

AboutConventionStorePublicationsGiving

Tau Beta Pi

The Engineering Honor Society

AboutPeopleDistinguished MembersMarconi

Search

Marconi Prize

The Marconi Society is dedicated to nurturing, recognizing, and celebrating individuals whose ingenious application of communications technology has had a positive and lasting impact on human progress around the globe. Established in 1974 by Gioia Marconi Braga, the foundation is known for the Marconi Prize, awarded annually to an outstanding individual whose scope of work and influence emulate the principle of "creativity in service to humanity" that inspired Guglielmo Marconi, the father of modern communications. Members of Tau Beta Pi among the Fellows named since 1975 are:

Year	Award Recipient
2020	Andrea J. Goldsmith, Ph.D., California Alpha '86
2018	F. Thomson Leighton, New Jersey Delta '78
2017	Arun N. Netravali, Texas Gamma '69
2012	Henry Samueli, California Epsilon '75
2011	Irwin M. Jacobs, New York Delta '56
2011	Jack K. Wolf, Pennsylvania Delta '56
2006	John M. Cioffi Illinois Alpha '78
2004	Lawrence E. Page, Michigan Gamma '95
2003	Robert M. Metcalfe, Massachusetts Beta '68
2003	Robert G. Gallager, Pennsylvania Delta '53
2000	Martin E. Hellman, New York Epsilon '66
1999	James L. Massey, Massachusetts Beta '60
1994	Robert E. Kahn, New York Epsilon '60
1992	James L. Flanagan, Mississippi Alpha '48
1990	Andrew J. Viterbi, Massachusetts Beta '57
1987	Robert W. Lucky, Indiana Alpha '57
1986	Leonard Kleinrock, Massachusetts Beta '62
1979	John R. Pierce, California Beta '33
1975	James R. Killian, Massachusetts Beta '26