NEUTROGENA HYDRO BOOST WATER GEL SPF 15 & HYDRO BOOST NIGHT CONCENTRATE – REVIEW

December 15, 2014 by Tried and Tested Blogger in Product Reviews & Swatches

Hi everyone,

I first heard rave reviews of these products from Olivia (who has sadly recently left Beautyheaven) a few months ago when I was lucky enough to meet her! She was raving about the Neutrogena Hydro Boost line and just how well it worked for her skin so when I was given the opportunity to trial some products from the line, I jumped at the chance.

The Neutrogena Hydro Boost line is the first line from the brand to contain 'highly purified Hyaluronic Acid'. Hyaluronic Acid has really been one of the 'it' ingredients of the year as its able to hold 1000 times its weight in water which not only allows for more effective hydration of the skin but it then also leads to a overall better texture and complexion of the skin. The products follow a 3 step philosophy of Replenish (lost moisture), Rebuild (the skin's natural protective shield) and Release (intense, long lasting hydration).

The Neutrogena Hydro Boost Water Gel SPF 15 is the day cream/moisturiser from the line. Together with Hyaluronic Acid, Olive Extract is also a key ingredient used in the formula to provide the skin with hydration and 'up to 5 times more moisture to dry skin over 24hrs.' The inclusion of an SPF of 15 UVA/UVB is great because it means that if you forget to apply sunscreen one morning, you can be confident that you do have at least some sun protection through this product. The packaging is very sleek but solid at the same time and comes with a pump dispenser, making application easy. The Water Gel itself is tinted a light blue shade and has a very lovely, light scent. Its super light gel like texture means that only does the product blend onto the skin very easily but it absorbs into the skin incredibly fast and a little really does go a long way!

BRANDBACKER

The Neutrogena Hydro Boost Night Concentrate comes housed in a pot with a screw on lid. The product features a Progressive Release System of technology that releases moisture 'continuously for a full 24 hours' to replenish the skin's hydration levels as you sleep. Another interesting feature of this Night Concentrate is that it contains Vitamin E enriched beads which burst as you apply the cream to your skin. Like the Water Gel, the texture is a very light gel cream and it also shares the lovely light scent and blue tint to the product. This is an amazing product to use at night as it leaves your skin looking and feeling amazing when you wake up!

After over 6 weeks of use, I think these are one of the best moisturisers I've tried this year! Whilst it is very light on the skin texture wise, it provides so much hydration to the skin and leaves it soft and supple as well as combating any dry skin you may have. When applied, they have a slight cooling effect which is quite refreshing on the skin and you only need a small amount of each product per application because a little goes a long way. The product is so light that it just glides onto the skin and leaves absolutely no residue as its absorbed almost instantly and nor does it cause your face to look oily thanks to it's oil free formula. Overall, they really delivers not only the hydration front but it visibly improve the complexion of the skin, leaving it smooth and plump as well as giving the skin an 'inner glow' and a healthier appearance. I would highly recommend the 2 products above!

The Neutrogena Hydro Boost range which contains 4 products in total can be purchased from Priceline and other Neutrogena Stockists. Both the Water Gel SPF 15 and Night Concentrate retail for $24.99.

I love to keep my hyaluronic acid products in the fridge, it makes them soooo soothing and refreshing on hot summer days and is the perfect way to relieve sun scorched skin.

Thanks for the tip, that actually sounds amazing! I will have to do that on hot Summer days!

Oh wow, these sound amazing! I'm really drawn to the packaging haha, it looks very sleek and cool. But yeah, these sound really hydrating but not heavy at all! Would love to give them a go.

I'm wanting to try these. I already have the eye gel. It's a little bit underwhelming (I haven't seen any difference in the last 3 weeks) but have higher hopes for the rest of the range.

I haven't tried the eye gel but that's disappointing! Definitely try these two products out though, they really do work so well. Shame the whole line isn't as amazing!

I'm currently using the night concentrate and it's working wonders to my flakiness! How is the spf hydro boost is under makeup? I hear it's non-spf counterpart doesn't perform too well. And because of the spf, would that mean it gives you white cast from flash photography? Great review! Thanks!

 Tried and Tested Blogger September 20, 2015 at 10:34 PM · Reply --

I found it to have no issues under makeup. On my normal-dry skintype it didn't affect application or longevity of the makeup's wear time (probably because my skin just soaked up the moisturiser) and I don't think I had any issue with a flashback/whitecast situation in photos. The SPF level is pretty low in this product so it shouldn't cause any issues 😊

High Sierra: All American BackPacks (Cosplay Mania '11 & Asian Pop Expo 2011)

I had a two-day makeup gig with High Sierra at the SMX Convention Center last October 1-2. The event was Cosplay Mania 2011. My models were dressed up as Sailor Moon-ish characters and I was asked to give them makeup looks which would brighten up their faces.

