Re: IPR2024-00615: Joint Request to File Pre-Institution Reply and Sur-Reply

Counsel,

From the Board –

We grant the parties' joint request for Petitioner to file a reply to the Patent Owner's Preliminary Response, and for Patent Owner to file a sur-reply to the reply to the Patent Owner's Preliminary Response. The reply shall not exceed 7 pages and is limited to addressing Fintiv factors. The sur-reply shall not exceed 7 pages and is limited to responding to Petitioner's arguments in the reply. The reply is due 7 business days from the date of this grant, and the sur-reply is due 7 business days after the filing of the reply.

To the Board,
Re: IPR2024-00615

The Patent Owner Preliminary Response in the above-captioned IPR proceeding urges discretionary denial, including arguments on the Fintiv factors. The parties have met and conferred and Isix does not oppose SAP's request to file a reply directed to the Fintiv factors. Should the Board grant SAP's request for a reply, Isix requests that it be permitted to file a sur-reply, which SAP does not oppose. Consequently, the parties jointly seek leave for authorization to file a reply and sur-reply directed to these issues. Given the nature of the issues and factual details to be addressed, the parties propose that each paper be limited to 7 pages.

Should the Board deem a conference call necessary to discuss this joint proposal, the parties are available for a conference call Monday or Tuesday of next week (July 29 or July 30) from 12pm-4pm. If needed, further available times can be provided.

Regards,
Jeffri Kaminski
