POCKET BRA SYSTEM

APPLICATION

FOR UNITED STATES LETTERS PATENT

SPECIFICATION

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

BE IT KNOWN THAT I, SHARON J. GOFF, a citizen of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have invented new and useful improvements in a POCKET BRA SYSTEM of which the following is a specification:

POCKET BRA SYSTEM

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

Field of the Invention

The present invention relates to a pocket bra system and more particularly pertains to removably receiving a handheld electronic device while providing support and shape to the breasts of a wearer, the receiving and supporting and shaping being done in a safe, convenient and economical manner.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

In view of the disadvantages inherent in the known types of bra systems of known designs and configurations now present in the prior art, the present invention provides an improved pocket bra system. As such, the general purpose of the present invention, which will be described subsequently in greater detail, is to provide a new and improved pocket bra system and method which has all the advantages of the prior art and none of the disadvantages.

To attain this, the present invention essentially comprises a pocket bra system. First provided is a strap assembly which includes a chest strap and shoulder straps. Similarly configured left and right cups are provided. The strap assembly is attached to the cups whereby the strap assembly adheres the cups to a wearer. Each cup has curved upper, lower, interior and exterior edges. Each cup has inside and outside surfaces. A patch is operatively associated with each cup. Each patch has a linear upper edge and curved lower, interior and exterior edges. Each patch has inside and outside surfaces. Stitching couples the lower, interior and exterior edges of each patch to the lower, interior and exterior edges of an associated cup. A linear opening is formed along the upper edge of each patch. Piping covers the upper edge of each patch. The piping is adapted to allow the patch to move away from and back toward the cup between open and closed orientations.

In other embodiments, any of the pockets disclosed herein may have a closure structure, such as a hook and loop connector, zipper, a snap closure, button, magnet, and the like.

There has thus been outlined, rather broadly, the more important features of the invention in order that the detailed description thereof that follows may be better understood and in order that the present contribution to the art may be better appreciated. There are, of course, additional features of the invention that will be described hereinafter and which will form the subject matter of the claims attached.

In this respect, before explaining at least one embodiment of the invention in detail, it is to be understood that the invention is not limited in its application to the details of construction and to the arrangements of the components set forth in the following description or illustrated in the drawings. The invention is capable of other embodiments and of being practiced and carried out in various ways. Also, it is to be understood that the phraseology and terminology employed herein are for the purpose of descriptions and should not be regarded as limiting.

As such, those skilled in the art will appreciate that the conception, upon which this disclosure is based, may readily be utilized as a basis for the designing of other structures, methods and systems for carrying out the several purposes of the present invention. It is important, therefore, that the claims be regarded as including such equivalent constructions insofar as they do not depart from the spirit and scope of the present invention.

It is therefore an object of the present invention to provide a new and improved pocket bra system which has all of the advantages of the prior art bra systems of known designs and configurations and none of the disadvantages.

It is another object of the present invention to provide a new and improved pocket bra system which may be easily and efficiently manufactured and marketed.

It is further object of the present invention to provide a new and improved pocket bra system which is of durable and reliable constructions.

An even further object of the present invention is to provide a new and improved pocket bra system which is susceptible of a low cost of manufacture with regard to both materials and labor, and which accordingly is then susceptible of low prices of sale to the consuming public, thereby making such pocket bra system economically available to the buying public. It should be understood that the present invention may be formed of any material capable of being used as a bra. DESCRIPTION OF THE PREFERRED EMBODIMENT

With reference now to the drawings, and in particular to Figure 1 thereof, the preferred embodiment of the new and improved pocket bra system embodying the principles and concepts of the present invention and generally designated by the reference numeral 10 will be described.

The present invention, the pocket bra system 10 is comprised of a plurality of components. Such components in their broadest context include a strap, left and right cups, a rectangular patch and a linear slit. Such components are individually configured and correlated with respect to each other so as to attain the desired objective.

First provided is a strap assembly. The strap assembly includes a generally horizontal chest strap 14. The chest strap is positionable around the chest and back of a wearer. The strap assembly includes left and right generally vertical shoulder straps 16. The shoulder straps are positionable over the shoulders of the wearer. The shoulder straps have free ends. The free ends are coupled to the chest strap adjacent to the chest of the wearer and adjacent to the back of the wearer.

A left cup 18 is provided. A similarly configured right cup 20 is provided. Each cup has an inside surface and an outside surface. The left and right cups each have an upper-most point 22. The left and right cups each have a lower-most point 24. A generally vertical axis is provided. The vertical axis divides each cup into an inner hemisphere interiorly and an outer hemisphere exteriorly. The left and right cups each have an inner-most point 26. The left and right cups each have an outer-most point 28. A generally horizontal axis is provided. The horizontal axis divides each cup into an upper hemisphere above and a lower hemisphere below.

A rectangular patch 32 is provided next. The patch is operatively associated with each cup. Each patch has generally horizontal upper and lower edges. Each patch has generally vertical interior and exterior edges. The patch has a periphery. The periphery has stitching. In this manner the periphery of each patch is coupled to the inside surface of an associated cup. The majority of each patch is in the upper hemisphere. The majority of each patch is in the outer hemisphere. A rectangular chamber 34 is provided. The chamber is provided between each patch and its associated cup. The chamber is rectangular. The chamber has a height of 120 and 140 millimeters. The chamber has a width of between 60 and 70 millimeters. The pockets and the patches are fabricated of a resilient closed cell polyurethane foam. The foam has a thickness of from 2 to 4 millimeters. The patches are fabricated of an elastic fabric.

