, Denver, CO 80248-9904.
