Authorization or Opt-Out of Authorization to Permit Access:

When this Application Data Sheet is properly signed and filed with the application, applicant has provided written authority to permit a participating foreign intellectual property (IP) office access to the instant application-as-filed (see paragraph A in subsection 1 below) and the European Patent Office (EPO) access to any search results from the instant application (see paragraph B in subsection 1 below).

Should applicant choose not to provide an authorization identified in subsection 1 below, applicant must opt-out of the authorization by checking the corresponding box A or B or both in subsection 2 below.

NOTE: This section of the Application Data Sheet is ONLY reviewed and processed with the INITIAL filing of an application. After the initial filing of an application, an Application Data Sheet cannot be used to provide or rescind authorization for access by a foreign IP office(s). Instead, Form PTO/SB/39 or PTO/SB/69 must be used as appropriate.

1. Authorization to Permit Access by a Foreign Intellectual Property Office(s)

A. Priority Document Exchange (PDX) - Unless box A in subsection 2 (opt-out of authorization) is checked, the undersigned hereby grants the USPTO authority to provide the European Patent Office (EPO), the Japan Patent Office (JPO), the Korean Intellectual Property Office (KIPO), the State Intellectual Property Office of the People's Republic of China (SIPO), the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), and any other foreign intellectual property office participating with the USPTO in a bilateral or multilateral priority document exchange agreement in which a foreign application claiming priority to the instant patent application is filed, access to: (1) the instant patent application-as-filed and its related bibliographic data, (2) any foreign or domestic application to which priority or benefit is claimed by the instant application and its related bibliographic data, and (3) the date of filing of this Authorization. See 37 CFR 1.14(h)(1).

B. Search Results from U.S. Application to EPO - Unless box B in subsection 2 (opt-out of authorization) is checked, the undersigned hereby grants the USPTO authority to provide the EPO access to the bibliographic data and search results from the instant patent application when a European patent application claiming priority to the instant patent application is filed. See 37 CFR 1.14(h)(2).

The applicant is reminded that the EPO's Rule 141(1) EPC (European Patent Convention) requires applicants to submit a copy of search results from the instant application without delay in a European patent application that claims priority to the instant application.

2. Opt-Out of Authorizations to Permit Access by a Foreign Intellectual Property Office(s)

☐ A. Applicant DOES NOT authorize the USPTO to permit a participating foreign IP office access to the instant application-as-filed. If this box is checked, the USPTO will not be providing a participating foreign IP office with any documents and information identified in subsection 1A above.

☐ B. Applicant DOES NOT authorize the USPTO to transmit to the EPO any search results from the instant patent application. If this box is checked, the USPTO will not be providing the EPO with search results from the instant application.

NOTE: Once the application has published or is otherwise publicly available, the USPTO may provide access to the application in accordance with 37 CFR 1.14.

POWERED HYDROFOIL BOARD

CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATION

[0001] This application is a continuation of U.S. Ser. No. 14/509,289, filed October 8, 2014, which claims priority to U.S. Provisional Patent Application Serial No. 61/889,071, filed October 10, 2013, the contents of which are incorporated herein in their entireties.

FIELD OF THE INVENTION

[0002] The present invention relates to personal watercraft; specifically, an electrically powered hydrofoil surfboard that is controlled by weight shift.

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

[0003] Hydrofoils have been used on surfboards (U.S. Patent No. 5,062,378 A, Bateman; U.S. Patent 3,747,138, Morgan; U.S. Patent 7,144,285 B1, Tareah), sailboards (U.S. Patent 4,508,046 Shannon), water skis (U.S. Patent 7,232,355, Woolley), and devices for swimmers (U.S. Patent 2,931,332, Hebrank) as well as ships and boats (e.g. U. S. Patent 3,227,123 A Voigt). The purpose of hydrofoils on surfboards is typically to enable higher speeds and to lift the surfboard above the choppy, turbulent surface of the water, thus enabling surfing on larger waves. On sailboards and kiteboards, hydrofoils enable higher speeds; and on water skis hydrofoils enable new forms of trick skiing.

