Lots of things to do! Still getting my feet wet, but I can assume I'll be up to my old tricks soon enough (C/C++, python and windows kernel reverse engineering).

Principal Software Developer (Team Lead)

McAfee

Dec 2009 - Dec 2011 · 2 yrs 1 mo

Back as a "dev strongarm" on the old threat research team (see: CipherTrust). Maybe I'll do some research too...

My job duties typically fall under the area of "high performance computing". Massively parallel processing, high throughput/non-blocking network IO, etc. I'm also now trying my hand at reverse engineering (win32 only thus far).

Senior Architect

Barracuda Networks

Jul 2009 - Dec 2009 · 6 mos

They bought Purewire and I was there at the time. Same job, same title, etc. Don't think I'm dissing the 'cuda! In so many ways I was more aligned with them than I was with various facets of Purewire.

Senior Architect

Purewire

Feb 2008 - Aug 2009 · 1 yr 7 mos

Purewire: still in semi-stealth-mode AFAIK.

What's safe to say:

* web-security!

* I tend to write a lot of C/C++ networking and data classifying code for this company.

* The ppl/co-workers/leadership are top notch!

Applied Research Engineer

Secure Computing

Jun 2006 - Feb 2008 · 1 yr 9 mos

SCUR bought Ciphertrust. Same gig as before, lots of anti-spam research and development. Heavy email emphasis, but less so than at Ciphertrust.

Advanced Product Development Engineer

CipherTrust

Aug 2005 - Jun 2006 · 11 mos

Anti-spam research and development, primarily email. Worked closely with researchers and the product team to develop get new technologies and get them into the product (Ironmail).

Senior Software Developer

TransUnion

Jan 2003 - Aug 2005 · 2 yrs 8 mos

They bought VSI. Same daily business for me. See VSI.

Senior Software Developer

Visionary Systems Inc.

Mar 2001 - Dec 2002 · 1 yr 10 mos
