05/22/2024	120	ORAL ORDER: The Court has reviewed the parties' joint letter requesting a discovery dispute videoconference. (D.I. 118) There are eight separate disputes listed, which is a lot for an individual letter like this. The Court wants to ensure that the parties have really made a strong effort to meet and confer and attempt to resolve those disputes that can be resolvedand the sheer number of issues listed in this letter causes the Court to worry that this may not have happened. Plus, if the parties can get the number of disputes reduced a bit, that may make it easier for the Court to fit in a videoconference on its schedule sooner rather than later to address all disputes (i.e., if there really are eight disputes, the Court may need to break them up into different hearings on different weeks). In light of this, the

		Court hereby ORDERS that counsel (including at least one Delaware counsel per side, and the most senior attorney per side who has familiarity with the disputes) participate in one further verbal meet and confer in order to discuss whether any of these issues can be resolved or tabled for now. By no later than May 29, 2024, the parties shall file a letter of no more than two single-spaced pages, indicating whether they have been able to resolve or table any of the eight listed disputes, and which disputes remain to be resolved by the Court. 08/05/2024	145	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Defendant's pending discovery dispute motion ("Motion"), (D.I. 128), and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 129 ; D.I. 130 ; D.I. 134), hereby ORDERS as follows: (1) With regard to the dispute as to Defendant's Interrogatory ("ROG") No. 7, Defendant's request is GRANTED and Plaintiff must supplement its answer to that ROG, providing a fulsome answer to the question therein, no later than 30 days from today's date. In a matter where the Complaint was first filed back in October 2022, Plaintiff should know (and should have known for a long time now) what its view is about whether any of its products read on the asserted claims (a relevant issue in this case as to damages, validity and perhaps claim construction), and should have anticipated for months or years that this issue would raise its head in the case. Defendant is entitled to a timely answer to ROG. No. 7, for the reasons set out in its briefing. (D.I. 129 at 1-2); cf. Pers. Audio, LLC v. Google LLC , Civil Action No. 17-1751-CFC-CJB, 2018 WL 4502002, at *2 (D. Del. Sept. 20, 2018). No additional discovery is needed for Plaintiff to be able to answer the question, and Plaintiff should be required to do so in a reasonably prompt fashion. And with regard to Plaintiff's objection to providing claim charts in response, (D.I. 130 at 2), if Plaintiff is going to take the position that its products read on the patents and that this fact is helpful to it in the case (e.g., regarding damages issues, or objective indicia-related issues), the Court does not see how Defendant could adequately evaluate the merit of that assertion without having the benefit of something like a claim-by-claim explanation as to why the product reads on the patent's claims. That said, if Plaintiff does take the view that certain of its products read on certain of the asserted claims, and if it can think of some other narrative way to provide a detailed response to ROG No. 7 that explains why that is so (other than via a "claim chart"), it may do so. See PersonalWeb Techs., LLC v. Google Inc. , No. C13-01317 EJD (HRL), 2014 WL 4088201, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 19, 2014) (requiring a party in Plaintiff's position to provide a "full substantive response" to a similar interrogatory); see also Apple Inc. v. Wi-LAN Inc. , Case No.: 14cv2235-DMS (BLM), 2018 WL 733740, at *3 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 6, 2018).; (2) With regard to the dispute as to Defendant's ROG No. 3, Defendant's request is also GRANTED, for similar reasons. Plaintiff must supplement its answer to that ROG by no later than 30 days from today's date, identifying (as was requested by the ROG): (a) a date certain as to conception and reduction to practice regarding the subject matter of each asserted patent (and not by listing a date, preceded by the words “no later than”), see Karl Storz Endoscopy-Am., Inc. v. Stryker Corp., Case No. 14-cv-00876-RS (JSC), 2017 WL 3888869, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 17, 2017); and (b) some narrative explanation of the facts and circumstances that relate to the conception and reduction to practice of the inventions, see Sysmex Corp. v. Beckman Coulter, Inc., Civil Action No. 19-1642-GBW-CJB, D.I. 80 (D. Del. May 13, 2020). The information is relevant to the case for the reasons Defendant says, it is the type of information that Plaintiff should have long known would be required to be produced, and it is information that, to a significant degree, is in Plaintiff’s hands.; and (3) As to both of the supplemental answers, Plaintiff will be supplementing based on the knowledge and information available to it as of the date of its service of the answers. But contrary to Plaintiff’s concerns, those supplemental answers are not necessarily “final” answers. (D.I. 130 at 3) Of course if additional information comes to light that causes Plaintiff to learn that its prior responses were incomplete or incorrect, Plaintiff can (and, indeed must) further supplement the response at issue. 10/10/2024	189	ORAL ORDER: The Court has reviewed Defendant's motion for leave to file an amended Answer to Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint ("FAC"). (D.I. 149 ("motion to amend the Answer to the FAC”)) It has also reviewed the parties’ recent letters regarding the currently-scheduled October 15 hearing on the motion to amend the Answer to the FAC, as well as regarding events that have occurred subsequent to the scheduling of that October 15 hearing, including: (1) Plaintiff’s filing of a Second Amended Complaint (“SAC”), (D.I. 169); (2) Defendant’s filing of an Answer to the SAC, (D.I. 174); and (3) Plaintiff’s filing of a motion to strike portions of Defendant’s Answer to the SAC (“motion to strike”), (D.I. 184). (D.I. 187 ; D.I. 188) In light of these subsequent events, the Court hereby DENIES as MOOT the motion to amend the Answer to the FAC, as that motion sought to amend an Answer that is no longer operative (an Answer to a complaint that is itself no longer operative). The Court thus also ORDERS that the October 15, 2024 hearing is CANCELED. Any ongoing disputes with regard to Defendant’s ability to include certain defenses and counterclaims in its now-operative Answer shall be addressed when the Court resolves Plaintiff’s motion to strike, which has not yet finished briefing. 