1 Connecting to the Internet for email and web access via Bluetooth® with a Zire 72, Tungsten E2, Tungsten T5 handheld or a LifeDrive mobile manager requires a compatible Bluetooth-enabled mobile phone and ISP, both sold separately. Connecting via Wi-Fi with a LifeDrive mobile manager or a Tungsten C handheld requires proximity to a Wi-Fi hotspot and may also require additional fees, service plans and/or equipment. Connecting via a mobile network with a Treo 600 or Treo 650 smartphone requires data services from a mobile service provider and service activation. Additional restrictions may apply. Wireless coverage may not be available in all areas.

2 MP3 playback, not available on the Zire 21, requires an expansion card (sold separately) on all models except the LifeDrive mobile manager and the Tungsten T5 handheld. Video playback requires an expansion card (sold separately) on all models except the LifeDrive mobile manager, the Tungsten C or Tungsten T5 handhelds, and the Treo 650 smartphone. QuickTime (free Internet download available) is also required for desktop video conversion.

3 Price and offers vary by mobile service provider and require new service activation. Additional restrictions may apply. Price shown may be after service credit or mail-in rebate.

4 Host computer must support standard USB removable drives for drive mode functionality.

5 3.85GB is user accessible.

6 Bluetooth® wireless technology and SMS application available on the Tungsten E2 handheld only, not included with the Tungsten E.