Further provided is a linear slit 38. The slit is provided in each patch. The slit is provided parallel with, and closely spaced from, the upper edge of each patch. Each slit has a length greater than 90 percent of the width of the chamber. An elastic band 40 is provided. The elastic band is provided within each patch. The elastic band surrounds the slit. The elastic band is adapted to return the slit to a closed orientation. The elastic band is further adapted to allow the slit to stretch to an enlarged orientation.

Provided last is a handheld electronic device 46. The handheld electronic device is positionable within the chamber. In one embodiment, the handheld electronic device has a height of 115 millimeters, plus or minus 10 percent. The handheld electronic device has a width of 59 millimeters. The handheld electronic device has a thickness of 9 millimeters plus or minus 10 percent. The slit is adapted to stretch to the open orientation when adding the handheld device to, or removing the handheld device from, the chamber. The slit is adapted to contract to the closed orientation when the handheld device is within or without the chamber. The thickness and the material of the cups and the patches are adapted to abate inward projections by the handheld devices in the chambers tending to poke a user. The thickness and the material of the cups and the patches are adapted to abate outward projections by the handheld devices in the chambers tending to create unsightly projections.

An alternate embodiment 100 of the present invention is provided. An under-wire 104 is provided. The under-wire is provided beneath each cup.

A central patch 108 is provided. The central patch is provided intermediate the cups. In this manner a central chamber is formed. The central patch has horizontal upper and lower edges 110, 112. The central patch has vertical side edges 114, 116. The upper and lower edges are longer than the side edges. The central patch has a central slit 118. The central slit is provided parallel with and in proximity to the upper edge. The central chamber is adapted to receive and support keys.

An upper patch 120 is provided on each shoulder strap. The upper patches have horizontal upper and lower edges 122, 124. The upper patches have vertical side edges 126, 128. The upper and lower edges are shorter than the side edges. The upper patches each have an upper slit 130. The upper slit is provided parallel with and in proximity to the upper edge. The upper chambers are adapted to receive and support pills.

Figures 9 through 12 illustrate a system 200 constructed in accordance with another alternate embodiment of the invention. In such alternate embodiment, enlarged bra pockets 204 are constructed on the cups of the bra. In addition, side pockets 268 are constructed along both sides of the bra. Although only a right side pocket is illustrated, it should be understood that a similarly constructed left side pocket is preferably provided additionally.

As shown in Figures 9 and 10, there is illustrated a pocket bra system 200 for removably receiving a handheld electronic device and other objects while providing support and shape to the breasts of a wearer. The system includes a strap assembly 214. The strap assembly is formed of a chest strap 216 and shoulder straps 218.

Next provided are similarly configured left and right cups 222, 224. Each cup has inside and outside surfaces. The strap assembly is attached to the cups whereby the strap assembly adheres the cups to a wearer. Each cup has curved upper edge 226, a lower edge 228, an interior edge 230 and an exterior edge 232. Each cup has inside and outside surfaces.

A patch 236 is operatively associated with each cup. Each patch has a linear upper edge 238 and a curved lower edge 240, an interior edge 242 and an exterior edge 248. Each patch has inside and outside surfaces.

Stitching 250 couples the lower, interior and exterior edges of each patch to the lower, interior and exterior edges of an associated cup. A linear opening 252 is thus formed along the upper edge of each patch. Piping 256 covers the upper edge of each patch. The upper edge of the patch and the piping are adapted to allow the patch to move away from and back toward the cup between open and closed orientations.

Pockets 260 are formed between the patches and the cups. In one embodiment, the cups are fabricated of a resilient closed cell polyurethane foam with a thickness of from 2 to 4 millimeters. In another embodiment, the patches are fabricated of a resilient closed cell polyurethane foam with a thickness of from 2 to 4 millimeters.

A handheld electronic device 46 is adapted to be placed within a pocket.

An under-wire 264 is coupled beneath each cup in a generally vertical plane.

Lastly provided is a side patch 268 forming a side pocket on each side of the chest strap. The side patches each have a horizontal upper edge 270 and a lower edge 272 and vertical side edges 274. The upper and lower edges of each patch are longer than the side edges. The side patches include side stitching 276 along the lower and side edges. Thus is formed an upper opening 278 at each side patch, the pocket 268 formed between two layers of the chest strap and defined by the stitching 276.

In one embodiment, the side pocket 268 may be configured to have the upper edge 270 and top edge of the chest strap aligned or nearly aligned. In another embodiment, a pocket flap may extend from the chest strap over the upper opening 278 to form an 'envelope pocket' and thus to cover the upper opening 278. In further embodiments, the flap may be positioned on a side, bottom, or middle of the pocket, with the opening being at least partially covered by the flap when in a closed (and/or non-accessing) position. The pocket flap may be secured via hook and loop connector, button, snap, zipper, or the like to the exterior of the pocket 268, or may simply rest over the upper opening 278. In still a further embodiment, side pocket 268 may further extend at least partially into, over, or beneath the cup such that the pocket, and potentially the upper opening 278 span both part of the chest strap and part of the cup.

Fig. 13 provides a view of an embodiment of a bra having a back pocket. The present embodiment is shown as a sports bra version, however it should be understood that the back pocket design may be employed on any bra, and may be positioned on the chest strap, similarly to the side pocket embodiment described above. This may be particularly useful on front-open bra designs. In the embodiment shown, two shoulder straps 306, and two sides of the chest strap 301 extend away from a central area 305. On this central area is a pocket 304. The pocket may be formed in any manner and may be defined at its boundary 302 by stitching, a separate pocket material behind the central area 305 material, or by any other structure. An opening 303 to the pocket 304 is shown at a top, but it should be understood that the opening 303 may be on the sides, middle, bottom, or anywhere on the pocket, depending on embodiment. A closure (not shown) may be used to hold the pocket in a closed position. The closure may be any structure capable of holding the pocket opening 303 in a closed position.

