Hi Jennifer,

just wanted to drop in & see how you are doing? We'll be launching September 8th. Hence wanted to check whether we'll be able to make it with filing the application? I understand we need to file beforehand.

Jennifer,

thanks.

I have set up an account for you:

[redacted]

iCHARTS LLC IPR2024-01387
Ex. 2112

[redacted]

This will give you access to core of our service, the chart creation bit.

The link to the portal mock-up (which is non functional but shows the context in which we will launch our total service) is:
http://demo.icharts.net/portal_beta_demo/

To view sample outputs of charts embedded into websites you can check out the following:
http://icharttest.blogspot.com/2008/07/test-page-4.html

Also attached is a PDF with embedded iCharts (in their offline version).

Please let me know how we should proceed.

Best,
Seymour

You should let your IT department know that iCharts is a Flash-based online application and your browser needs to be able load flash. I suspect this to be the issue.

Hi Seymour,

I am able to see animated ads but the the firm won't allow me to be connected to links to pages with online video. I have an email out to one or our IT personnel to determine exactly how they are blocking content (and how to change it). I'll let you know when I hear back from them.

Also, I filed the provisional application last week (July 2) and the provisional was assigned application number 61/077,728. I will send you a more formal letter with a copy of the filed documents soon.

Hi Jennifer,

thanks. Do you know by any chance whether you are able to play any kind of video online (not downloading, but directly in the web site). Or when you go on web-sites do you ever see any animated ads?

Those embedded videos and ads are typically Flash movies/content. Hence if you can't see them either then your firm probably blocks the delivery of flash objects. iCharts is partially based on Flash, hence you won't be able to access the service from within the firm.

Seymour

Hi Seymour,

The firm actually blocks our access to YouTube so I could not check that way. I do have Adobe Flash listed as a program on my computer, but not Shockwave. Let me know if that helps.

Hi Jennifer,

on a different note - since you couldn't log in, I am trying to hunt that bug down: Could you let me know whether you have Flash (Macromedia Shockwave) installed? The best way to find out is to go to YouTube and play any video there. If you get an error message or can't then I know you don't have flash installed.

Thanks,
Seymour

Hi Jennifer,

I haven't filed any patent to date but spend some time understanding the topic.

Best is if he had a call to start with and then I can provide you with all you need.

How does Tuesday July 1st morning work for you?

Hi Seymour,

I work with Jim and Mike in our Silicon Valley office and can help with the patent filing. If you provide me with some information about your invention, I can give you a better idea of what information I will need to prepare the application. Depending on your schedule, we can also set up a meeting - in person or over the phone - to discuss your idea and the patent application. Have you filed any patent applications before?

I look forward to working with you.

Thank you.

thanks for the support on the trademark, that worked really well.

Could you help also on patent filing? We would need to file a patent before we launch in September.