12/11/2024	244	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties' motions for claim construction, (D.I. 201 ; D.I. 204), and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 199), having considered the legal standards related to claim construction, see Vytacera Bio, LLC v. CytomX Therapeutics, Inc. , Civil Action No. 20-333-LPS-CJB, 2021 WL 4621866, at *2-3 (D. Del. Oct. 7, 2021), and having held a Markman hearing that concluded on November 6, 2024, (D.I. 232 (hereinafter, "Tr.")), hereby addresses the construction of term 2: "coating" / "coating material" / "coated substrate". The Court will adopt Plaintiff's proposed construction for the term "coating" which is "material covering at least a portion of a surface of a substrate" (and Plaintiff's respective proposals for "coating material" and "coated substrate"), for the following reasons: (1) The key dispute is over whether the asserted patents' use of the term "coating" refers only to a "material formed through the deposition of a liquid precursor solution" (as Defendant asserts). (D.I. 199 at 12; see also id. at 13, 16) Plaintiff argues otherwise that the coatings at issue (i.e., those that initially cover the substrate) could possibly be formed through some other process (e.g., by a process which utilizes something other than a liquid solution). In the end, the Court agrees with Plaintiff, in light of the following: (a) In the "Background of the Invention" section of the 564 Patent, the patentee is discussing a process by which semiconductor-based devices are patterned in order to integrate the structure. At the end of that section, the patentee states that “[t]he process can be repeated to form additional layers of patterned material. The functional inorganic materials can be deposited using chemical vapor deposition, physical vapor deposition or other desired approaches.” (564 Patent, col. 2:5-8 (emphasis added); see also Tr. at 99-101) There is no dispute that chemical vapor deposition and physical vapor deposition are methods of coating a substrate that do not utilize a liquid precursor solution. (D.I. 202, ex. 1 at paras. 58-60) And in the Court’s view, while much of the “Background” section discusses steps that occur after an initial coating is placed on the substrate, the particular sentence cited above appears to be making reference to the entire “process” leading up to the development of a pattern on a substrate—including the deposition of the initial coating onto the substrate (i.e., a necessary initial step in that “process”). See also (564 Patent, col. 1:40-43 (“Thus, the structures are generally formed through an iterative process of sequential deposition and etching steps through which a pattern is formed of the various materials.”); Tr. at 101-03) Thus, if the patents here tell us that this coating process can include non-liquid precursors, then Defendant’s proposed construction cannot be correct. And while Defendant’s expert suggests the above-referenced text in the “Background” section does not refer to the initial coating process, (D.I. 203, ex. Q at para. 17), it is the Court’s job, not the expert’s job, to perform claim construction. See Symantec Corp. v. Computer Assocs. Int’l, Inc., 522 F.3d 1279, 1289 n.3 (Fed. Cir. 2008) (“To the extent that the testimony merely gives the expert’s opinion as to claim construction, we attribute it no weight.”); see also Phillips v. AWH Corp., 415 F.3d 1303, 1318 (Fed. Cir. 2005) (en banc) (same).; (b) Additionally, a sentence within the “Detailed Description of the Invention” section, which seems as if it could relate to the initial coating process, states: “[t]he further deposited material can be deposited using suitable approaches, such as solution based approaches, chemical vapor deposition (CVD), sputtering, physical vapor deposition (PVD), or other suitable approach.” (564 Patent at 20:13-17 (emphasis added)); and (c) Moreover, the 564 Patent makes repeated reference to how the depositing of a precursor composition may be done using “any” one of “conventional coating approaches[,]” (id., cols. 7:26-28, 14:8-13), and Plaintiff’s expert explains that that the use of chemical vapor deposition, for example, was one of the main processing methods used at the time for coatings as to a wide range of applications, (D.I. 202, ex. 1 at paras. 58-60). See also (564 Patent, cols. 7:32-36, 13:6-9; 684 Patent, col. 13:12-16 (same); 153 Patent, col. 18:36-41 (same)); and (2) Defendant’s other arguments are not ultimately persuasive for the reasons that follow: (a) Defendant suggests that the specifications provide an explicit definition for the coating material at issue, where they note that it is “formed through deposition and subsequent processing of the precursor solution onto a selected substrate.” (D.I. 199 at 16-17 (emphasis in original) (citing, inter alia, 564 Patent, col. 13:29-30)) In the Court’s view, this sentence does not amount to the use of a definition. After all, a patentee typically sets out a definition of a term in much clearer language—like the patentee did here in the 153 Patent, where it signaled a definition of another term by using the phrase “is defined as[.]” (153 Patent at col. 29:61-65; see also Tr. at 91, 93) No such similar language is used in relation to coatings. See Medicines Co. v. Mylan, Inc., 853 F.3d 1296, 1306 (Fed. Cir. 2017) (finding language was not definitional where it did “not accord with the linguistic formula used by the patentee to signal the designation of other defined terms”).; (b) The 564 Patent states that “[t]he invention further relates to... precursor solutions that can be deposited to form a coating... [.]” (564 Patent, col. 1:30-32 (emphasis added)) Defendant argues that this reference to “solutions” would be understood as a reference to a liquid precursor solution, and that the patent’s statement that the “invention” relates to the use of such a solution helps support its proposed construction. (D.I. 199 at 17 (citing D.I. 203, ex. A para. 37)) This argument has some force. However, the claims of the patents do not use the word “solution(s)” in this same context. And in light of other evidence discussed herein, these “invention” references in the patents are insufficient to tip the scales in Defendant’s favor.

