What Falcon Go Customers Are Saying

"Simple interface, effective product. The technical performance of Falcon Go is exactly what we needed."

Bob Hampo, CEO, Actall Corporation¹

"I'm a one-man security shop, so Falcon is like the security team we can't afford to hire. When there is an incident, having everything in one place makes my life significantly easier than it would be with half a dozen different products doing the same work."

Security Manager, Small Business Gambling Company²

"Falcon Go is the perfect choice for small and medium companies. Affordable and easy to use! I'll never change security companies."

Daniele Colombo, M.C.M. s.r.l.³

Free antivirus only spots known threats. CrowdStrike goes deeper.

Why take chances with your business?

Most free antivirus tools use an older, legacy approach to cyber threats. Legacy antivirus relies on strategies that slow devices down and leave you unprotected against today's sophisticated cyberattacks. The Falcon platform uses machine learning and AI to keep devices protected from threats that are known, unknown and complex.