A final embodiment of the invention is designed to protect wearers from radio frequency emissions from electronic devices supported by the system. To achieve this protection, the left and right cups are fabricated of a radio frequency protective material. The radio frequency protective material is fabricated of a blend of fabrics chosen from the class consisting of polyester and cotton and further including copper and silver. In one embodiment, the radio frequency protective material is fabricated of 78 percent of a blend of fabric chosen from the class consisting of polyester and cotton and further including 21 percent copper and 1 silver. In another embodiment, the radio frequency protective material is fabricated of 90 percent of a blend of fabric chosen from the class consisting of polyester and cotton and further including 9.5 percent copper and 0.5 silver.

As to the manner of usage and operation of the present invention, the same should be apparent from the above description. Accordingly, no further discussion relating to the manner of usage and operation will be provided.

With respect to the above description then, it is to be realized that the optimum dimensional relationships for the parts of the invention, to include variations in size, materials, shape, form, function and manner of operation, assembly and use, are deemed readily apparent and obvious to one skilled in the art, and all equivalent relationships to those illustrated in the drawings and described in the specification are intended to be encompassed by the present invention.

Therefore, the foregoing is considered as illustrative only of the principles of the invention. Further, since numerous modifications and changes will readily occur to those skilled in the art, it is not desired to limit the invention to the exact construction and operation shown and described, and accordingly, all suitable modifications and equivalents may be resorted to, falling within the scope of the invention.

PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the United States and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in another country must apply for a patent in a specific country or in regional patent offices. Applicants may wish to consider the filing of an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). An international (PCT) application generally has the same effect as a regular national patent application in each PCT-member country. The PCT process simplifies the filing of patent applications on the same invention in member countries, but does not result in a grant of "an international patent" and does not eliminate the need of applicants to file additional documents and fees in countries where patent protection is desired.

Almost every country has its own patent law, and a person desiring a patent in a particular country must make an application for patent in that country in accordance with its particular laws. Since the laws of many countries differ in various respects from the patent law of the United States, applicants are advised to seek guidance from specific foreign countries to ensure that patent rights are not lost prematurely.

Applicants also are advised that in the case of inventions made in the United States, the Director of the USPTO must issue a license before applicants can apply for a patent in a foreign country. The filing of a U.S. patent application serves as a request for a foreign filing license. The application's filing receipt contains further information and guidance as to the status of applicant's license for foreign filing.

Applicants may wish to consult the USPTO booklet, "General Information Concerning Patents" (specifically, the section entitled "Treaties and Foreign Patents") for more information on timeframes and deadlines for filing foreign patent applications. The guide is available either by contacting the USPTO Contact Center at 800-786-9199, or it can be viewed on the USPTO website at <http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/doc/general/index.html>.

For information on preventing theft of your intellectual property (patents, trademarks and copyrights), you may wish to consult the U.S. Government website, <http://www.stopfakes.gov>. Part of a Department of Commerce initiative, this website includes self-help "toolkits" giving innovators guidance on how to protect intellectual property in specific countries such as China, Korea and Mexico. For questions regarding patent enforcement issues, applicants may call the U.S. Government hotline at 1-866-999-HALT (1-866-999-4258).

LICENSE FOR FOREIGN FILING UNDER
Title 35, United States Code, Section 184
Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, 5.11 & 5.15

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce (15 CFR parts 730-774); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Notice of Pre-AIA or AIA Status

The present application, filed on or after March 16, 2013, is being examined under the first inventor to file provisions of the AIA.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112(b):

(b) CONCLUSION.—The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor regards as the invention.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112(b) or 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 1 applicant claims a “pocket bra” wherein the recitation is not clear since the modifying term of “pocket” before bra can have a meaning that it is a bra for a pocket wherein applicant’s invention is a bra having pockets or a pocketed bra.

In claim 2, lines 1-2 it is not clear as to how the “Cups and patches” form pockets since the cups were not previously claimed in claim 1 as having pockets. The pockets were only claimed on the chest strap. Therefore it is not clear as to how the cups have pockets. In claim 12 applicant claims a “button” closure. However, the complementary button hole necessary for the button to perform as a closure has not been claimed and is not clear.

However, the claims, as best understood, have been examined on their merits.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory double patenting rejection is appropriate where the claims at issue are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the reference application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement. A terminal disclaimer must be signed in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b).

The USPTO internet Web site contains terminal disclaimer forms which may be used. Please visit <http://www.uspto.gov/forms/>. The filing date of the application will determine what form should be used. A web-based eTerminal Disclaimer may be filled out completely online using web-screens. An eTerminal Disclaimer that meets all requirements is auto-processed and approved immediately upon submission. For more information about eTerminal Disclaimers, refer to <http://www.uspto.gov/patents/process/file/efs/guidance/eTD-info-I.jsp>.

Claims 1-19 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 8597072; claims 1-7 of US Patent Application 14/614873(US9289016) and 1-17 of US Patent Application 14/082777 now issued. Although the claims at issue are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they include the same brassiere structure with the side pockets on the chest strap(s).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a)(1) the claimed invention was patented, described in a printed publication, or in public use, on sale or otherwise available to the public before the effective filing date of the claimed invention.

