Subject: Greenthread v. TI - IPR filings

[This email originated outside of F&R.]

Counsel,

Texas Instruments is filing IPR petitions challenging claims of U.S. Pat. No. 8,421,195, U.S. Pat. No. 9,190,502, U.S. Pat. No. 10,734,481, and U.S. Pat. No. 11,316,014. Texas Instruments stipulates that if the Patent Trial and Appeal Board institutes inter partes review (IPR) for any of these four patents based on the soon to be filed IPR petitions by Texas Instruments, and only while any of the IPR(s) are pending, Texas Instruments will not advance against any of the patents in Case No. 2:23-cv-00157: (1) the same grounds of invalidity advanced in the instituted IPR(s), or (2) any grounds of invalidity that reasonably could have raised during those inter partes reviews.

Best regards,
Seth
