Sinclair (www.sinclair.com) a global aesthetics company headquartered in London, and fully-owned subsidiary of Huadong Medicine Company Limited announces that it has signed an exclusive product license and worldwide distribution agreement for Préime DermaFacial from EMA Aesthetics Limited for all territories outside the UK and Germany.

Launched in March 2022 at the Anti-Aging Medicine World Congress Monaco, Préime DermaFacial therapy offers five powerful technologies and is designed to allow the curation of personalised treatments. The technology has been designed with skincare practitioners in mind and focuses on efficacy, limitless treatment combinations and ease of use. The Préime DermaFacial platform can be the primary skincare platform for clinics, aesthetic centres and medspas.

The Préime DermaFacial is a smart device, powered by IoT (Internet of Things) technology, designed to ensure consistent results and client satisfaction. Designed and manufactured in Europe, the Préime DermaFacial combined with Préime consumables is the new global standard in skincare treatment.

Miguel Pardos, CEO of Sinclair EBD division commented, "We are very excited to partner with EMA on the global commercialisation of Préime DermaFacial. We see Préime DermaFacial as a game-changer in the aesthetic market. Their flexibility to cater for high demand treatments along with the combination of technologies makes Préime DermaFacial a must-have for any aesthetic practice. Sinclair's EBD expertise, scale, direct presence in key markets along with our extensive distribution channels will accelerate market penetration and growth of Préime DermaFacial globally."

The Founder and CEO of EMA Aesthetics, Malcolm Wall Morris, commented, "Since inception, EMA's primary goal has been to focus on creating products designed to deliver great patient results and an enhanced user experience for clinics and therapists. Since unveiling the Préime DermaFacial at the Aesthetics and Anti-Aging Medicine World Congress Monaco in March 2022, EMA has received unprecedented feedback concerning the design, combined technologies, treatment options and IoT capabilities of the system. We are delighted to partner with Sinclair, who, through their EDB subsidiary, Cocoon, are perfectly placed to accelerate the global commercialisation of the world's most advanced aesthetic facial device."