Claims 1, 4, 5, 8, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102a1 as being anticipated by Sherwood (US 4699144)

Sherwood discloses a brassiere with a strap assembly with a chest strap 22 and left and right shoulder straps 40 and 52 and left and right cups 18, 20 as in figure 2

Constructed as claimed in claims 1 and 19. Sherwood also discloses the side patch on one of the inside or outside of the cup 62 that forms a pocket 60 as seen in figure 2-4 that is adjacent to one of the cups as claimed. Sherwood discloses the stitching 64 along the sides and the pocket is also stitched along the bottom edge (not numbered) as claimed and as seen in figure 3. The pocket as seen in figure 3 includes an upper opening that is capable of receiving an item therein all as claimed in claims 1 and 19. Placing a handheld electronic device within the pocket would be a matter of intended use and a wearer can place any item desired within the pocket to hold any such item desired as in claim 4. The upper edge of the side pocket is aligned with the top edge of the chest strap as claimed in claim 8 as seen in the figures. Line 46 of col. 5 discloses the underwire 58 as claimed as seen in the figures as claimed in claim 5. The cups each receive a breast as claimed in claim 18.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of MacLaren (US 7585200).

Sherwood discloses the brassiere structure as claimed except for the piping as in claim 15. MacLaren discloses the brassiere with piping as claimed. (See MacLaren figure 3 and piping edging at 220 and not numbered along the upper edge of the pocket in MacLaren. (See MacLaren, col. 2, lines 44-66). Accordingly it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the pocket edges to include the stretchable tricot piping of MacLaren to provide a smooth comfortable edge on the pocket so that it does not rub on the body of the wearer.

Claims 2,3 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Liu (US 2009/0104845).

In regard to claims 2 and 3, Sherwood discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the brassiere as being made of a polyurethane material of the claimed thicknesses. Liu discloses a bra constructed of a polyurethane neoprene material as claimed to provide padding to the cups that provides a natural look of a natural breast when worn. Accordingly it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill to construct the brassiere of Sherwood of polyurethane material as desired to provide a natural look to the wearer's breasts when worn. (See Liu, para.)156).. Finding the claims thickness would have been found through routine experimentation since it has been known to find a desired material parameter through routine experimentation to obtain the optimum benefit of that material for the claimed end use. Finding the claimed parameters through routine experimentation would be found easily since that parameter would provide the optimum level of comfort to the wearer in use.

Claims 7 and 11-14 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Gentry (US 20130288569).

Art Unit: 3765

Sherwood discloses the brassiere with the pocket substantially as claimed except for the closure structures as claimed in claims 7 and 11-14. Gentry discloses the pocket situated as claimed as in Gentry figure 5 at 505 and as discussed in para. (0033).

Accordingly it would have been an obvious modification to include the pocket closures as claimed in claims 7 and 11-14 to secure the contents of the pocket within the pocket as claimed.

Claim 17 is is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Schluskel (US 2610325).

Sherwood discloses the brassiere substantially as claimed and as discussed above in regard to claim 1 except for the center pocket that lies between the breast cups. Schluskel discloses the pocket 23 between the breast cups to hold any item a wearer desires. (See pocket 23 in figures 1-3 and col. 2, lines 1-29). Accordingly it would have been an obvious modification to include the center pocket to further hold any items as desired securely therein.

Claim 16 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Dockman(US 20130248064).

Sherwood discloses the brassiere substantially as claimed except the pocket as being of a radio frequency shielding material. Dockman discloses a pocket made of a radio frequency material as in para. (0023) and at 104 in figure 1. Accordingly, it would have been an obvious modification to use the radio frequency shielding material of Dockman to shield the wearer from such as claimed.

Claim 9 and 10 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Wollowick (US 20120276812 A1).

Sherwood discloses the brassiere and pocket located as claimed except for the flap to close the pocket.

Wollowick discloses a pocket with a flap 14 as in figure 4 that closes the pocket and secures any item within the pocket so that it does not fall out of the pocket. (See Wollowick, figure 4 and paras. (0034-0035).

Accordingly, it would have been an obvious modification to use a flap to secure the pocket in a more secure fashion to prevent items from falling therefrom.

Claim 6 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Wilson (US 6099382).

Sherwood discloses the brassiere structure as claimed except for the back panel structure with the central back area that is opposite of the two cups (At front panel 14) and two shoulder straps (20,22 in figure 3) and chest strap (16 in figures 1-4) joining at the central area (54 in figure 4) at back 18 as in figures 1-5 with a back pocket (44 in figures 4 and 5) at the central area (54) as claimed. (See Wilson, figures 1-4 and col. 2, line 61 – col. 3, lines 67). It would have been an obvious modification to include the rear panel and shoulder strap structure as claimed to provide more support to the wearer and a pocket to secure items as desired therein.

a strap assembly including a chest strap;

a left cup and a right cup, each cup being an area to receive a breast of a wearer having inside and outside surfaces, the strap assembly being attached to the cups whereby the strap assembly holds the cups to a wearer, with the chest strap extending from the left cup towards the wearer's back and extending from the right cup towards the wearer's back;

a side patch on one of an inside or outside surface of the chest strap adjacent to at least one of the left cup and right cups, the side patch having upper and lower edges along at least part of a length of the chest strap, and side edges, the side patch having stitching along the lower and side edges thus forming an upper opening such that ~~each~~ the side patch forms a pocket, the upper opening capable of repeated receiving and removal of an item when being worn by the wearer.

