43. In addition, Weber has produced revenues generated from customer orders that include an embodying product. These figures represent entire order revenues, and thus are inclusive of revenues generated through the sale of other peripherals and line components that were ordered by customers in addition to the slicer component itself. As illustrated in Table 6 below, Weber also generated substantial line revenues from its TS700 product. In total, Weber generated over [REDACTED] in revenue from processing lines sold with one of the embodying products, primarily driven by the TS700 which generated over [REDACTED] in line revenues and the S6 and weSLICE 9500, which generated over [REDACTED] in line sales, respectively.¹⁹³