[0004] Powered surfboards have been developed for reducing the effort required in paddling (U.S. Patent No. 7,731,555 B2 Railey) and as personal watercraft (U.S. Patent No. 6,702,634 B2 Jung, U.S. Patent No. 3,262,413 A Bloomingdale et al., U.S. Patent 6,192,817 B1 Dec, U. S. Patent 4,971,586 A Walsh, U. S. Patent 4,274,357 A Dawson). A particularly well-designed example of this type is the Jet-Surf (<http://www.jet-surf.es>). However, significant power is required to achieve speeds typical of surfing (up to ten horsepower to achieve thirty miles per hour), precluding the use of battery-powered motors for operationally useful periods.

[0005] A major factor that distinguishes surfboards from other watercraft is that control (both speed and directional) is affected via weight shift rather than by moveable surfaces (such as rudders) or thrust vectoring. Indeed, other methods of transport (skateboards and snowboards) also rely heavily on weight shift, and this method of control is central to the experience of surfing, snowboarding, and skateboarding.

[0006] An electrically powered hydrofoil device is described in Chen (U.S. Patent 7,047,901 B2). The watercraft in that disclosure has two main disadvantages. First, the device in Chen requires a stabilizing component that controls the depth of the hydrofoil. Second, a steering mechanism is used for directional control. Therefore it does not (and cannot) accurately mimic the experience of surfing or snowboarding.

[0007] A need therefore exists for a personal watercraft that provides improved control and performance while providing a “surfing feel.” In addition, this personal watercraft should be mechanically simple, easy to transport, and easy to maintain.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

[0008] Embodiments of the present invention improve upon the powered surfboard by incorporating a hydrofoil. The hydrofoil greatly reduces the power required to travel at “fun” speeds (ranging from twenty to thirty miles per hour, but can be higher or lower depending on the user), so that a battery-powered electric motor (rather than an internal combustion engine) can be used to power the propulsion system. This results in reduced noise and vibration as well as reduced environmental impact.

[0009] Embodiments of the present invention also improve upon the powered hydrofoil surfboard. The hydrofoil of the present invention has been designed to provide passive stability in the longitudinal direction, making traditional altitude control systems based on moveable surfaces unnecessary. Further, both longitudinal and directional control of the board is via weight shift, so that riding the board is similar in feel to surfing or snowboarding, and the lack of a mechanical steering system makes the craft lighter, reduces parts count, and reduces the likelihood of a mechanical failure. Speed control is provided through a combination of throttle and weight shift.

[00010] The prior art in powered hydrofoil surfboards have all relied on moveable surfaces for control, and have ignored the possibility of designing the hydrofoil for passive static stability. The watercraft of the present invention is specifically designed to achieve desired levels of stability and controllability without the need for moveable surfaces. This is done through a combination of airfoil design, planform design, and tailoring the span-wise twist distribution to achieve desired outcomes.

[00011] Specific hydrofoils can be designed for different purposes: a larger foil results in lower speeds, more suitable for training; smaller foils operate at higher speeds for more advanced user; and tuning of the specific profile, twist, and dihedral can also be used to tailor the board to the user. A fixed canard or horizontal tail surface can also be added to further improve passive longitudinal stability as a training aid while still requiring the use of weight shift for control. A fixed vertical tail can be added to improve lateral stability as a training aid while still requiring the use of weight shift for control.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION

[00022] Referring to FIG. 1, a perspective view of a hydrofoil watercraft 100 in accordance with an embodiment of the present invention is shown. Watercraft 100 may include a flotation board 101, a hydrofoil 102 spaced below the flotation board, a strut 103 connecting the hydrofoil to the board, a propulsion system 104, an electric motor 105, a battery 106, a motor speed controller 107, a throttle system 108, a throttle interface 109, and a spring-loaded trigger 110.