2. (Canceled)

3. (Canceled).

4. (Original) The bra of claim 1 and further including a handheld electronic device, the handheld electronic device placed within the side pocket.

5. (Canceled).

6. (Previously Presented) The bra of claim 1 wherein the strap assembly further comprises two shoulder straps, and a central area at a back of the strap assembly opposite to the left and right cups, the two shoulder straps and chest strap joining together at the central area, and further comprising a back pocket on the central area.

7. (Original) The bra of claim 1 wherein the side pocket further comprises a closure, the closure having a first part on the side of the chest strap, and a second part on the patch, the first part connectable to the second part to close the pocket.

8. (Original) The bra of claim 1 wherein the upper edge of the side patch is aligned with a top edge of the chest strap.

9. (Original) The bra of claim 1 further comprising a pocket flap, the pocket flap extending from the chest strap over the upper opening.

10. (Original) The bra of claim 9 further comprising a closure, the closure configured to connect the pocket flap to the side patch in a closed position.

11. (Currently Amended) The bra of claim [[10]] 7 wherein the closure is a hook and loop connector.

12. (Currently Amended) The bra of claim [[10]] 7 wherein the closure is a button and button hole.

13. (Currently Amended) The bra of claim [[10]] 7 wherein the closure is a snap fitting.

14. (Currently Amended) The bra of claim [[10]] 7 wherein the closure is a zipper.

15. (Original) The bra of claim 1 further comprising a piping attached to the upper edge of the side patch.

16. (Previously Presented) The bra of claim 1 wherein the bra is formed at least partially of a radio frequency shielding fabric.

17. (Previously Presented) The bra of claim 1 further comprising a central patch attached intermediate to the left and right cups, the central patch forming a central chamber pocket.

18. (Previously Presented) The bra of claim 1 wherein each cup is an area to receive a breast of a wearer.

19. (Currently Amended) A chest covering comprising:

a strap assembly including a chest strap;

a left cup and a right cup, each cup being an area to receive a breast of a wearer, and having inside and outside surfaces, the strap assembly being attached to the cups whereby the strap assembly holds the cups to a wearer, with the chest strap extending from the left cup towards the wearer's back and extending from the right cup towards the wearer's back;

a side patch on one of an inside or outside surface of the chest strap adjacent to at least one of the left cup and right cups, the side patch having upper and lower edges along at least part of a length of the chest strap, and side edges, the side patch having stitching along the lower and side edges thus forming an upper opening such that [[each]] the side patch forms a pocket, the upper opening capable of repeated receiving and removal of an item when being worn by the wearer.

Remarks

Applicant thanks the Office for the attention accorded to the present application in the September 9, 2016 Office Action. Claims 1-19 were pending in the subject application.

Without prejudice or disclaimer, claims 1, 11-14 and 19 have been amended and claims 2-3 and 5 have been cancelled. Upon entry of this amendment, claims 1, 4 and 6-19 will be pending in the present application.

The amendments to the claims are primarily to correct matters of form and/or clarity in response to the Office's recommendation. Applicant asserts that all claims are supported in the specification as originally filed. No new matter has been added.

The claim amendments and cancellations made herein are made solely to expedite prosecution of the instant application, and should not be construed as acquiescence to the Office's rejections. Applicant reserves the right to pursue the cancelled and/or non-elected subject matter in one or more divisional or continuation applications.

Applicant respectfully traverses all rejections and asserts that the claims are now in condition for allowance.

Rejection based 35 U.S.C. §112, Second Paragraph

In the present Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 1-15 under 35 U.S.C. §112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention. In response, Applicant has herein amended claims 1 and 12, and has cancelled claim 2. As such, Applicant respectfully asserts that the 35 U.S.C. 112 rejections are now moot, and Applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner remove the rejection.

Double Patenting

Claims 1-19 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 8597072; claims 1-7 of US Patent Application 14/614873(US9289016) and 1-17 of US Patent Application 14/082777.

Without acceding to the propriety of the rejection, Applicant asserts that the amendments to claim 1 and claims depending therefrom distinguishes from the cited patents and patent application. As such, Applicant asserts that the double patenting rejection is now moot, and respectfully requests that Examiner remove this ground of rejection.

35 U.S.C. 102 Rejections

In the present Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 1, 4, 5, 8, 18 and 19 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sherwood (US 4699144).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claims 1 and 19 to further clarify from Sherwood. Specifically, Sherwood does not teach a pocket having an upper opening capable of repeated receiving and removal of an item when the bra is being worn by the wearer. Instead, Sherwood teaches a mastectomy bra, which can be custom made with padding in a side band of the bra to compensate for any removed tissue on a side of a torso, providing a continuous contour about the wearer's torso. This is discussed in Sherwood at Col. 5 line 53- Col. 6 line 19. Specifically, Sherwood states that its pocket must be closed permanently once the bra is custom fitted. This permanent closure is explained at Col. 6 lines 5-6: "Thereafter, the entrance 60 may be stitched or otherwise secured closed to enclose the material therein" (emphasis added). Therefore, Sherwood does not teach a pocket capable of repeatedly being used to hold items, but instead merely teaches a region in which padding can be placed and then permanently secured. Importantly, this is made more clear by the requirement of claims 1 and 19 that the pocket be capable of repeated receiving and removal of items when the bra is being worn by the user. As such, Applicant respectfully asserts that Sherwood does not teach the side pocket of claims 1 and 19.

As such, Applicant respectfully asserts that the 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection based on Sherwood is overcome, and respectfully requests that the Examiner remove this rejection.

Rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a)

The Examiner has rejected claim 15 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sherwood (US 4699144) in view of Maclaren (US 7585200).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claim 15 depends. Maclaren does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Sherwood. Therefore, the combination of references does not establish a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Thus, Applicant respectfully asserts that claim 15 is now patentably distinguished from Sherwood in view of Maclaren. Applicant further asserts that these claims are now in condition for allowance.

In the present Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 2 and 3 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sherwood (US 4699144) in view of Liu (US 2009/0104845).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has cancelled claims 2-3 and to clarify the inventions contemplated therein. Applicant respectfully asserts that the rejection of claims 2 and 3 is moot.

The Examiner has rejected claims 7 and 11-14 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sherwood (US 4699144) in view of Gentry (US 20130288569).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claims 7 and 11-14 depend. Gentry does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Sherwood. Therefore, the combination of references does not establish a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Thus, Applicant respectfully asserts that claims 7 and 11-14 are now patentably distinguished from Sherwood in view of Gentry. Applicant further asserts that these claims are now in condition for allowance.

Conclusion

Applicant again thanks the Office for the attention accorded to the present Application in the September 9, 2016 office action. Applicant has herein amended claims 1, 11-14 and 19 and cancelled claims 2-3 and 5. Applicant asserts that based on the amendments and comments presented herein, all of the pending claims are in condition for allowance. Early and favorable action is respectfully requested.

The Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned, Applicant's attorney of record, to facilitate advancement of the present application.

Respectfully submitted,

/David J. Connaughton, Jr./

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112(b):

(b) CONCLUSION.—The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor regards as the invention.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1,4 and 6-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112(b) or 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 12-13, it is not clear as to what structure allows for the function as claimed of “the upper opening capable of repeated receiving and removal of an item when being worn by the wearer.” Applicant has not added any additional structural limitations to the claim that allows for the function as claimed and discussed above.

Also in claim 4, the placement of a handheld electronic device does not appear to be part of the “pocketed bra” invention since applicant has not claimed the bra and device in combination in the preamble of claim 1. Therefore it is not clear if applicant is claiming the bra and device in combination or if it is just the intended use of the pocket. The device is not structurally a part of the pocket therefore it is considered to be only an intended use of the pocket to hold such a device.

Claim 18 is now unclear and indefinite in that the subject matter of claim 18 has now been added to line 3 of claim 1. Therefore, claim 18 is now redundant and does not further limit the claim 1 that it depends from and should be canceled.

Claim 19, last two lines, renders the claim indefinite and unclear for the same reasons as discussed in regard to claim 1 in regard to the “repeated receiving and removal of an item when being worn on the wearer”. Applicant has not added any further limitations in regard to any additional structural elements or limitations that allow for the function as claimed therein as discussed above in regard to claim 1.

However, the claims, as best understood, have been examined on their merits.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on nonstatutory double patenting provided the reference application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with the examined application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement. See MPEP § 717.02 for applications subject to examination under the first inventor to file provisions of the AIA as explained in MPEP § 2159. See MPEP §§ 706.02(l)(1) - 706.02(l)(3) for applications not subject to examination under the first inventor to file provisions of the AIA. A terminal disclaimer must be signed in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b).

The USPTO Internet website contains terminal disclaimer forms which may be used. Please visit www.uspto.gov/patent/patents-forms. The filing date of the application in which the form is filed determines what form (e.g., PTO/SB/25, PTO/SB/26, PTO/AIA/25, or PTO/AIA/26) should be used. A web-based eTerminal Disclaimer may be filled out completely online using web-screens. An eTerminal Disclaimer that meets all requirements is auto-processed and approved immediately upon submission. For more information about eTerminal Disclaimers, refer to www.uspto.gov/patents/process/file/efs/guidance/eTD-info-I.jsp.

Claims 1, 4 and 6-19 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 9289016 and claims 1-17 and especially claims 5 and 7 of U. S. Patent No. 9295288. Although the claims at issue are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims claim the same brassiere structure with the side strap and pocket therein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Claims 1, 4, 8, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102a1 as being anticipated by Boatright et al (US 2011/0244758).

Boatright et al discloses a brassiere 104 in figure 5A with a strap assembly 112A, 112B with a chest strap 112A, 112B and left and right shoulder straps 116 A and 116 B and left and right cups 108A, 108 B in figure 5A constructed as claimed in claims 1 and 19 . Boatright et al also discloses the side patch on one of the inside or outside of the cup 108 A, 108B that forms a pocket 120A, B as seen in figure 2-4 that is adjacent to one of the cups as claimed. Boatright et al discloses the stitching not numbered at 120 A in figure 5C along the sides and the pocket is also stitched along the bottom edge(not numbered) as claimed and as seen in figure 5C as stated in paragraph 0044, 0045 and 0049. The pocket as seen in figure 5c includes a side opening but paragraph (0047) discusses an upper opening 128s that is capable of receiving an item therein all as claimed in claims 1 and 19. Placing a handheld electronic device within the pocket would be a matter of intended use and a wearer can place any item desired within the pocket to hold any such item desired as in claim 4. The upper edge of the side pocket is aligned with the top edge of the chest strap as claimed in claim 8 as seen in the figures in that the term "aligned" as broadly interpreted means that it follows the same linear line, parallel thereto and does not mean that it is lying directly over the same edge line. The cups each receive a breast as claimed in claim 18.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Boatright et al as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of MacLaren(US 7585200) . Boatright et al discloses the brassiere structure as claimed except for the piping as in claim 15. MacLaren discloses the brassiere with piping as claimed. (See MacLaren figure 3 and piping edging at 220 and not numbered along the upper edge of the pocket in MacLaren. (See MacLaren, col. 2, lines 44-66). Accordingly it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the pocket edges to include the stretchable tricot piping of MacLaren to provide a smooth comfortable edge on the pocket so that it does not rub on the body of the wearer.

