

missile

1. n. [Shale Gas, Well Completions, Well Workover and Intervention]

Flow control unit used in the pressurization of fluid employed in hydraulic fracturing. Fracturing fluid enters the missile at low pressure and is directed to the pump trucks for pressurization. High-pressure fluid returns to the missile and is directed to the well or, in the case of a multiwell pad, to a frac manifold.

See: trunk line, zipper manifold

EXHIBIT: 2009
WIT: Durham
DATE: 8/15/24
Pat E. Arredondo, CRR, RMR

Privacy | Terms of Service

© 2024 Schlumberger Limited.

SLB 43.86  0.19