		See Absolute Software, Inc. v. Stealth Signal, Inc., 659 F.3d 1121, 1136-37 (Fed. Cir. 2011) (finding “use of the phrase ‘present invention’ or ‘this invention’ is not always so limiting, such as where the references to a certain limitation as being the ‘invention’ are not uniform, or where other portions of the intrinsic evidence do not support applying the limitation to the entire patent”) (citing cases); Zadro Prod., Inc. v. SDI Techs., Inc., Case No. 17-1406 (WCB), 2019 WL 10252726, at *6-7 (D. Del. June 19, 2019) (same, citing cases).; and (c) Defendant asserts that coatings must be limited to those deposited by liquid precursor solutions, because all examples provided in the specification are liquid-formed coatings. (D.I. 199 at 17-18) But it is well-settled law that just because listed exemplary embodiments all possess a certain quality, this does not necessarily limit the claimed invention to what is described in those embodiments. See EcoServices, LLC v. Certified Aviation Servs., LLC, 830 F. App’x 634, 647 (Fed. Cir. 2020). Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 12/11/2024. (smg) (Entered: 12/11/2024)
12/11/2024	245	ORAL ORDER: With regard to the parties' motions for claim construction, (D.I. 201 ; D.I. 204), the Court hereby addresses the construction of term 3: “represented by the formula $\text{R}\text{SnO}(3/2-x/2)(\text{OH})_x$” / “represented by the formulation $(\text{R})_z\text{SnO}_2-z/2-x/2(\text{OH})_x$.” The parties’ primary dispute concerns whether, as Defendant suggests, “formula/formulation” should be construed as “molecular formula.” The Court declines to construe term 3 at this time for the reasons that follow: (1) The parties agree that the correct answer to this question comes down to dueling expert testimony, as there is not much in the intrinsic record that indicates whether inclusion of “molecular” is appropriate. (D.I. 232 (hereinafter, “Tr.”) at 112, 116); (2) Here, the respective experts’ views conflict. In Defendant’s answering brief, it provided argument about why molecular formulas are required. (D.I. 199 at 24-27) In reply, Plaintiff cited its expert’s testimony stating that term 3 could not refer to molecular formulas because it references a fractional number of atoms. (Id. at 27-28 (citing D.I. 202 , ex. 29 at paras. 33-37)) To that, in Defendant’s sur-reply brief, it cited to its expert for the proposition that term 3’s use of fractional numbers is not a barrier to Defendant’s proposed construction, because some molecules may be represented by molecular formulas with fractional numbers (such as those used to describe non-stoichiometric compounds). (Id. at 28-29 (citing D.I. 203 , ex. Q at para. 22)) But that just further begged the question: What would Plaintiff’s expert respond to that assertion? The Court does not know. And the Court remains uncertain as to what is the right path here, in light of this battle of the experts. In fact, the Court may need to hear from the experts live in order to reach the right answer.; and (3) In light of this uncertainty, the Court will not adopt a construction of term 3 at this time. After further meeting and conferring, if the parties believe that a material dispute still remains as to this term and the term requires construction, then by no later than 21 days prior to the summary judgment motion filing deadline, the parties should advise the Court of this. The parties should also then let the Court know whether term 3 is expected to be relevant to any issues that will be raised in the forthcoming summary judgment briefing. Thereafter, if needed, the Court will set out a further process for resolving any remaining claim construction disputes regarding the term. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 12/11/2024. 02/19/2025	287	ORAL ORDER: The Court has reviewed the portion of the parties' February 13, 2025 joint letter that addresses a possible motion for preliminary injunction ("PI motion"). (D.I. 280 at 5-7) As an initial matter, the Court tends to agree with Defendant that this is an unusual procedural posture for Plaintiff to be seeking a preliminary injunction (and, relatedly, to be requiring the use of the significant amount of court resources that are implicated by the filing of a PI motion). That is because this patent case has been pending for two years and four months, and as a result, the patentee is currently set to go to trial less than 10 months from now. That said, the Court is not privy to all of the relevant information that might relate to whether Plaintiff would in fact face the prospect of imminent irreparable harm, were its infringement allegations not adjudicated until the December 2025 trial. And so, the Court is in no position to preclude the filing of a PI motion. Therefore, if after further reflection Plaintiff still intends to file a PI motion, then the Court hereby provides the following guidance to the parties about that process: (1) If a PI motion is filed, Plaintiff will be permitted to address therein no more than four (4) asserted claims in total.; and (2) The briefing on any such PI motion will be as follows: (a) Plaintiff's opening brief and Defendant's answering brief shall not exceed twenty-five (25) pages, respectively, and Plaintiff's reply brief will not exceed twelve (12) pages.; (b) The answering brief will be due 21 days after the opening brief, and the reply brief will be due 10 days after the answering brief.; (c) The opening brief will be due to be filed on a date certain (along with the filing of the PI motion itself); the opening brief's filing date will not be contingent on the Court issuing a claim construction order as to certain currently unconstrued claim terms.; and (d) If by the time of briefing, certain claim terms are not construed that have relevance to the parties' arguments regarding the PI motion, then the parties should simply say in their briefing what they think the relevant term's construction should be and why. Additionally, in light of Defendant's comments, (id. at 7), the Court believes that the parties should meet and confer verbally once more in order to further discuss details relating to any forthcoming PI motion. By no later than February 24, 2025, the parties shall meet and confer regarding at least the following topics: (1) whether (assuming Plaintiff still intends to file a PI motion), they can agree on dates for a briefing schedule and a hearing, in line with the guidance the Court has provided above.; (2) the nature of the claims and defenses that will likely be addressed in the briefing and at the hearing (e.g., what asserted claims will Plaintiff likely