Claims 7 and 11-14 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Gentry (US 20130288569).

Boatright et al discloses the brassiere with the pocket substantially as claimed except for the closure structures as claimed in claims 7 and 11-14. Gentry discloses the pocket situated as claimed as in Gentry figure 5 at 505 and as discussed in para. (0033).

Accordingly it would have been an obvious modification to include the pocket closures as claimed in claims 7 and 11-14 to secure the contents of the pocket within the pocket as claimed.

Claim 17 is is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Schlusel (US 2610325).

Boatright et al discloses the brassiere substantially as claimed and as discussed above in regard to claim 1 except for the center pocket that lies between the breast cups. Schlusel discloses the pocket 23 between the breast cups to hold any item a wearer desires. (See pocket 23 in figures 1-3 and col. 2, lines 1-29). Accordingly it would have been an obvious modification to include the center pocket to further hold any items as desired securely therein.

Claim 16 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Dockman(US 20130248064).

Boatright et al discloses the brassiere substantially as claimed except the pocket as being of a radio frequency shielding material. Dockman discloses a pocket made of a radio frequency material as in para. (0023) and at 104 in figure 1. Accordingly, it would have been an obvious modification to use the radio frequency shielding material of Dockman to shield the wearer from such as claimed.

Claim 9 and 10 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Wollowick (US 20120276812 A1).

Boatright et al discloses the brassiere and pocket located as claimed except for the flap to close the pocket.

Wollowick discloses a pocket with a flap 14 as in figure 4 that closes the pocket and secures any item within the pocket so that it does not fall out of the pocket. (See Wollowick, figure 4 and paras. (0034-0035).

Accordingly, it would have been an obvious modification to use a flap to secure the pocket in a more secure fashion to prevent items from falling therefrom.

Boatright et al Claim 6 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Sherwood in view of Wilson (US 6099382).

Boatright et al discloses the brassiere structure as claimed except for the back panel structure with the central back area that is opposite of the two cups (At front panel 14) and two shoulder straps (20,22 in figure 3) and chest strap (16 in figures 1-4) joining at the central area (54 in figure 4) at back 18 as in figures 1-5 with a back pocket (44 in figures 4 and 5) at the central area (54) as claimed. (See Wilson, figures 1-4 and col. 2, line 61 – col. 3, lines 67). It would have been an obvious modification to include the rear panel and shoulder strap structure as claimed to provide more support to the wearer and a pocket to secure items as desired therein.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 , 4, 8 , 18 and 19 have been considered but are moot because the arguments do not apply to any of the references being used in the current rejection. The newly found prior art reference of Boatwright discloses the side panel pocket that has a top opening as discussed above in the rejections of claims 1, 4, 8, 18 and 19.

The new amendment to the claims does not define the structure that performs the newly claimed function.

The Double Patenting Rejection to the listed related patents stand since they claim the same pocket structures as in applicant's present application.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Remarks

Applicant thanks the Office for the attention accorded to the present application in the February 21, 2017 Office Action. Claims 1, 4, and 6-19 were pending in the subject application.

Without prejudice or disclaimer, claims 1, 4, 6-17, and 19 have been amended and claims 20 and 21 have been added. Upon entry of this amendment, claims 1, 4, 6-17, 19, and 20-21 will be pending in the present application.

The amendments to the claims are primarily to correct matters of form and/or clarity in response to the Office's recommendation. Applicant asserts that all claims are supported in the specification as originally filed. No new matter has been added.

The claim amendments and cancellations made herein are made solely to expedite prosecution of the instant application, and should not be construed as acquiescence to the Office's rejections. Applicant reserves the right to pursue the cancelled and/or non-elected subject matter in one or more divisional or continuation applications.

Applicant respectfully traverses all rejections and asserts that the claims are now in condition for allowance.

Rejection based 35 U.S.C. §112, Second Paragraph

In the present Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 1, 4, and 6-19 under 35 U.S.C. §112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention. In response, Applicant has herein amended claims 1, 4, and 19, and canceled claim 18, to clarify the invention contemplated within. Specifically regarding the upper opening limitation, Applicant respectfully notes that the capability of repeated receiving and removal of an item when being worn by the wearer clarifies the structure of the opening in that it remains an opening when worn by the wearer. This is in contrast to some prior art which requires the opening to be permanently stitched closed before wearing by a user. Accordingly, this functional limitation clarifies the structural requirement of the opening as a permanent opening and definitively structurally distinguishes from the prior art. As such, Applicant respectfully asserts that the 35 U.S.C. 112 rejections are now moot, and Applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner remove the rejection.

Double Patenting

Claims 1, 4, and 6-19 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 8597072; claims 1-7 of US Patent Application 14/614873(US9289016) and 1-17 of US Patent Application 14/082777.

Without acceding to the propriety of the rejection, Applicant asserts that the amendments to claims 1 and 19, and claims depending therefrom distinguish from the cited patents and patent application. As such, Applicant asserts that the double patenting rejection is now moot, and respectfully requests that Examiner remove this ground of rejection.

