Suresh,

You may share A1, A2, B1-B4, C1-C3, D1-D3 with Infineon. We confirm the only potential confidential information in D4 is fn.3, which references the deposition testimony of Mr. Herman, and we consequently marked the appendix confidential out of an abundance of caution. You may also share the cover document titled "Respondents' Invalidity Contentions" with Infineon, as that document itself does not include confidential business information.

We will investigate whether redacted versions of A3-A5 may be feasible.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth

Subject: Inv. No 337-TA-1414 | Innoscence's Invalidity Contentions

Counsel,

Please confirm that we may share Innoscence's invalidity contentions, including its appendices, with our client. In particular, please also confirm whether we may share appendix A-5 in its entirety, or identify the portions of this chart which contain CBI which cannot be shared. This charted reference contains excerpts of a third-party report generated in 2016 which Innoscence subsequently purchased for this investigation.

Additionally, please confirm that the only CBI in appendix D-4 is the reference in footnote 3 to the deposition transcript of Thomas Herman.

Regards,
Suresh