put at issue, what infringement issues will likely be at play as to those claims, what are the key defenses Defendant likely will press on the merits); (3) the nature of the injunctive relief Plaintiff will be seeking; (4) specifics about what type of early summary judgment motion regarding a license defense Defendant wishes to file, and whether such a motion should be permitted along with the filing of the PI motion; and (5) specifics about Plaintiff's assertion as to why imminent irreparable harm will befall it if a PI motion is not adjudicated prior to trial (and Defendant's response to that argument). After the meet and confer, and by no later than February 24, 2025, the parties shall file a joint letter of no more than four (4) single-spaced pages that summarizes their discussion of the above-referenced topics (including whether any agreements were reached on a proposed schedule). After receiving the letter, if appropriate, the Court will set a PI motion briefing schedule and hearing date, will determine whether Defendant shall be permitted to file an early summary judgment motion and will address any other relevant details regarding this matter. 02/28/2025	302	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties' February 28, 2025 joint letter, (D.I. 301), hereby notes and ORDERS the following: (1) This letter is the fifth time the parties have sought the Court's assistance in resolving discovery disputes (15 disputes in total, some of which they later resolved on their own via Court-ordered further meeting and conferring)—in addition to the many other disputed issues the parties have raised for the Court in this case. (See D.I. 118 ; D.I. 120 ; D.I. 128 ; D.I. 228 ; D.I. 251 ; D.I. 283).; (2) As it has previously noted, (D.I. 120), the Court has an interest in ensuring that the parties have really made a strong effort to meet and confer and attempt to resolve their disputes before bringing them to the Court, and the sheer number of discovery disputes raised in the last few months causes the Court to worry that this may not be happening.; (3) In light of this, the Court hereby ORDERS that counsel (including at least one Delaware counsel per side, the outside counsel who has the greatest familiarity with the disputes, and each side’s lead trial counsel) shall participate in one further verbal meet and confer in order to discuss whether any of these issues can be resolved.; and (4) By no later than March 7, 2025, the parties shall file a letter of no more than one single-spaced page, indicating whether they have been able to resolve or table either of the two listed disputes, and which disputes (if any) remain to be resolved by the Court. (D.I. 297 at 1) The schedule is as follows: (a) By no later than March 10, 2025, Plaintiff shall file with the Court its PI Motion and opening brief, not to exceed twenty-five (25) pages. With its motion, Plaintiff is permitted to address no more than four (4) asserted claims in total.; (b) By no later than March 31, 2025, Defendant shall file with the Court its answering brief, not to exceed twenty-five (25) pages.; and (c) By no later than April 10, 2025, Plaintiff shall file with the Court its reply brief, not to exceed twelve (12) pages.; (2) The preliminary injunction hearing will be held before Judge Christopher J. Burke in Courtroom 2A on April 25, 2025 beginning at 9:00 a.m.; (3) For the reasons set out by Plaintiff in the letter, (id. at 3), and in light of the Court’s need to conserve its resources, the Court DENIES Defendant’s request to file an early summary judgment motion along with the PI Motion.; and (4) The Court encourages both sides to strongly consider further narrowing (if possible) the scope and amount of the merits-based infringement/invalidity arguments they intend to put into play as to the Motion (i.e., to focus only on their “best” and most impactful arguments in the briefing). 03/05/2025		SO ORDERED, D.I. 308 STIPULATION TO EXTEND TIME for the parties to file the public version of their joint letter responding to the Court's February 19, 2025 Oral Order to March 5, 2025 filed by Inpria Corporation. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 03/05/2025. (sam) (Entered: 03/05/2025)

03/05/2025	309	REDACTED VERSION of 297 Letter by Inpria Corporation. (Attachments: # 1 Exhibit A - H)(Poff, Adam) (Entered: 03/05/2025)
03/05/2025	310	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Plaintiff’s discovery dispute motion (“Motion”), (D.I. 228), which would require Defendant to (1) run certain disputed search terms (the “Disputed Search Terms”) and (2) search the ESI for numerous additional custodians, as well as the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 229 ; D.I. 234 ; D.I. 240), hereby ORDERS as follows: (1) With respect to the Disputed Search Terms, Plaintiff’s request is DENIED. It is not just that the terms are said to generate approximately 1 million additional documents that would need to be reviewed. (D.I. 234 at 1-2; id. , ex. AI); see also Biogen Inc. v. Sandoz Inc. , Civil Action No. 22-1190-GBW, D.I. 364 (D. Del. June 17, 2024) (holding that “proposed search terms[,] which yield tens of thousands of hits[,]” were overbroad). Or that Defendant says that the cost to review those documents will be between $1.85 and $2.5 million (an argument that would have been even stronger had it been accompanied by a sworn declaration). (D.I. 234 at 1); see also “Guidelines for Discovery Disputes” at para. 7 (found in the "Guidelines" tab on Judge Burke’s portion of the District Court’s website, and cited in the Court’s November 7, 2024 Oral Order); State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co. v. Amazon.com, Inc. , Civil Action No. 22-1447-CJB, D.I. 146 (D. Del. Feb. 15, 2024). It is that one can tell from just looking at the Disputed Search Terms that they are really overbroad in their scope—such that they violate the Delaware Default Standard’s requirement that “[f]ocused terms” must be used for ESI searching. District of Delaware Default Standard for Discovery, Including Discovery of Electronically Stored Information (“ESI”) (hereafter, “Default Standard”) at para. 5(b). Although the terms at issue do use a conjunctive connector (like “AND” or “w/2”), on either side of those connectors are long parentheticals filled with an innumerable number of “OR” connectors—for example, as many as 34 different “OR” connectors are used in the first disputed term alone (resulting in what is said to be a possible 285 different combinations). (D.I. 234 at 1) This type of indiscriminate searching simply cannot be termed sufficiently “focused” for the Default Standard’s purposes. And with all of those “ORs” being used, at some point it simply isn’t fair to consider such a term to be “one” search term at all. Cf. In re Google Litig. , No. C 08-03172 RMW (PSG), 2011 WL 6113000, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 7, 2011).; (2) With respect to the additional ESI custodian issue, the request is also DENIED. Paragraph 3(a) of the Default Standard provides for a default number of 10 custodians whose ESI Defendant must search; Defendant has identified those 10 people (a diverse array of contributors in its executive, technical, marketing, and engineering spaces, some of whom supervise a number of the additional custodians that are at issue here). (See D.I. 239 , ex. AD; D.I. 234 at 3); see also Default Standard at paras. 