[00023] The flotation board 101 of FIG. 1 is similar to those used in surfing or sailboarding. In the illustrated embodiment, the flotation board has a fore-aft length L that is greater than its lateral width W . Generally, the ratio of lateral width W to length L may be between 0.2 and 0.5. The length L will generally be in the range of 5 to 8 feet and the width W will generally be in the range of 1.5 to feet. The primary function of the flotation board is to provide flotation at low speeds, and it is preferentially configured with a flat upper surface to allow an adult human to lie prone, sit, kneel or stand on it and an opposed bottom surface facing the water. The lower surface may be almost flat to permit good hydroplaning.

[00024] The flotation board 101 can be made of foam, fiber-reinforced epoxy (using glass, carbon, or Kevlar fibers), or other suitable materials known to those of skill in the art. It may have a watertight compartment defined therein to contain the battery 106, motor speed controller 107 and throttle interface 109. The flotation board 101 provides an attachment structure for attaching the strut 103. The attachment structure may be a releasable mechanism to permit easy assembly and dis-assembly for transport. The flotation board 101 may be said to have a forward section F at the front end, a rear section R at the rear end and a middle section M intermediate the front and rear ends. Element M may also represent a midpoint that is halfway between the front and rear ends. As shown, the strut 103 is connected to the flotation board between the middle section M and the rear section R . The connection is behind the midpoint M and centered side to side. A throttle cable may connect the throttle module 108 to the throttle interface 109 or wireless communication may be provided between the throttle module 108 and throttle interface 109. In an alternate arrangement, the batteries 106 may be contained in the strut 103 or embedded in the hydrofoil 102. Each configuration has advantages and disadvantages ranging from ease of access for charging (in the case of a compartment in the flotation board) to reduction in the length of wires needed to connect the battery to the motor (in the case of containment in the strut or hydrofoil).

[00025] The strut 103 can be made of extruded aluminum, fiber-reinforced epoxy (using glass, carbon, or Kevlar fibers), or other suitable materials known to those of skill in the art. As shown, the strut is streamlined in cross-section to minimize drag. The strut may be constructed so as to allow passage of electrical wires from the motor speed controller 107 to the electric motor 105, such as inside or attached to the strut. The primary function of the strut is to rigidly connect the hydrofoil 102 at a fixed distance H from the board 101. The distance H will generally be in the range of 1 to 4 feet. In an alternative embodiment, more than one strut may be used or the strut may be shaped differently than shown.

[00026] The hydrofoil 102 of FIG. 1 is specifically designed to be statically stable in the longitudinal degrees of freedom via a combination of airfoil design, planform design and span-wise twist distribution. The hydrofoil 102 has a wingspan S (see Fig. 2). The wingspan will generally be in the range of 1 to 4 feet. It is also designed to be stable in sideslip ("weathercock stability") either via planform design or via the addition of small vertical foils (winglets or fins). In some cases it may be advantageous to add a fixed canard or horizontal tail to further enhance static longitudinal stability (for example, for training purposes). The fixed distance H (see Fig. 2) of the strut 103 may be greater than the wingspan S of the hydrofoil 102 so that the hydrofoil remains fully submerged even when the user is leaning to turn.

[00027] The propulsion system 104 (discussed in more detail below) may comprise a ducted propeller or pump-jet, or may be of another type. The propulsion system is driven by the electric motor 105.

[00028] The electric motor 105 is connected to the motor speed controller 107 using wires sized to carry the required voltage and current. The motor speed controller 107 may include other functionality such as a low-voltage alarm or other protective circuitry for the battery 106; alternately, such circuitry may be included in the throttle interface 109. The main function of the throttle interface is to connect the motor speed controller 107 to the throttle module 108.

