Subject: Decisions of our call

Hi there,

here a short summary about our decisions from the call just now:

1. we now will make it for the award ;) /stay maximal flexible, organize yourself as optimal as possible / dont believe Tyron when he says sleep is not needed at all ;)
2. the portal will initially contain the database of the DEV server
3. the next portal version will be deployed until Thursday 1:30 pm IST (10:00am CET), we can test then
4. new features shall be deployed as often as possible to get fast feedback
5. the ticket system will serve as our transparency tool to make our activity path towards techcrunch as transparent as possible. For that reason the new dates have been maintained as new milestones.
6. The Friday call has been moved to 1:30 pm IST (10:00am CET)
7. Tyron/ Seymour/ HB will try to get to know as much as possible details about the requirements of the rehearsals as soon as possible (possible tonight evening)
8. Good luck
