Re: Notice Regarding Menard's LED-based Lights

Dear Mr. Rugh:

This firm represents Luminex Intl. Co. Ltd. ("Luminex") in intellectual property matters. We are in receipt of your February 8, 2021 letter addressed to Menard, inc. ("Menard"), in which you assert that many of Menard's LED-based lights (sold under the Patriot Lighting brand) use Signify's patented technologies.

Luminex owns 160+ patents including 20+ patents relating to color tuning, 30+ patents relating to security/smart lighting, and 5+ patents relating to AC power and dimming control, and Luminex takes its intellectual property rights seriously and, as such, respects the intellectual property rights of others.

We are in the process of evaluating the assertions in your February 8, 2021 letter and shall revert in due course.

In the interim, please refrain from further contact with Luminex customers on this matter.

Very truly yours,

R. Mark Halligan Partner