[00029] The throttle module 108 may be a hand-held device with a spring-loaded trigger 110 (so the throttle disengages automatically when it is released). Pulling or depressing the trigger causes the motor to turn a propeller or impeller in the propulsion system 104, with motor speed being proportional to the degree the trigger is pulled or depressed. The throttle module communicates the degree of trigger pull/depression to the throttle interface 109 via a cable or wirelessly. The throttle module may take other forms, such as being operated by other body parts.

[00030] The throttle interface 109 may in addition include circuitry and connections to permit charging of the battery 106. This would include battery protection circuits. The throttle interface may also include a means to display battery information to the user (for example, via LEDs to indicate charge state). Alternately, such information may be displayed on the throttle module 108.

[00031] To operate the watercraft 100, a user initially lies prone on the flotation board 101. The throttle is engaged, causing the craft to accelerate. As the craft gains speed the user may move to a kneeling or standing position. As the craft further gains speed the hydrofoil generates sufficient lift to raise the board above the water. The user controls altitude of the board by leaning back (to go up) and forward (to go down). The user can steer left or right by leaning in the appropriate direction. Releasing the throttle causes the motor to stop, reducing speed. The watercraft 100 may have other safety devices and features which causes the electric motor 105 to stop when the rider falls off the flotation board 101. These devices may monitor the presence of a user on the flotation board 101.

[00032] FIG. 2 shows an exploded perspective view of one embodiment of the hydrofoil 102, strut 103, propulsion system 104, and electric motor 105. The electric motor 105 and propulsion system 104 are integrated into a waterproof, streamlined pod 201 that is designed to be embedded in the hydrofoil 102. The pod 201 also defines the lower end of the strut 103. The streamlined pod performs two main structural functions: it transmits propulsion forces to the strut 103 and it transmits lift forces from the hydrofoil 102 to the strut 103. It may also contain provisions for cooling the electric motor 105. The pod 201 is connected to the hydrofoil 102 either by a fitting (so that the hydrofoil can be easily removed) or it is integrally manufactured with the hydrofoil 102.

[00033] In its preferential form the electric motor 105 is a high efficiency brushless motor. A gearbox may be provided to ensure that the propeller or impeller of the propulsion system 104 operates over an appropriate range of speeds.

[00035] FIG. 3 shows a perspective view of the watercraft 100 from below. In its preferred form the propulsion system 104 comprises a propeller 104a and a duct 104b. The duct has two purposes: it acts as a propeller guard and it is designed to increase propeller thrust. In an alternate form the propulsion system may comprise a pump-jet.

[00036] FIG. 4 shows an exploded perspective view of an alternative embodiment of the hydrofoil 102, strut 103, electric motor 105 and propulsion system 401. In this embodiment the propulsion system comprises a long duct and may contain a stator assembly. The duct functions both as a guard for the propeller (shown in FIG 3) and to improve hydrodynamic efficiency. A stator (not shown) aft of the propeller can also be included to improve propulsive efficiency. In this embodiment the electric motor 105 is enclosed in a streamlined pod embedded in the propulsion system. In the embodiment of FIG. 4, the propulsion system is mounted below the hydrofoil 102. FIG. 5 shows a perspective view of the watercraft 100 from below with the propulsion system 401 mounted below the hydrofoil 102.

[00037] FIG. 6 shows a perspective view of an alternative embodiment of the hydrofoil 102, strut 103, and propulsion system 601. In this embodiment the propulsion system is integrated in the hydrofoil so that the inlet is at or near the forward (leading) edge of the hydrofoil and the outlet is at or near the rear (trailing) edge of the hydrofoil. As in the embodiments of FIG. 2, FIG. 3, FIG. 4 and FIG. 5, the propulsion system comprises a duct, a propeller, electric motor, and may include a stator.