35 U.S.C. 102 Rejections

In the present Office Action, the Examiner rejected claims 1, 4, 8, 18 and 19 under 35 U.S.C. 102(a)(1) as being anticipated by Boatright et al (US 2011/0244758).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claims 1 and 19 to further clarify from Boatright et al.. Specifically, Applicant respectfully asserts that Boatright does not teach the side patch upper edge lying along a same edge line as at least a portion of a top edge of the chest strap. This can be clearly seen in Boatright Figs. 5(a)-(d). Thus, Applicant respectfully asserts that Boatright does not anticipate the invention of claim 1.

As such, Applicant respectfully asserts that the 35 U.S.C. 102(a)(1) rejection based on Boatright is overcome, and respectfully requests that the Examiner remove this rejection.

Rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a)

The Examiner has rejected claim 15 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boatright in view of Maclaren (US 7585200).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claim 15 depends. Maclaren does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Boatright. Therefore, the combination of references does not establish a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Thus, Applicant respectfully asserts that claim 15 is now patentably distinguished from Boatright in view of Maclaren. Applicant further asserts that this claim is now in condition for allowance.

The Examiner has rejected claims 7 and 11-14 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boatright (US 4699144) in view of Gentry (US 20130288569).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claims 7 and 11-14 depend. Gentry does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Boatright. Therefore, the combination of references does not establish a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Thus, Applicant respectfully asserts that claims 7 and 11-14 are now patentably distinguished from Boatright in view of Gentry. Applicant further asserts that these claims are now in condition for allowance.

The Examiner has rejected claims 17 under 35 U.S.C 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Schluskel (US 2610325).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claim 17 depends. Schluskel does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Boatright. Therefore the combination of references does not form a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C 103(a), and thus Applicant asserts that this claim is patentably distinguished from the combination of Boatright and Schluskel. Applicant further asserts that these claims are now in condition for allowance.

The Examiner has rejected claims 16 under 35 U.S.C 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boatright et al in view of Dockman (US 20130248064).

Without prejudice or disclaimer, Applicant has amended claim 1, from which claim 16 depends. Dockman does not teach the elements of claim 1 that are missing from Boatright. Therefore the combination of references does not form a prima facie case of obviousness under 35 U.S.C 103(a), and thus Applicant asserts that this claim is patentably distinguished from the combination of Boatright and Dockman. Applicant further asserts that these claims are now in condition for allowance.

Comments on Newly Added Claims

Applicant has added new claims 20 and 21 which are believed to even further distinguish from the prior art. Regarding claim 20, none of the prior art teaches “wherein the lower edge of the side patch is lying along a same edge line as a bottom edge of the chest strap” in addition to the other claim elements of claim 1, nor would it be obvious to modify any of the prior art to have this claimed structure. Regarding claim 21, none of the prior art teaches “wherein a front side edge of the side patch abuts an edge of the at least one of the left cup and the right cup, the pocket extending to the edge of the at least one of the left cup and the right cup” in addition to the other elements of claim 1, nor would it be obvious to modify any of the prior art to have this claimed structure.

Conclusion

Applicant again thanks the Office for the attention accorded to the present Application in the February 21, 2017 office action. Applicant has herein amended claims 1, 4, 6-17 and 19, and added claims 20 and 21. Applicant asserts that based on the amendments and comments presented herein, all of the pending claims are in condition for allowance. Early and favorable action is respectfully requested.

The Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned, Applicant’s attorney of record, to facilitate advancement of the present application.

Respectfully submitted,

/David J. Connaughton, Jr./

Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (Applications filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The Office has discontinued providing a Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) calculation with the Notice of Allowance.

Section 1(h)(2) of the AIA Technical Corrections Act amended 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(3)(B)(i) to eliminate the requirement that the Office provide a patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. See Revisions to Patent Term Adjustment, 78 Fed. Reg. 19416, 19417 (Apr. 1, 2013). Therefore, the Office is no longer providing an initial patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. The Office will continue to provide a patent term adjustment determination with the Issue Notification Letter that is mailed to applicant approximately three weeks prior to the issue date of the patent, and will include the patent term adjustment on the patent. Any request for reconsideration of the patent term adjustment determination (or reinstatement of patent term adjustment) should follow the process outlined in 37 CFR 1.705.

Any questions regarding the Patent Term Extension or Adjustment determination should be directed to the Office of Patent Legal Administration at (571)-272-7702. Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at 1-(888)-786-0101 or (571)-272-4200.

OMB Clearance and PRA Burden Statement for PTOL-85 Part B

The Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) of 1995 requires Federal agencies to obtain Office of Management and Budget approval before requesting most types of information from the public. When OMB approves an agency request to collect information from the public, OMB (i) provides a valid OMB Control Number and expiration date for the agency to display on the instrument that will be used to collect the information and (ii) requires the agency to inform the public about the OMB Control Number's legal significance in accordance with 5 CFR 1320.5(b).

The information collected by PTOL-85 Part B is required by 37 CFR 1.311. The information is required to obtain or retain a benefit by the public which is to file (and by the USPTO to process) an application. Confidentiality is governed by 35 U.S.C. 122 and 37 CFR 1.14. This collection is estimated to take 12 minutes to complete, including gathering, preparing, and submitting the completed application form to the USPTO. Time will vary depending upon the individual case. Any comments on the amount of time you require to complete this form and/or suggestions for reducing this burden, should be sent to the Chief Information Officer, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450. DO NOT SEND FEES OR COMPLETED FORMS TO THIS ADDRESS. SEND TO: Commissioner for Patents, P.O. Box 1450, Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450. Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a valid OMB control number.