Haul (Brow Pencils, Makeup Remover, Rabito iPhone Case, Protein Shake)

Hi everyone! Remember my "Day in The Life of Say" video last Thursday? I made a haul video out of it. I just picked up a few stuff I needed and wanted to try out.

 IMG_5238

First Stop: Etude House

- Easy Brow Pencil in Dark Brown PHP 128.00
- Eye and Lip Makeup Remover PHP 198.00

Second Stop: Department Store

- Ever Bilena Kleopatra Brow Pencil in Dark Down PHP 55.00 (not in photo)

Third Stop: Healthy Options

- Spiru-Tein Cookies and Cream Protein Shake PHP 99.00

Fourth Stop: FireWyre (SM City Manila Cyberzone, across SamSung Lower GF)

• FireWyre PHP 150.00

• Rabito iPhone 4 Case PHP 150.00

I also went to the Supermarket and bought dog food + Mandarin Oranges from Dole.

In other stores, they sell the Rabito case for freaking 450.00! So be sure to go to FireWyre and get it for only 150! The protein shake is very yummy—I didn't have milk to mix it with, so I used water; great taste! They also have a lot of flavors available (you can see it in my Day in The Life of Say video embedded below) I'll be making demos using the brow pencils soon!

Ask Say Week 7

 Snapshot 1 (10-15-2011 1-27 AM)

Hey everyone!

Here is the 7th episode of "Ask Say". The video is quite longer than usual since I went in-depth with answering some of the questions that were sent in. I have embedded the videos below so don't forget to check them out! I just had to make a separate video for the bloopers—hope you get a good laugh & realize that filming in a house with 8 dogs gets crazy most of the time.

Enjoy!

SAYTIOCOARTILLERO First Makeup Guru in the Philippines to be Featured on STYLEHAUL

 The Haul

My feature on StyleHaul is finally here! They picked my Mila Kunis Inspired Look to be included in the Oct. 12th episode of "The Haul".

It's such an honor to be the first makeup guru in the Philippines to be featured in StyleHaul! I never really thought it would be possible.

Thank you so much to everyone who has subscribed and those who have been supporting me since the very beginning!

I am deeply humbled and thankful!

Cher Lloyd ft. Mike Posner "With Ur Love" Makeup Tutorial

 HPIM3521

Hello everyone!

Here is another celebrity-inspired makeup look tutorial for you guys. I don't know about you, but I've loved Cher Lloyd ever since I watched her on The X Factor. Remember her "Turn My Swag On" performance which floored Simon? Cher is totally amazing. I was checking out new videos on YouTube the other day (which explains my Jessie J "Nobody's Perfect" tutorial before this) and I came across Cher Lloyd's own music videos! I instantly fell in love with her songs and not to mention, her gorgeous makeup looks! She exudes nothing but confidence, and as they say—swag.

So here is my version of Cher Lloyd's look in her music video "With Ur Love" featuring the sexy Mike Posner (I'm such a fan!) You can click here to be directed to the music video or scroll down to the end of this post for the embedded video.

Here are some screen caps I took for the peg:

 cher1

 And yes, I did make the effort to at least match the colors of my outfit in this tutorial to Cher's in the music video—it's all about character-playing.

Now moving on to the tutorial:

1. Conceal imperfections (LuLu Makeup Concealer in Light)
2. Apply foundation (Revlon PhotoReady Makeup in Medium Beige 006)
3. Set with powder (Maybelline Clear Smooth All in One Powder Foundation in Honey)
4. Create strong brows (Nichido GNO Blackest Black Eye Pencil *I used black to match Cher's, but given the color of my hair, I know it looks pretty weird—you can use dark brown, instead)
5. Apply a black base on lids (Nichido GNO Blackest Black Eye Pencil *spread this all over you lids using a brush—fade out the edges)
6. Apply black eyeshadow over the black base (MAC "Beauty Marked" E/S *blend through, create a smoked out effect from the crease outward)
7. Line your upper and lower lashline, tightline your eyes (Nichido GNO Blackest Black Eye Pencil *line the inner corners of your eyes, as well to get that full cat-eye effect)
8. Smudge out the black liner with a brush.
9. Curl lashes and apply mascara (Elf Mechanical Lash Curler & Maybelline Hypercurl Volum'Express Mascara)
10. Apply 2 layers of faux lashes for each eye (lashes from my own business + Aldo lash adhesive *if you have fuller and more voluminous lashes available, use them. I used two lashes on each eye to capture the volume of Cher's in the video)
11. Contour cheeks (Fanny Serrano 2-Way Cake in Rajah)
12. Apply blush (MAC Pink Swoon)
13. Apply a nude lip color (Revlon Matte Lipstick in Nude Attitude)
14. Top off with clear lip gloss (ELF Hypershine Lip Gloss)

For the hair, I basically curled mine using my Babyliss iPRO200 25mm barrel and gathered them all in one side—just to mimic Cher's 'do sans the shaved part of the head.