[00039] FIG. 8 shows perspective views of alternative embodiments of the hydrofoil planform. Hydrofoil 801 includes a fixed canard that increases stability (suitable for training). Note that this canard is fixed, not movable: control still occurs through weight shift. Hydrofoil 102 is shown in earlier drawings, and can be considered a baseline “all around” hydrofoil (suitable for a wide range of abilities). Foils 802 and 803 are progressively higher performance, permitting higher speeds and/or greater maneuverability. Foil 803 includes winglets, which increase directional stability and decrease drag. Foil 804 includes a horizontal tail, which improves longitudinal stability (similar to 801, it is suitable for training). Foil 805 includes both a horizontal tail and a vertical tail, improving longitudinal stability and directional stability (suitable for training). These tails may be considered a secondary hydrofoil. Note that other versions of the hydrofoil are possible: the key is designing the hydrofoil for passive static stability via planform design, airfoil design, and span-wise twist distribution.

[00040] Preferred embodiments of the present invention provide a hydrofoil watercraft with a fixed hydrofoil connected to a flotation board by one or more struts, with the fixed hydrofoil having no movable or adjustable surfaces. No movable hydrofoil is provided, but secondary hydrofoils on one or more struts (as shown in 801, 804, and 805) may be included. Additionally, no movable steering system is provided, as the watercraft is maneuvered by weight shifts.

[00041] This invention exploits passive stability to obviate the necessity for mechanisms or active control systems to provide stability. This passive stability allows the watercraft to be controlled by weight shift rather than by mechanical systems. Fig. 9 and Fig. 10 show the hydrofoil flow definitions and hydrofoil geometry parameters respectively. For the hydrofoil, longitudinally trimmed motion occurs when the total pitching moment is zero. This trim condition is stable if a disturbance results in a restoring moment that returns the hydrofoil to its original condition. The pitching moment coefficient can be written as $C_m = C_{m0} + C_{m_\alpha} \alpha + C_{m_Q} Q$ where C_{m0} is the pitching moment coefficient at zero angle of attack and zero pitch rate, C_{m_α} is the derivative of pitching moment coefficient with respect to angle of attack (called pitch stiffness), α is the angle of attack (the angle between the flow direction and the chord of the hydrofoil), C_{m_Q} is the derivative of pitching moment coefficient with respect to pitch rate (called pitch damping), and Q is the pitch rate. To ensure a trimmable, stable hydrofoil, the following conditions must be true: $C_{m0} > 0$, $C_{m_\alpha} < 0$, $C_{m_Q} < 0$. This is achieved with a combination of airfoil selection, hydrofoil sweep and span-wise twist. The exact ratios of wing sweep and twist are dependent on the degree of stability desired and are also affected by the pitching moment characteristics of the airfoil. The derivative C_{m_Q} determines the “quickness” of the longitudinal response. Typically it will lie between -2 and -20, with more negative values leading to a “sluggish” feel. In the steady state (when $Q=0$) the angle of attack (and thus speed) at which trim occurs is a function of C_{m_0} and C_{m_α} .

$$\alpha_{trim} = -\frac{C_{m_0}}{C_{m_\alpha}}$$

C_{m_0} is defined entirely by hydrofoil design parameters; C_{m_α} is defined by a combination of hydrofoil design parameters and the location of the center of gravity: this is the means by which weight shift enables longitudinal control of the hydrofoil watercraft.

[00042] Similarly for lateral motion, trim occurs when the yawing moment and rolling moment are zero. It is further desirable that this occurs at zero sideslip angle, so the hydrofoil “tracks straight” through the water. When the yaw rate is zero, rolling moment coefficient and yawing moment coefficient can be written as where C_{l_0} and C_{n_0} are the roll rate and yaw rate at zero sideslip, respectively, C_{l_β} and C_{n_β} are the derivatives of roll rate and yaw rate with respect to sideslip angle, respectively, C_{l_p} and C_{n_p} are the derivatives of roll rate and yaw rate with respect to roll rate, respectively. Note that C_{n_β} is sometimes called weathercock stiffness and C_{l_p} is sometimes called roll damping. Trimmable, stable motion at zero sideslip is achieved by ensuring that the following conditions are true:

$$C_{l_\beta} < 0$$

$$C_{n_\beta} > 0$$

$$C_{l_p} < 0$$

This is achieved through a combination of sweep and dihedral and can also be influenced with the addition of winglets or a fin. The practical upper limit of C_{n_β} and practical lower limits of C_{l_β} and C_{l_p} are determined by the practicality of hydrofoil design. For example, sweep angles greater than 60 degrees are unlikely to lead to useable designs and twist of greater than 15 degrees is unlikely to lead to useable designs. Given these geometric limits and the subjective judgment of "ride quality" on the part of a user, bounds on the roll and yaw derivatives exist but are not quantifiable to a useful degree of precision.

