| 05/15/2023 | 19        | ORAL ORDER re 17 MOTION to Stay – Defendant's motion to stay 17 was filed by its CEO, Dr. Joseph L. DeBellis, MD, an individual who does not appear to be a licensed attorney. (See D.I. 17 & 18). Corporations may appear in federal court only through licensed counsel. See Rowland v. California Mens Colony, Unit II Mens Advisory Council , 506 U.S. 194, 201–02 (1993). THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendant's motion to stay 17 is STRICKEN. ORDERED by Judge Maryellen Noreika on 5/15/2023. Copy mailed to Vilox Technologies, LLC on 5/16/2023 (dlw) (Entered: 05/15/2023)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 05/25/2023 | 20        | ORAL ORDER – On 5/15/2023, in C.A. No. 23–302 (MN), Vilox was ordered (for the third time) to obtain local counsel on or before 5/30/2023. Today, the Court received an ex parte email in C.A. No. 23–126 (MN) and in 23–302 (MN), requesting the Court docket filings because Vilox "still does not have local Delaware counsel." The Court will not docket the filings and will not accept further ex parte emails. ORDERED by Judge Maryellen Noreika on 5/25/2023. Copy emailed to: wramey@rameyfirm.com; LitParalegals@rameyfirm.com; litattorneys@rameyfirm.com 5/25/2023 (dlw) (Entered: 05/25/2023)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 05/30/2023 | 21        | ORAL ORDER – On 5/25/2023, the Court issued an Oral Order stating in part that "[t]he Court will not...accept further ex parte emails." Nevertheless, on 5/30/2023, the Court received an ex parte email stating: "We are not attempting to have an ex parte communication entered into the files. By the attached letter, we are attempting to comply with this Court's orders. Will you please provide the Honorable Judge Noreika the attached letter." The Court does not accept ex parte communications. The Court notes, however, that the referenced "attached letter" states that the patents-in-suit are "no longer owned by Vilox Technologies LLC or Vilox LLC" and those companies "no longer [have] standing." In light of counsel's representation, it appears that this Court does not have subject matter jurisdiction over these matters. On or before 6/2/2023, Oracle Corporation shall submit to the Court a letter addressing the standing issue. ORDERED by Judge Maryellen Noreika on 5/30/2023. Copy emailed to: wramey@rameyfirm.com; LitParalegals@rameyfirm.com; litattorneys@rameyfirm.com 5/30/2023 (dlw) (Entered: 05/30/2023) |

| 10/11/2023 | 47 | ORAL ORDER – It has come to the Court's attention that the parties have submitted to the Clerk's Office proposed stipulations extending time. Each of the stipulations includes Vilox Technologies, LLC, an entity for which no local counsel has appeared in violation of Local Rule 83.5. Moreover, the only signature on the stipulations is Joseph L. De Bellis, who is not an attorney and who cannot represent Vilox Technologies, LLC. THEREFORE, the Court will not docket the most recent submissions received by the Clerk's Office and will not grant the requested extensions.        |
