1. My name is Eduardo Rother. I am over 18 years of age, a resident of Georgia, and competent to make this declaration.
2. I am co-owner of Apollo Creative, publisher of Inside Archery, located in Woodstock, Georgia. I make this declaration based on my own knowledge, past experience, my review of the business records, discussions with other employees at Apollo Creative, and my duties conducted within the ordinary course of business at Apollo Creative. If called upon, I could and would testify to all facts stated in this declaration.
3. Apollo Creative is a corporation with its corporate headquarters and principal place of business in Woodstock, GA. Inside Archery is a trade magazine produced by Apollo Creative that is mailed out to the archery industry ten times a year.

8. Articles in Inside Archery are written by either established authors in the industry or by the Inside Archery editor. Articles are included in a given issue based on a yearly plan made between the editor, sales, and production for relevant/topical archery content. This content is published 10 times a year through Inside Archery magazine.

9. Inside Archery's usual practice for print publications, both today and in the 2008-2009 timeframe, is to mail the magazine to retailers, manufacturers, and industry organizations one to two weeks of the month preceding the month of the issue.

10. Inside Archery's usual practice for digital publications, both today and in the 2008-2009 timeframe, is to publish the magazine as a digital PDF format in Inside Archery's website (insidearchery.com) after the print issue has been mailed from the press. An email blast is sent announcing the release of the digital edition.

Exhibit 1 hereto is a true and correct copy of a Bow Report article titled "2009 Mission Menace" authored by then-editor Bill Krenz that appeared in the December 2008 issue of Inside Archery, which I compared with Inside Archery's records. These records are maintained in Inside Archery's ordinary course of business. When we release an issue, we regularly desposit a copy in these records and maintain them as an archive.
