Move Networks

TechCrunchies Finalist

Move Networks was recognized as a finalist in the TechCrunch Awards—the Crunchies—for Best Technology Innovation of 2007.

The Crunchies is a joint effort between VentureBeat, GigaOm, Read/WriteWeb and TechCrunch, and aims to recognize the best technology innovations and start-up achievements. Some 82,000 nominations were made for companies in each of twenty categories. Five companies were chosen as finalists, including Move Networks.