Here are some photos from this makeup look:

I hope you enjoyed!

Jessie J-Nobody's Perfect Makeup Tutorial

 To fully appreciate this look, please watch this video first (fast-forward to 2:51). The link will lead you to Jessie J's official music video for her song "Nobody's Perfect".

I could not find a high-quality shot of this particular look from the video in the internet, so I took the liberty to just take a screen-cap. Jessie J's "Nobody's Perfect" music video contained a lot of great, artistic looks and this was the one which really caught my attention.

There is no doubt that Jessie J is such a talented person. I've loved her ever since Price Tag! This tutorial is not the exact copy of what Jessie wore in the video, but I honestly studied her look countless of times and even took down notes before doing this tutorial. I hope you enjoy, and maybe you could also consider dressing up as Jessie for Halloween!

 yes

1. I started off with concealing blemishes and dark circles using my LuLu Makeup Concealer in Light.
 2. I loaded my Marionnaud N32 Blush Brush with my James Cooper Cream Foundation 04 and blended [the concealer & foundation itself] everything on my face.
 3. I set my concealer+foundation with my Maybelline Clear Smooth All in One Shine Free Cake Foundation (re-fill pan) in Honey.
 4. Jessie J had black brows in the look, so I took my Nichido GNO liner in Blackest Black and lightly, with feathery strokes, filled in my brows.
 5. Taking my Megaga Brow Brush, I blended the color into the brows to make them look more natural.
 6. I mixed a gold and a silver eyeshadow shade and used this color combination to contour the uppermost sides of the nosebridge, sweeping inward to the inner thirds of the lids and the corners of the eyes. Do both sides.
 7. I took a gray eyeshadow shade and applied this all over my lids; towards the end, I creates a tail, sweep outward for a soft finish. *You might need to protect your cheeks from fallout
 8. From the end of the tail of the cateye, line down to the inner corners of the lower lashline.
 9. I took a gunmetal green eyeshadow and lined the lower lashline up to the end of the cateye tail.
 10. Next, I used an angled brush and loaded it up with black eyeshadow. I drew a claw-like shape on my lids. (Watch the video for the demo)
 11. The second claw should fade out to the tail of the cateye.
 12. Fill in the claw after lining.
 13. I lined my eyes using my Fanny Serrano Gel Liner and Marionnaud N38 Brush
 14. Taking my Elf Black Pencil, I tightlined my upper lashline and lined my inner rims.
 15. Curled my lashes and applied mascara+faux lashes
 16. Glue on paper lashes on your lower lashline *I did mine by cutting a black piece of paper—I got the right one good, but the left looked pretty messed up. I glued them on using eyelash adhesive.
 17. Remember to NOT glue the inner flaps *Jessie J didn't have hers that way
 18. You may opt to apply a gunmetal green-shaded lash shadow on the paper lashes if you want to, but it's not entirely necessary.
 19. Jessie wore a matte fuchsia-ish lip color, but I used a glossy one since I did not have any matte available to use.
 20. Lastly, tie your hair back and spray hairs down to give you the sleekest-looking 'do.

Here are photos from the tutorial:

Gifts from Krysha: Benefit, Bath & Body Works, Wet N Wild

It's rare to find genuinely nice people on the internet, but I'm very proud to say that I found Krysha (MissKPM67 in YouTube). She fits the definition perfectly. We became friends online because she also does makeup tutorials (and also covers of songs). I honestly liked her the moment I watched one of her haul videos! And don't even get me started with her awesome blog—it's very photo-heavy and clean! I always get excited when she posts a new entry; she makes everything so relatable. I am really happy our friendship blossomed; mind you, I haven't met her in person yet [but we will, this November, because she'll be coming back to the Philippines for a vacation!]

She sent me a package all the way from Philadelphia a few weeks back and I know I've already blogged about them here, but this post contains the embedded video at the end so continue scrolling down!

Another recap of the things she sent me:

1. Elf Hypershine Lip Gloss Collection

 HPIM3399

2. Benefit Cosmetics Posie Tint, High Beam & BeneTint

 HPIM3396

3. Bath and Body Works lotion—White Citrus

 HPIM3398

4. Bath and Body Works lotion—Secret Wonderland

5. Bath and Body Works lotion—Japanese Cherry Blossom

6. Wet N Wild Lipstick in 905D

SOMETHING TO PONDER ON...