3(a), 5(b). If Plaintiff wishes that additional Defendant custodians' information should be searched, it has the burden to "show good cause as to why more [custodians] should be required." United States v. Gilead Scis., Inc., Civil Action No. 19-2103-MN-CJB, D.I. 247 (D. Del. Dec. 21, 2021). Plaintiff has submitted a 15-page list relating to what apparently totals out to a request for 50 additional custodians – an incredibly large number to be requested at one time, at least in the Court's experience in this District as to competitor patent cases. (D.I. 230 , exs. B & J) A winning request here would be focused—one targeted to an additional, cabined number of persons, that makes a detailed showing, in a nuanced, person-specific manner, as to why that person is likely to have not just relevant but also non-cumulative information (as compared to the information in the possession of the 10 custodians initially selected by the other side). See State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., D.I. 146 (assessing, in a large competitor patent case, the plaintiff's request that the defendant—who had agreed to search for ESI from 12 custodians (a number later reduced to 9 after certain of those employees left the company)—should be required to search the ESI of four additional persons—and doing so by investigating specific arguments about those four new custodians, and the extent to which they would have duplicative information to the others already on defendant's list). But Plaintiff's request is not that. Instead, Plaintiff has simply included 15 pages of charts listing 50 people, and pointing therein (at a high level) to the proposed custodians' job titles, or to the fact that they were referenced in discovery documents. (D.I. 231 , ex. B; see also D.I. 234 at 3); and (3) If in the future, Plaintiff can make a more focused showing as to additional search terms to be run or custodians to be searched, it may re-raise those issue with Defendant (and with the Court if necessary). 03/10/2025	314	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties' March 7, 2025 letter, (D.I. 313), appreciates that the parties have been working to try to resolve some of their pending discovery disputes. In light of the content of the letter, the Court will DENY without prejudice to renew Plaintiff's discovery dispute motion at D.I. 251 , as it appears that the parties are continuing to meet and confer regarding that motion, and that if any portion of it remains live after this work, the scope of any request for relief may be different than what is described in the current briefing. The parties have indicated that they will advise the Court if they are unable to reach agreement on those issues, (id. at 1); if they do, the Court will provide further guidance at that point. With regard to discovery dispute # 2 in the parties' February 28, 2025 letter (the only dispute listed in that letter that is currently ready for resolution), the Court hereby ORDERS as follows: (1) By March 14, 2025, Defendant shall file a Motion To Resolve Discovery Dispute.; (2) By March 14, 2025 Defendant shall file with the Court a letter, not to exceed two (2) single-spaced pages, in no less than 12-point font, outlining the issue in dispute and its position on that issue.; (3) By March 20, 2025, Plaintiff may file a letter, not to exceed two (2) single-spaced pages, in no less than 12-point font, outlining the reasons for its opposition.; (4) By March 25, 2025, Defendant shall file with the Court a reply letter brief, not to exceed one (1) single-spaced page, in no less than 12-point font.; (5) The parties should also consult and follow

		Judge Burke's "Guidelines for Discovery Disputes," which is found in the "Guidelines" tab on Judge Burke's portion of the District Court's website.; and (6) The Court will plan to resolve the dispute on the papers, unless: (a) it determines after reviewing the briefing that oral argument is needed; or (b) any party advises the Court in advance that, were argument to be set, a newer attorney will argue the dispute(s), see Standing Order Regarding Courtroom Opportunities for Newer Attorneys, https://www.ded.uscourts.gov/sites/ded/files/StandingOrder2017.pdf . If either of those circumstances occurs, then the Court will schedule oral argument on the dispute(s) in the future. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 03/10/2025. (sam) (Entered: 03/10/2025)

03/28/2025	380	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties' Motion to Resolve Preliminary Injunction Hearing Disputes, (D.I. 376), and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 358 ; D.I. 362 ; D.I. 366 ; D.I. 377), hereby ORDERS as follows regarding the parties' disputes regarding the preliminary injunction ("PI") hearing-related schedule: (1) The key dispute here is whether any person who submits a declaration along with a side's preliminary injunction hearing-related briefing should be deposited before or after the pre-hearing briefing is concluded. The Court has seen this done various ways in patent cases in which it has addressed preliminary injunction motions. See, e.g., Civil Action No. 23-819-JFB-EGT, Civil Action No. 21-129-CJB, Civil Action No. 19-1343-RGA, Civil Action No. 17-1390-RGA, Civil Action No. 15-819-LPS. The key point is that this issue (i.e., what type of PI motion-related deposition discovery would be needed, and when would it occur) really should have been addressed during the PI hearing schedule discussions that the Court previously ordered the parties to undertake. (D.I. 287 ; see also D.I. 362 at 1-2) That didn't happen here, and we are now too far down the road to alter the already agreed-upon PI motion briefing schedule (as Defendant wishes). To the extent that Defendant's concern is that it will not have a chance to capture in briefing any important