[00043] Directional control is achieved by the weight shift and the weathercock stability stiffness. Shifting weight to one side causes the watercraft to roll to that side; this causes sideslip in the direction of the weight shift, and the C_{n_β} term causes the vehicle to turn in the direction of the lean. It should be noted that there is a trade-off between stability and maneuverability. More experienced users generally want a watercraft that is somewhat less stable to provide greater maneuverability. In contrast, less experienced users may want a watercraft that has more stability, and this may be done through appropriate design of the hydrofoil to give the desired stability and maneuverability characteristics.

[00044] As will be clear to those of skill in the art, the herein described embodiments of the present invention may be altered in various ways without departing from the scope or teaching of the present invention. It is the following claims, including all equivalents, which define the scope of the invention.

PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the United States and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in another country must apply for a patent in a specific country or in regional patent offices. Applicants may wish to consider the filing of an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). An international (PCT) application generally has the same effect as a regular national patent application in each PCT-member country. The PCT process simplifies the filing of patent applications on the same invention in member countries, but does not result in a grant of "an international patent" and does not eliminate the need of applicants to file additional documents and fees in countries where patent protection is desired.

Almost every country has its own patent law, and a person desiring a patent in a particular country must make an application for patent in that country in accordance with its particular laws. Since the laws of many countries differ in various respects from the patent law of the United States, applicants are advised to seek guidance from specific foreign countries to ensure that patent rights are not lost prematurely.

Applicants also are advised that in the case of inventions made in the United States, the Director of the USPTO must issue a license before applicants can apply for a patent in a foreign country. The filing of a U.S. patent application serves as a request for a foreign filing license. The application's filing receipt contains further information and guidance as to the status of applicant's license for foreign filing.

Applicants may wish to consult the USPTO booklet, "General Information Concerning Patents" (specifically, the section entitled "Treaties and Foreign Patents") for more information on timeframes and deadlines for filing foreign patent applications. The guide is available either by contacting the USPTO Contact Center at 800-786-9199, or it can be viewed on the USPTO website at <http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/doc/general/index.html>.

For information on preventing theft of your intellectual property (patents, trademarks and copyrights), you may wish to consult the U.S. Government website, <http://www.stopfakes.gov>. Part of a Department of Commerce initiative, this website includes self-help "toolkits" giving innovators guidance on how to protect intellectual property in specific countries such as China, Korea and Mexico. For questions regarding patent enforcement issues, applicants may call the U.S. Government hotline at 1-866-999-HALT (1-866-999-4258).

LICENSE FOR FOREIGN FILING UNDER
Title 35, United States Code, Section 184
Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, 5.11 & 5.15

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce (15 CFR parts 730-774); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory double patenting rejection is appropriate where the claims at issue are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the reference application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement. A terminal disclaimer must be signed in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b).

The USPTO internet Web site contains terminal disclaimer forms which may be used. Please visit <http://www.uspto.gov/forms/>. The filing date of the application will determine what form should be used. A web-based eTerminal Disclaimer may be filled out completely online using web-screens. An eTerminal Disclaimer that meets all requirements is auto-processed and approved immediately upon submission. For more information about eTerminal Disclaimers, refer to <http://www.uspto.gov/patents/process/file/efs/guidance/eTD-info-I.jsp>.

5. Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 and 13-30 of copending Application No. 14/509,289. Although the claims at issue are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are fully encompassed in scope by the above claims.