"The longer I live the more beautiful life becomes. If you foolishly ignore beauty, you will soon find yourself without it. Your life will be impoverished. But if you invest in beauty, it will remain with you all the days of your life." -Frank Lloyd Wright ▼

"With its breakthrough 12-hour progressive release system, your skin will continuously get up to 200% hydration it needs. It reduced dull appearance, fine lines and cracks to reveal smoother and more supple skin with a combination of advanced hydrating elements."

This line is your answer to these problems:

1. premature wrinkles
2. loss of radiance
3. sensitive skin accompanied by irritation, blotchiness and itchiness

As I've mentioned in my introductory post about the Neutrogena Challenge, there are numerous skin dehydrating activities that we mindlessly do everyday. I expounded on these activities more in this post. Since we cannot really avoid these situations all the time, Neutrogena's Hydro Boost Regimen is to the rescue

"Hydro Boost helps promote the skin's natural ability to create and hold on to its moisture to address the root cause of inner dryness. It contained technology that retains water longer for intense hydration to revitalize dry and tired skin."

Now let's go through the the products in the Hydro Boost line:

1. Neutrogena Hydro Boost Mousse Cleanser—cleanses and balances skin's moisture level. The rich lather foams away impurities, while a special hydrating agent restores skin's natural moisture balance. For day and night use. 150ml/PHP445.50

2. Neutrogena Hydro Boost Clear Lotion (Toner)—immediately tones and refines skin without causing tightness. It gives a shower of fresh hydration for a dewy complexion. Use after cleansing, for day and night. 150ml/PHP458.00

3. Neutrogena Hydro Boost Water Gel—its purified Hyaluronic Acid and Olive Extract continuously release moisture to the skin's surface while boosting skin cell's ability to retain water. For day and night use after Clear Lotion or Essence. 50g/PHP830.00

4. Neutrogena Hydro Boost Essence—intensely moisturizing and deeply revitalizing, this rich essence powerful hydration properties to keep skin plump, bouncy, and supple. For day and night use; for intense hydration. After using the Clear Lotion, and before using the Water Gel, massage evenly to the face. 30ml/PHP999.00

5. Neutrogena Hydro Boost Mask—boosts skin's moisture level 14 times. It is made with smart-fit fabric with 14,000 micro-holes to deeply infuse 25% more hydrating essence. Use as needed, at least once a week for deep and immediate hydration results. May also be used in the evening after cleansing and toning. Apply the mask and leave on for 15 minutes. Remove the mask and massage the remaining essence into your facial and neck area. Do not rinse, sleep with the essence. No need to apply the Water Gel after using the mask. 1pc/PHP198.00

Here is the reason why it works:

"Utilizing the latest technology, Hyaluronic Acid is condensed and formulated into a highly effective essence. Once applied on the skin, the 12-hour "Progressive Release System" is automatically activated. Hydration is released steadily, providing up to 200% hydration to dry skin cells—hydration power that lasts the whole day. With the 12-hour Progressive Release System, it's like providing a virtual skin reservoir to your skin, which can provide moisture to dry skin cells when they need it, helping skin stay hydrated all day long."

Now here are the key ingredients that are behind the effectiveness of the products:

1. Purified Hyaluronic Acid—Hyaluronic Acid is the key compound that keeps our skin youthful. It works by binding to water molecules and holding up to 1,000 times its weight in moisture, resulting in more supple and smooth skin.

2. Olive Extract—known for its protective, moisturizing and antioxidant qualities, it is a complex combination of fatty acids, which is very similar to our skin's natural moisture shield.

3. Glycerin—helps bind moisture to the skin's surface for optimal softening effect, and is a potent skin firming agent to stimulate natural improvement of the skin's support systems.

Reasons why consumers like it:

1. immediate results can be seen and felt
2. can be used in conjunction with or alternately with your current skin care regimen such as the Neutrogena Fine Fairness line
3. it provides the solution to dehydrated skin without the excess oils that most other products offer

EXCLUSIVELY AVAILABLE AT WATSON'S

"Ideal skin is hydrated skin."

I will be coming up with in-depth reviews about each of the products in the Hydro Boost line in the coming days. Stay tuned!

Hi I wanna try this product since I have a dull looking face and usually gets oily during mid of the day. Is it ok to use only the cleanser, toner and water gel only? coz its kinda pricey for me if im going to avail the complete set, since im just an ordinary girl who used to stay at home. oh and have u tried using their fine fairness? I dont know which of the two shall I avail. Can you give some advice? Thanks

Say Tioco Artillero said...

Hi Anonymous. Whatever you said is perfect! Cleanser, toner and water gel would do! I haven't tried the Fine Fairness line, dear. But if you're like me who has unbelievably dry skin, go for the Hydroboost! I guarantee you.
