Mark C.
Consultant for Medical Device, Pharmaceutical, and Combination Products
September 18, 2018, Mark managed Tom directly

Tom is a rare talent where he can provide his outstanding engineering expertise and leadership from the R&D phase to Tech Transfer to Commercial Release and beyond. He has a hands-on approach to engineering challenges and takes the same tact while developing and mentoring his team. His vision and efforts have led to several valuable intellectual property claims and applications.
Tom is always available to lend his background and maturity to help others which strengthens the team and the organization. His positive attitude is both refreshing and contagious.
Tom has worked for me for 10+ years and much of our success has been due to Tom's... see more