This is a provisional nonstatutory double patenting rejection because the patentably indistinct claims have not in fact been patented.

a propulsion system for propelling the watercraft in a body of water, wherein the propulsion system is connected to the hydrofoil; and the watercraft having no movable steering system.

2. (Original) A watercraft in accordance with claim 1, wherein the propulsion system comprises a battery, an electric motor, a motor speed controller, and a propulsor, the propulsor selected from a propeller, a ducted propeller, or a pump-jet.

3. (Original) A watercraft in accordance with claim 2, wherein the propulsor is disposed below the hydrofoil.

4-12. (Canceled).

13. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 1, wherein the hydrofoil is indirectly connected to the strut.

14. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 13, wherein the strut is directly connected to the propulsion system.

15. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 14, wherein a first hydrofoil wing of the hydrofoil is indirectly connected to the strut through the propulsion system.

16. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 13, wherein the hydrofoil comprises a plurality of wings that are interconnected by way of a strut.

17. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 2, wherein the battery and motor speed controller are contained in a watertight compartment integrated into the flotation device.

18. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 2, wherein the electric motor is integrated into a waterproof, streamlined pod and the watercraft comprises a cooling system for cooling the electric motor.

19. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 18, wherein the waterproof, streamlined pod is removably interconnected with the hydrofoil through a fitting.

20. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 17, further comprising a wireless handheld controller having a transmitter, and a throttle interface having a receiver, wherein the transmitter is adapted to send wireless signals to the receiver that cause an output of the propulsion system to change.

21. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 1, wherein a first hydrofoil wing of the hydrofoil is directly connected to the strut.

22. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 17, wherein the strut has an internal passage and electrical wires extend from the electric motor to the watertight compartment inside the strut through the internal passage for controlling the electric motor.

23. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 22, wherein the flotation device has a detector adapted to detect a user's presence on the flotation device and cease operation of the electric motor if the detector detects that the user is not on the flotation device.

24. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 1, wherein the propulsion system is directly or indirectly connected to the hydrofoil.

25. (New) A personal hydrofoil watercraft, comprising:
a surfboard-shaped flotation device that has a fore-aft length greater than a lateral width, the flotation device having a top surface and a bottom surface, wherein the top surface has a substantially horizontal supporting surface configured to support a user in a prone, kneeling, or standing position, the flotation device having a forward section, a middle section, and a rear section;

a hydrofoil interconnected with the surfboard-shaped flotation device, the hydrofoil having a strut and a first hydrofoil wing, an upper end of the strut being fixedly interconnected with the surfboard-shaped flotation device;

a propulsion system attached to the surfboard-shaped flotation device for propelling the watercraft in a body of water, the propulsion system comprising a battery, an electric motor, a motor speed controller, and a propulsor, wherein the propulsor is selected from a propeller, a ducted propeller, or a pump-jet, and the battery and motor speed controller are contained in a watertight compartment integrated into the flotation device;

the watercraft having no movable steering system;

a handheld controller having a throttle; and a throttle interface, wherein the throttle is adapted to send electronic signals to the throttle interface that cause an output of the propulsion system to change.

26. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 25, wherein the hydrofoil comprises a plurality of hydrofoil wings including the first hydrofoil wing and a second hydrofoil wing, the first and second hydrofoil wings being connected by way of a strut.

27. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 25, wherein the watercraft comprises a cooling system for cooling the electric motor.

28. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 25, wherein the strut has an internal passage and electrical wires extend from the electric motor to the watertight compartment inside the strut through the internal passage for controlling the electric motor.

29. (New) A watercraft in accordance with claim 25, wherein the handheld controller comprises a wireless transmitter operatively coupled to the throttle and the throttle interface includes a receiver, the transmitter being adapted to send wireless signals to the receiver in response to actuation of the throttle that cause an output of the propulsion system to change.

