Subject: Ticket

Girish,

I just discovered a major, totally critical bug (Ticket 232) which I am really upset about. For embed codes you are generating simplistic code ids and you are simply incrementing the code ids.

You need to generate SECURE IDs randomly that cannot be easily guessed.

Firstly, how come as a non-programmer I need to tell you this?

Secondly, how come your testing has not revealed this long time ago and we discover such a major mess up shortly before we launch?

Best,
Seymour
