Summary

I was in the secure / trusted computing space for over a decade. At BlueSpace our team was focused on multi-level security, and apps that spanned multiple virtualized environments for dual persona / classified systems. At Hypori (originally DroidCloud) we were the market leader in Virtual Mobile Infrastructure, taking on the BYOD challenge - in the public and commercial sectors.

I then worked on a startup in the gig economy space focused on residential remodeling and construction. Today I'm focused on a platform for local fitness studios to use in online classes.