REMARKS

The present amendment is responsive to the Office Action dated May 23, 2016 (“the Action”). Claim 1 has been amended, claims 4-12 have been canceled, and new claims 13-29 have been added herein. Thus, claims 1-3 and 13-29 are pending in the present application. The amended and new claims are supported by the application, as filed. Thus, no new matter has been entered by way of this amendment. Applicant respectfully requests entry and consideration of its amendments and remarks.

In the Action, claims 1-12 were provisionally rejected on the grounds of non-statutory double patenting as being allegedly unpatentable over claims 1-4 and 13-30 of U.S. Ser. No. 14/509,289 (“’289 Application”). The above rejection in view of the ’289 Application was provisional since, at the time, the ’289 Application had not yet matured into a patent. The ’289 Application has since issued on June 7, 2016 as U.S. Patent No. 9,359,044 (“’044 Patent”). To overcome the above rejection, Applicant respectfully submits herewith a terminal disclaimer listing the ’044 Patent. Indeed, the ’044 Patent and the present application were commonly owned by the Applicant at the time of filing the present application. As such, Applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner withdraw the above rejections in view of the terminal disclaimer accordingly.

Since the double-patenting rejections were the only rejections set forth in the Action, Applicant respectfully submits that independent claim 1 and its dependent claims 13-24 are allowable. In addition, Applicant respectfully submits that newly-submitted independent claim 25 and its dependent claims 26-29 are allowable for the same reasons as claims 1 and 13-24. If the Examiner has any objections or rejections pertaining to the newly-submitted claims, or any other matter, Applicant respectfully requests an interview to discuss the same.

CONCLUSION

Applicant respectfully submits that the claims are in condition for allowance, and notification to that effect is earnestly requested. The Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned at (201) 360-1097 to facilitate prosecution of this application.

If necessary, please charge any additional fees or deficiencies, or credit any overpayments to Deposit Account No. 19-0743.

Respectfully submitted,

Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (Applications filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The Office has discontinued providing a Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) calculation with the Notice of Allowance.

Section 1(h)(2) of the AIA Technical Corrections Act amended 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(3)(B)(i) to eliminate the requirement that the Office provide a patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. See Revisions to Patent Term Adjustment, 78 Fed. Reg. 19416, 19417 (Apr. 1, 2013). Therefore, the Office is no longer providing an initial patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. The Office will continue to provide a patent term adjustment determination with the Issue Notification Letter that is mailed to applicant approximately three weeks prior to the issue date of the patent, and will include the patent term adjustment on the patent. Any request for reconsideration of the patent term adjustment determination (or reinstatement of patent term adjustment) should follow the process outlined in 37 CFR 1.705.

Any questions regarding the Patent Term Extension or Adjustment determination should be directed to the Office of Patent Legal Administration at (571)-272-7702. Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at 1-(888)-786-0101 or (571)-272-4200.

OMB Clearance and PRA Burden Statement for PTOL-85 Part B

The Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) of 1995 requires Federal agencies to obtain Office of Management and Budget approval before requesting most types of information from the public. When OMB approves an agency request to collect information from the public, OMB (i) provides a valid OMB Control Number and expiration date for the agency to display on the instrument that will be used to collect the information and (ii) requires the agency to inform the public about the OMB Control Number's legal significance in accordance with 5 CFR 1320.5(b).

The information collected by PTOL-85 Part B is required by 37 CFR 1.311. The information is required to obtain or retain a benefit by the public which is to file (and by the USPTO to process) an application. Confidentiality is governed by 35 U.S.C. 122 and 37 CFR 1.14. This collection is estimated to take 12 minutes to complete, including gathering, preparing, and submitting the completed application form to the USPTO. Time will vary depending upon the individual case. Any comments on the amount of time you require to complete this form and/or suggestions for reducing this burden, should be sent to the Chief Information Officer, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450. DO NOT SEND FEES OR COMPLETED FORMS TO THIS ADDRESS. SEND TO: Commissioner for Patents, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450. Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number.
