Warranty & Support

Amazon.com Return Policy: You may return any new computer purchased from Amazon.com that is "dead on arrival," arrives in damaged condition, or is still in unopened boxes, for a full refund within 30 days of purchase. Amazon.com reserves the right to test "dead on arrival" returns and impose a customer fee equal to 15 percent of the product sales price if the customer misrepresents the condition of the product. Any returned computer that is damaged through customer misuse, is missing parts, or is in unsellable condition due to customer tampering will result in the customer being charged a higher restocking fee based on the condition of the product. Amazon.com will not accept returns of any desktop or notebook computer more than 30 days after you receive the shipment. New, used, and refurbished products purchased from Marketplace vendors are subject to the returns policy of the individual vendor.

★★★★☆ Love the Viewsonic VX-2000

Reviewed in the United States on September 21, 2013

Verified Purchase

I bought a Viewsonic VX-2000 to match my existing monitor so I could setup dual screens. The monitor was in good shape but was missing a cover on the back of the monitor. When I emailed the seller (twice) afterward to ask about it I didn't receive any response which is why I'm only giving 4 stars instead of 5. Overall happy with the purchase though.

This review is not for the monitor - I'm sure it's nice. However, the "24 shipping" is total BS. I ordered on the 7th and PAID FOR one-day shipping. It's now the 10th and I haven't gotten the monitor. According to Amazon's website, I should expect it on the 12th. That seems to be 5-day shipping, so why did I get charged for one?

★★★★★ VX2000 by viewsonic

Reviewed in the United States on December 6, 2003

This monitor is awesome you will be pleased with the crisp picture and 170 degree viewable range. I can view this monitor no matter where I am sitting in the room with no loss visually from any direction. I had a 17" crt monitor before I bought this monitor. This monitor is better than my old 17". I also watch tv on the vx2000 monitor through my computer and it performs flawlessly. My monitor is currently plugged up via the analogue port not the DVI port. I have not noticed any loss in visual acquity. Images are sharp, crisp, and clear just amazing. Looks great in bright light too. What I mean is there is no fading of picture in bright light. I don't use the speakers because my computer is connected through my surround sound stearo system. My guess is the speakers perform somewhere in the range of speakers that would normally accompany a new computer now days. I love this new monitor. If you are in the market looking for a new monitor at a good price This is a good monitor to go with. The screen does not tilt, landscape to portrait, like the vp201m does, but everything else is just as awesome. You can not seperate the monitor from the stand. The dot pitch on this monitor is a crisp .255. If you are in the market for a new monitor check to be sure the monitor you are about to purchase has 170 degree viewalbe it does make a huge, huge differece in viewable injoyment. The 600:1 vs. 700:1 contrast is not enough to notice or distiguish for your average

★★★★☆ nice monitor, nothing extras

Reviewed in the United States on October 28, 2002

the vx2000 is clearer and brighter than my 21" viewsonic CRT at work. my 1600x1200 linux desktop is easily visible, even in bright daylight. my laptop lcd pales by comparison, as do most CRTs.
this monitor weighs less than all of the other 20" lcd's, but is well balanced and does not dislodge easily. the base lifts the image about 6" above the desk surface (think about that if you like to stack your monitor on top of your desktop computer case).
to connect your vga, dvi, 1/8" mic, and 1/8" audio cables, the back cover of the vx2000 must be pried off. the back cover is pathetically cheap for such an otherwise high-end product, -- there's not even a diagram in the printed or electronic user's guide showing how to remove the delicate plastic pieces. be careful.
the speakers and microphone work as advertised, but i'm frequently muting the monitor speakers (convenient dedicated button for this) and putting on a headset to get better sound.
if you use x-windows to zoom resolutions, you'll want to stick to viewsonic's advertised resolutions for the vx2000. even at the supported dimensions, the monitor takes a lengthy pause to 'autoadjust' at each change of resolution (at least with the analog video card i am presently using).
one more thing worth noting is that loud, high-pitched chirp from the vx2000 monitor's on-screen controls can be silenced via the setup menu -> touch tone option.

★★★★☆ A monitor worth buying.. if you know what to use it for

Reviewed in the United States on November 8, 2004

This monitor is very spacious and looks beautiful. I enjoy using it, but there are a few objections i have, including the following:

~It has a 20ms response, so there is ghosting when i play fast paced games.

~It has a very squarish look, not great for multitasking, and you can almost fit two pages side by side, something that would have been a lot more helpful when i do my homework and projects.

~DVI connection... works great.. only after my windows boots, and the booting is over (quite fast for my rig =P)

I miss the Windows XP boot screens, which i have customized myself with skins.

On a more POSITIVE note!!

★★★★★ BEST LCD Monitor on the planet today !!!

Reviewed in the United States on November 3, 2003

Since I got this monitor home and hooked it up to my GeForce4 with DVI input and set the "reccommended" display setting to 1600X1200. I was absolutely blown away by the graphics quality of this monitor. I have played games, DVD movies and online videos. All, are superb. Are you a game nut? This is the LCD monitor for you. I just played my purchased copy of "Call of Duty". AMAZING game but most of all, AMAZING monitor. The colors were rich, clear and precise. No fading or distortion af any kind. I bought this monitor on eBay for a much better price. But, it's well worth forking over the list price that you see for sale online. What a monitor!!! I've been looking at LCD's for quite some time now. I finally found one that blew me away. Go buy one...it's worth it!!!