details that a key witness mentions in a deposition, (D.I. 358 at 1-2; D.I. 366 at 1), the Court will consider permitting some focused, post-hearing briefing, which would permit this to occur (and would also allow the parties to put a finer point on why they think they should prevail regarding the PI motion, in light of what happened at the hearing itself)—just as it occurred in some of the Court's prior PI cases cited above.; and (2) With regard to the pre-PI hearing schedule: (a) The PI motion briefing schedule will remain the same and stay in effect.; (b) Any depositions sought relating to the PI hearing that have not already been scheduled or have already occurred will take place between the conclusion of pre-hearing briefing on April 10 and the PI hearing on April 25.; and (c) By April 11, 2025, the parties shall meet and confer and submit a joint letter indicating: (i) their view as to how much time should be allocated for the PI hearing; (ii) whether they currently intend to provide live testimony at the hearing, and, if so, the identity of the witnesses they intend to call; and (iii) their view as to whether short post-hearing supplemental briefing should be permitted, and if so, what type (i.e., page limits, and on what schedule). Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 03/28/2025. (sam) (Entered: 03/28/2025)

03/28/2025	383	ORAL ORDER: The Court has also reviewed Defendant's request to revise the current case schedule to, at a minimum, extend the close of fact discovery in this case to October 31, 2025, in order to allow for coordinated fact discovery between this case and the SUNY Action. (D.I. 358 at 3) Defendant has been aware of the SUNY case for a long time, and we have had a Scheduling Order in place in this matter since January 2024. (D.I. 59) In light of this, and for the reasons Plaintiff suggests, (D.I. 362 at 3-4), the referenced events relating to the SUNY Action would not be enough to demonstrate good cause to alter the case schedule here in the extensive manner that Defendant requests. That said, the Court is also cognizant that Plaintiff has now inserted a large preliminary injunction ("PI") process into the later part of the case schedule, and that fact alone might rightly require some further alteration of the schedule. The parties should further meet and confer regarding whether they can come to an agreement on a revised schedule that would reasonably allow for the obtaining of remaining SUNY-related inventorship discovery, factor in the impact of the PI process, and still permit the case to be tried in or reasonably close to December 2025. By no later than April 11, 2025, they shall advise the Court as to whether they have been able to reach any agreement on that score. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 03/28/2025. 04/11/2025	438	ORAL ORDER: The Court has reviewed the parties' recent letters regarding claw back disputes that relate to the upcoming preliminary injunction hearing. (D.I. 416 ; D.I. 424 ; D.I. 428) The Court does not want 25 pages of single-spaced briefing as to claw back disputes over four documents. Therefore, the Court hereby ORDERS as follows: (1) By no later than April 14, 2025, the party seeking relief shall file with the Court a letter, not to exceed three (3) single-spaced pages, in no less than 12-point font, outlining the issues in dispute and that party's position on those issues.; (2) By April 18, 2025, any party opposing the application for relief may file a letter, not to exceed three (3) single-spaced pages, in no less than 12-point font, outlining that party's reasons for its opposition.; (3) By April 22, 2025, the party seeking relief shall file with the Court a reply letter brief, not to exceed one single-spaced page, in no less than 12-point font.; (4) The parties should also consult and follow Judge Burke's "Guidelines for Discovery Disputes," which is found in the "Guidelines" tab on Judge Burke's portion of the District Court's website.; (5) If the moving side wishes to argue about their claw back motion during the preliminary injunction hearing, they may, but the time for argument will be taken out of their total time allotted for the hearing. In their reply briefs, the parties can advise if they intend to argue their motion during the hearing.; and (6) The side seeking to claw back a document should keep in mind that they may need to also submit attached declaration(s) supporting any claim of privilege or work product protection or the like. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 04/11/2025. (sam) (Entered: 04/11/2025)
04/11/2025	439	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the Research Foundation for the State University of New York's ("SUNY") Motion for Leave to File Amivus Curaie Brief ("Motion"), (D.I. 426 ; see also D.I. 427), hereby ORDERS that by no later than April 14, 2025, SUNY and Plaintiff and Defendant shall meet and confer and file a joint letter, no longer than one single-spaced page, informing the Court as to whether the Motion will be opposed by any party. If the parties do not oppose the Motion, the Court will thereafter grant the Motion and permit SUNY to file its brief regarding dismissal or a stay (and will set out a full briefing schedule). If the parties do oppose the motion, any party opposing the Motion may file a (hopefully short) brief in opposition to the Motion on the date provided by the Local Rules. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 04/11/2025. (sam) (Entered: 04/11/2025)

04/14/2025	443	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties' letters regarding a proposed new schedule and the filing at D.I. 413 , (D.I. 413 ; D.I. 417 ; D.I. 419 ; D.I. 421 ; D.I. 440), and regarding the April 25 preliminary injunction hearing, (D.I. 442), hereby ORDERS as follows: (1) With regard to Defendant's request that D.I. 413 be stricken, it is DENIED, at least for now. In line with Plaintiff's arguments, the Court does not see how Defendant has demonstrated that in filing D.I. 413 and its Exhibit 2, Plaintiff clearly did something that violates the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Protective Order in this case, or Plaintiff's counsel's ethical obligations (in that it is not entirely clear to the Court, for the reasons Plaintiff states, that Plaintiff knew or should have known that Exhibit 2 implicates privileged material). (D.I. 419 at 1-2) The document will remain under seal until the Court has resolved any dispute over whether Exhibit 2 is properly clawed back. (See D.I. 428 ; D.I. 438); (2) That said, Plaintiff's rush to consider the meet and confer process