Subject: RE: Getting ready for TechCrunch Application

Hello Seymour,
The three changes:

- My Gallery as first screen when you log-in
- When you click on New iChart, button is visible to upload data sheet
- Edit data sheet button visible but inactive (clicking on it gives message)

Have been implemented and deployed to stage.icharts.net.

The studio sizing implementation is still unstable and not ready. We are trying to get it ready for TechCrunch.

Please send me the About, Help pages and the new logo so we can include it in the application.

Regards,
Girish

Subject: Getting ready for TechCrunch Application

Hi guys,

just looked on stage.icharts.net and.....STILL THE SAME freaking PICTURE WE ALREADY KNOW :)

We need to get the Pre-BETA look & feel + set up prepared for filing the TechCrunch Application June 11.

Any update when this will be ready?

Just as a reminder what needs to be in there:
- refined Studio sizing / usability functionality
- Log-In page with PRE-BETA SIGN
- My Gallery as first screen when you log-in
- When you click on New iChart, button is visible to upload data sheet (edit data sheet button visible but inactive)
- links in top right for "ABOUT" and "HELP"

If possible: Straight download of interactive chart (not via the new page that opens up)

iCHARTS LLC IPR2024-01387
Ex. 2035

Best,
Seymour
