EXHIBIT A

Under Armour Exhibit 1025
Under Armour v. Athalonz
IPR2024-00636

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL INFRINGEMENT CLAIM CHART FOR U.S. PATENT NO. 11,013,291

Athalonz provides the following infringement claim chart subject to all reservations, objections, statements, and disclaimers set forth herein and in Athalonz's Infringement Contentions, as well as any amendment, supplement, or modification thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety. These claim charts also incorporate by reference Athalonz's Complaint.

Athalonz contends that the shoes charted below are representative of other Under Armour Products, as set forth in Athalonz's infringement contentions.

Athalonz has prepared these infringement claim charts identifying, as specifically as possible at this stage of discovery, where each element of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Products. Athalonz contends that each element of the Asserted Claims is practiced literally by such Accused Products. To the extent Under Armour disputes literal infringement, Athalonz contends that any such disputed element is infringed by the Accused Products under the doctrine of equivalents. Athalonz reserves the right to update these charts, upon confirmation through discovery to the extent more information relating to the Accused Products or identification of additional products becomes available.

This claim chart is not intended to and does not construe the claims of the '291 Patent and does not limit Athalonz's contentions. Athalonz specifically reserves the right to modify and supplement this claim chart. This preliminary claim chart is provided to illustrate exemplary information practically available at this stage of discovery.

Athalonz provides the following infringement claim chart subject to all reservations, objections, statements, and disclaimers set forth herein and in Athalonz's Infringement Contentions, as well as any amendment, supplement, or modification thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety. These claim charts also incorporate by reference Athalonz's Complaint.

Athalonz contends that the shoes charted below are representative of other Under Armour Products, as set forth in Athalonz's infringement contentions.

Athalonz has prepared these infringement claim charts identifying, as specifically as possible at this stage of discovery, where each element of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Products. Athalonz contends that each element of the Asserted Claims is practiced literally by such Accused Products. To the extent Under Armour disputes literal infringement, Athalonz contends that any such disputed element is infringed by the Accused Products under the doctrine of equivalents. Athalonz reserves the right to update these charts, upon confirmation through discovery to the extent more information relating to the Accused Products or identification of additional products becomes available.

This claim chart is not intended to and does not construe the claims of the '760 Patent and does not limit Athalonz's contentions. Athalonz specifically reserves the right to modify and supplement this claim chart. This preliminary claim chart is provided to illustrate exemplary information practically available at this stage of discovery.

EXHIBIT C

Athalonz provides the following infringement claim chart subject to all reservations, objections, statements, and disclaimers set forth herein and in Athalonz's Infringement Contentions, as well as any amendment, supplement, or modification thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety. These claim charts also incorporate by reference Athalonz's Complaint.

Athalonz contends that the shoes charted below are representative of other Under Armour Products, as set forth in Athalonz's infringement contentions.

Athalonz has prepared these infringement claim charts identifying, as specifically as possible at this stage of discovery, where each element of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Products. Athalonz contends that each element of the Asserted Claims is practiced literally by such Accused Products. To the extent Under Armour disputes literal infringement, Athalonz contends that any such disputed element is infringed by the Accused Products under the doctrine of equivalents. Athalonz reserves the right to update these charts, upon confirmation through discovery to the extent more information relating to the Accused Products or identification of additional products becomes available.

This claim chart is not intended to and does not construe the claims of the '786 Patent and does not limit Athalonz's contentions. Athalonz specifically reserves the right to modify and supplement this claim chart. This preliminary claim chart is provided to illustrate exemplary information practically available at this stage of discovery.

Athalonz provides the following infringement claim chart subject to all reservations, objections, statements, and disclaimers set forth herein and in Athalonz's Infringement Contentions, as well as any amendment, supplement, or modification thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety. These claim charts also incorporate by reference Athalonz's Complaint.

Athalonz contends that the shoes charted below are representative of other Under Armour Products, as set forth in Athalonz's infringement contentions.

Athalonz has prepared these infringement claim charts identifying, as specifically as possible at this stage of discovery, where each element of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Products. Athalonz contends that each element of the Asserted Claims is practiced literally by such Accused Products. To the extent Under Armour disputes literal infringement, Athalonz contends that any such disputed element is practiced by the Accused Products under the doctrine of equivalents. Athalonz reserves the right to update these charts, upon confirmation through discovery to the extent more information relating to the Accused Products or identification of additional infringing products becomes available.

This claim chart is not intended to and does not construe the claims of the '456 Patent and does not limit Athalonz's infringement contentions. Athalonz specifically reserves the right to modify and supplement this claim chart. This preliminary claim chart is provided to illustrate exemplary information practically available at this stage of discovery.

In the Accused Products, the forefoot platform is constructed of a second material having a gradient compression factor, wherein, when the athletic shoe is worn by an athlete and weight of the athlete is applied to the athlete shoe, the second material compresses to a first level near an outer edge of the sole section and the second material compresses to a second level near an inner edge of the sole section, wherein the second level of compression is greater than the first level of compression. For example, in the HOVR Drive, the forefoot platform is constructed of a second material with a gradient compression factor. When the shoe is worn and weight is applied, the second material compresses to a first level with a durometer reading of 65 near an outer edge of the sole section and a second level with a durometer reading of 43 near an inner edge of the sole section. A lower durometer reading means the material is more compressible, so the second level of compression is greater than the first level of compression.

The Accused Products have a forefoot platform that is constructed to have a first level of compression proximal to the outer edge of the shoe and a second level of compression proximal to an inner edge of the shoe, wherein the second level of compression is greater than the first level of compression. For example, the HOVR Drive has a forefoot platform has a first level of compression proximal to the outer edge of the shoe and a second level of compression proximal to an inner edge of the shoe. The forefoot platform compresses to a durometer reading of 65 near the outer edge and compresses to a durometer reading of 43 near the inner edge. A lower durometer reading means the material is more compressible, so the second level of compression is greater than the first level of compression. outer edge durometer at AA = 65  inner edge durometer at AA = 43

Athalonz provides the following infringement claim chart subject to all reservations, objections, statements, and disclaimers set forth herein and in Athalonz's Infringement Contentions, as well as any amendment, supplement, or modification thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference in their entirety. These claim charts also incorporate by reference Athalonz's Complaint.

Athalonz contends that the shoes charted below are representative of other Under Armour Products, as set forth in Athalonz's infringement contentions.

Athalonz has prepared these infringement claim charts identifying, as specifically as possible at this stage of discovery, where each element of each asserted claim is found within the Accused Products. Athalonz contends that each element of the Asserted Claims is practiced literally by such Accused Products. To the extent Under Armour disputes literal infringement, Athalonz contends that any such disputed element is infringed by the Accused Products under the doctrine of equivalents. Athalonz reserves the right to update these charts, upon confirmation through discovery to the extent more information relating to the Accused Products or identification of additional products becomes available.

This claim chart is not intended to and does not construe the claims of the '768 Patent and does not limit Athalonz's contentions. Athalonz specifically reserves the right to modify and supplement this claim chart. This preliminary claim chart is provided to illustrate exemplary information practically available at this stage of discovery.