closed did it no favors in terms of providing the Court with meaningful input into a new schedule. In light of the unexpected entry of a resource-intensive preliminary injunction process at an already-busy point in the current case schedule, there is good cause to alter that schedule a bit, and Defendant's proposed new schedule, (D.I. 440 , ex. A), seems to the Court a measured, responsible proposal as to how to do that and still go to trial "reasonably close" to the current December 2025 trial date, (D.I. 383). The Court GRANTS Defendant's request for entry of that schedule (with certain alterations, set out below) and DENIES Plaintiff's counter-proposal, which would not have sufficiently addressed the above-referenced issues. (D.I. 440 at 4) By no later than April 15, 2025, the parties shall jointly submit a revised proposed Scheduling Order that matches Defendant's proposal except that: (a) it adds an 11:00 a.m. start time for the December 17, 2025 hearing on case dispositive and Daubert motions; (b) the pre-trial order will be due on March 27, 2026; (c) the pre-trial conference will be held at 10:00 a.m. on April 10, 2026; and (d) the trial will begin on April 20, 2026.; (3) The Court will not at this time make any order regarding SUNY discovery coordination or claim narrowing (other than to note that this case surely needs narrowing). It will discuss those issues with counsel at the April 25 hearing.; and (4) The Court ADOPTS the parties' proposal for the format of the April 25 hearing, and it will give the parties 2 hours and 15 minutes each for argument at the hearing, to make sure they have enough time to address all of the issues. Additionally, with regard to post-hearing supplemental briefing, the parties shall file simultaneous supplemental briefs of no more than seven single-spaced pages on May 7, 2025. 04/25/2025	505	NOTICE requesting Clerk to remove Sami Al-Marzoog as co-counsel. Reason for request: No longer with firm. (Clark, Cameron) (Entered: 04/25/2025)
04/25/2025		Minute Entry for proceedings held before Judge Christopher J. Burke - Hearing on Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction held on April 25, 2025. The Court heard the parties' arguments regarding Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction. (D.I. 315) The Court took the matter under advisement. By no later than May 7, 2025, the parties shall file with the Court post-hearing supplemental briefs not to exceed five (5) single-spaced pages, in no less than 12-point font. Additionally, the Court adopted Plaintiff's proposed Scheduling Order. (D.I. 473 -1) The Court provided guidance regarding how to proceed with discovery. By no later than May 2, 2025, the parties shall meet and confer and submit to the Court a letter regarding case narrowing. The transcript shall serve as the substance of the Court's Order in these regards. APPEARANCES: A. Poff, R. Vrana, D. Mackrides, N. Modi, E. Dittmann, I. Ashkenazi, Y. Park, J. Bennett, P. Citroen, P. Anderson, D. Cheek, J. Palys, S. Peachman, G. Go and R. Rothman for Plaintiff; R. Smith, M. Moore, C. Sanders, S. Propst, S. Gloth, S. Jayanthi and S. Ning for Defendant. (Court reporter: Stacy Ingram; Clerk: E. Rose) (sam) (Entered: 04/28/2025)
04/28/2025	506	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Plaintiff's discovery dispute motion ("Motion"), (D.I. 283), via which Plaintiff asks the Court to compel Defendant to produce certain electronic notes that its witness, David Trussell, purportedly relied on during his deposition and to grant Plaintiff additional deposition time with Mr. Trussell, (D.I. 284 at 1), and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 284 ; D.I. 289 ; D.I. 296), hereby ORDERS that the Motion is DENIED. Plaintiff's Motion is premised on the idea that Mr. Trussell used these notes during his deposition to "refresh memory" pursuant to Fed. R. Evid. 612, and that in light of that Rule or otherwise, the notes must be "produced" to Plaintiff. Fed. R. Civ. P. 612; see also (D.I. 284 at 1). But in the cited portions of Mr. Trussell's deposition, he does not acknowledge that he relied on the notes to refresh his memory; indeed, he says he did not review them substantively at all. (Id. , ex. A at 203-06 (cited in D.I. 284 at 1)) No other portion of the deposition transcript provided to the Court indicates otherwise. And though Plaintiff submitted videotaped excerpts of the deposition to attempt to show that Mr. Trussell was in fact using the notes to craft his testimony, (id. , exs. B-E), the Court has reviewed those excerpts along with others provided by Defendant, (see D.I. 289 , exs. 2-6), and it cannot clearly determine that this is what was happening (especially in light of Mr. Trussell's statements to the contrary). If Plaintiff's counsel thought that Mr. Trussell was looking over and utilizing the notes during different points in the deposition, it could have tried to make a better record to confirm this, cf. Sporck v. Peil , 759 F.2d 312, 318 (3d Cir. 1985), but counsel apparently did not do so. The one time Plaintiff's counsel asked Mr. Trussell if he was consulting his notes during the deposition, Mr. Trussell denied it. (D.I. 284 , ex. A at 203); see also Eli Lilly & Co. v. Arch Ins. Co. , No. 1:13-cv-01770-LJM-TAB, 2017 WL 3838689, at *5 (S.D. Ind. Sept. 1, 2017). The Court does not have a sufficient record to conclude otherwise. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 04/28/2025. (sam) (Entered: 04/28/2025)

04/28/2025	507	ORAL ORDER: The Court, with the understanding that the parties are working together to produce certain documents, hereby ORDERS that Plaintiff's Motion to Resolve Discovery Disputes, (D.I. 475), is DENIED without prejudice to renew. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 04/28/2025. (sam) (Entered: 04/28/2025)

04/28/2025	509	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Plaintiff's recent filing, (D.I. 471), in which it drops its opposition to the Research Foundation for The State University of New York's ("SUNY") motion for leave to file amicus curiae brief ("motion for leave"), (D.I. 426), hereby ORDERS that the now-unopposed motion for leave is GRANTED. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 04/28/2025. (sam) (Entered: 04/28/2025)
