Quality brands are using .xyz domains to showcase their newest offerings. Slovakia-based Black.xyz shares their award-winning roasted coffee selection. Vaporwave streetwear brand PublicSpace.xyz sells high quality Los Angeles-made clothing with designs by fashion designer and founder Eric Wu. Independent arts and music publication Preme.xyz highlights their print issues and latest merch. In this week's #WebsiteWednesday, we'll introduce you to an innovative company showcasing their customizable wearable tech: Circular.xyz.

Circular.xyz is the developer of a multi-feature wearable smart ring called Circular Ring, which is designed to help improve physical and mental performance. The France-based company claims that the Circular Ring can track 142 metrics such as heart rate variability, breathing rate, and body temperature. Circular.xyz's smart ring is aimed to help users interpret the bodily functions that it monitors while guiding them towards better sleep and heart recovery. The company hopes to set their smart ring apart from other wearable tech devices by giving users an understanding of what their body is doing instead of just providing raw data. In June 2022, Circular.xyz exhibited the Circular Ring at the VivaTech in Paris, where companies showcase their latest technologies and connect with like-minded startups.

Visitors can check out the Features page for details on the functionality of the wearable fitness device. Circular.xyz combines a red, green, and infrared light to create a combination that helps blood oxygenation monitoring and clinical grade heart rate accuracies. The Circular Ring uses your skin temperature and motion for extensive monitoring. The ring is also designed to study your sleep patterns. Circular.xyz claims the device can monitor your body signals during your sleep to help you keep track of its efficiency and improve its quality. Aside from its health tracking features, the smart ring's interchangeable outer shells allow you to modify the look of your device so it is ready for your high-altitude climb, your deep sea dive, or your night out on the town. The device is currently available for pre-order, and expects to ship by October 2022.

Circular.xyz included a Call to Action (CTA) on their website to provide visitors with added value and help encourage them to complete an action to unlock that value. Their CTA is "Subscribe" with an added message that states "Don't miss our emails with early updates, great articles and epic adventures." This creates a great opportunity to keep subscribers informed. You can learn more about CTAs in our latest Quarterly Report. Personal health tracking devices such as Circular.xyz's Circular Ring can help you get an inside look at how your body performs on a daily basis. We look forward to seeing more innovative developments from Circular.xyz. You can learn more about the Circular Ring by following the company on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram, and by visiting Circular.xyz.
