Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 1

Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 2

Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 3

Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 4

Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 5

Michael Fliss

Michael Fliss was appointed Resmed Chief Revenue Officer in November 2023, responsible for driving profitable revenue performance and growth. He oversees global sales, customer support, sales operations and enablement, and market access for the company. Michael previously served as VP of North American sales.

Michael has over 20 years of experience in sales with Resmed, having led several sales organizations within the company during his career ascent. He started out as a territory manager in March 2002 and moved up through the ranks as a corporate account manager, region manager, director, and area vice president before achieving his most recent role as VP of North American sales.

In addition to his daily duties, Michael serves as a board member for the LEANIn Sales employee resource group. He also has mentored for WOMEN Unlimited, Inc., and coached youth football, lacrosse and soccer.

Michael graduated from Canisius University with a bachelor of science degree in economics.

Patent Owner, CleveMed - Ex. 2031, p. 6