04/28/2025	510	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Plaintiff's discovery dispute motion ("Motion"), (D.I. 429), via which Plaintiff requests that the Court compel Defendant to produce two documents (the "Competitive Update" and the "Value Model"), which Defendant clawed back as being subject to privilege claims, and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 447 ; D.I. 462 ; D.I. 469), hereby addresses the portion of the Motion relating to the Competitive Update. It GRANTS-IN-PART and DENIES-IN-PART this portion of the Motion in the manner and for the reasons that follow: (1) The Court agrees with Defendant, (D.I. 462 at 1), that it is appropriate to assess the document at issue on a section-by-section or portion-by-portion basis, as opposed to on an all-or-nothing basis, and it will do so herein.; (2) The Court additionally agrees with Defendant that any portions of the document that the Court finds below should remain redacted do not evidence a crime or fraud, (id. at 2), and that Plaintiff's cited cases to the contrary are not apposite for the reasons Defendant says, (id.), such that the crime-fraud exception is not relevant here.; (3) The "Background," "SUNY" and "Next steps" section of page 1 of the document (with the exception of two sentences in the "Next steps" section that are discussed below) should be unredacted. Those portions simply state facts that are not properly subject to a claim of attorney-client privilege. See, e.g., Universal City Dev. Partners, Ltd. v. Ride & Show Eng'g, Inc. , 230 F.R.D. 688, 691 (M.D. Fla. 2005).; (4) The two sentences in the "Next steps" section beginning with the word "If" shall remain redacted (i.e., the third and sixth sentences). These sentences clearly demonstrate the provision of advice about legal matters that almost certainly had to have come from an attorney, since only an attorney would have knowledge of the motion/timing-related issues discussed therein. (D.I. 463 at para. 2); (5) The one sentence in dispute on page 2 (beginning "Legal") shall also remain redacted, as it is a communication that discusses certain subject matter that Defendant's attorneys are investigating. (Id. at paras. 2-3); (6) As to the final section at issue—the "Strategy" section on page 1, it shall be unredacted. The Court is confident that the "[s]trategy" discussed therein cannot have come from Defendant's attorneys. That is because earlier in this case, in response to an accusation from Plaintiff's counsel, the Court asked Defendant's counsel whether counsel was engaging in a strategy of attempting to delay this case solely for delay's sake. (D.I. 330 at 43) And Defendant's counsel assured the Court that Defendant's attorneys were not engaged in such a "delay" strategy; to the contrary, Defendant's counsel explained to the Court that Defendant's legal strategy in this case "isn't about delay" or about trying to "unfairly slow things down[.]" (Id. at 44-46) The Court accepted that assertion then as being truthful, accurate and made in good faith; it continues to do so. And if that was and is so, then the content of the "Strategy" section here simply has to refer to a business-related strategy on Defendant's side driven by business people—not a legal strategy coming from Defendant's attorneys. Moreover, the content of the one sentence in that section underscores that it is primarily focused on business (not legal) concerns. The sentence is about how Defendant's customers will make decisions regarding the merits of certain technology and about how Defendant hopes to respond to its customers' mindset; while this content might relate in some way to a "litigation[.]" (D.I. 462 at 1), its subject matter is primarily about business concerns, not legal advice, (D.I. 447 at 1; D.I. 469 at 1). Therefore, what is written in that section (a section that, after all, is found in a document prepared by a non-attorney business person and that was shared with four non-attorney business people) cannot reflect advice given for the primary purpose of providing legal (as opposed to business) advice. It thus cannot be privileged. See FTC v. AbbVie Inc., CIVIL ACTION NO. 14-5151, 2016 WL 4478803, at *7 (E.D. Pa. Aug. 25, 2016).; and (7) By no later than May 5, 2025, Defendant shall produce to Plaintiff a version of the Competitive Update document that complies with the instant Order. 04/30/2025	516	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Plaintiff's discovery dispute motion ("Motion"), (D.I. 429), via which Plaintiff requests that the Court compel Defendant to produce two documents (the "Competitive Update" and the "Value Model"), which Defendant clawed back as being subject to privilege claims, and the briefing related thereto, (D.I. 447 ; D.I. 462 ; D.I. 469), hereby addresses the portion of the Motion relating to the Value Model. It DENIES this portion of the Motion (such that the Value Model is successfully clawed back) for the reasons that follow: (1) Because this document amounts to one chart with interrelated content, (D.I. 463 , ex. B), the Court will treat it holistically here.; (2) The document's content was created entirely by Defendant's attorneys. (D.I. 463 at ¶¶ 5-6) A key and substantial portion of the chart involves a discussion of "Legal risks" to Defendant were a potential transaction to occur; in that section various legal matters are discussed, such as the likelihood that certain legal remedies will be imposed in certain scenarios, or the likelihood that additional litigation may be warranted, or what the outcome of such litigation might be. (Id., ex. B) In light of this, the Court concludes that the primary purpose of the document was legal in nature and that the attorney-client privilege attaches. See, e.g., United States v. Veolia Env't N. Am. Operations, Inc., Civ. No. 13-mc-03-LPS, 2014 WL 5511398, at *7 (D. Del. Oct. 31, 2014).; and (3) Additionally, Plaintiff has not met its burden to demonstrate that any prior production of the document was intentional, nor that inadvertent production should lead to waiver here. As to the former issue, the Court has little record about the circumstances surrounding the prior production of the document (i.e., no declarations or affidavits were submitted in that regard by Plaintiff), and Defendant's representation that the document's disclosure of certain content was inadvertent is plausible (even if it was previously produced in redacted form), in light of the volume of the production at issue and the demands placed on the parties and counsel during the discovery period. See Regeneron Pharms., Inc. v. Amgen, Inc., Civil Action No. 22-697-JLH-SRF, 2024 WL 5431484, at *2 (D. Del. Aug. 26, 2024); (D.I. 462 at 3). And as to the latter issue, the Court concludes that the five-factor test for whether inadvertent disclosure should amount to wavier favors Defendant, for the reasons Defendant suggests. 05/06/2025	522	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed the parties May 2, 2025 joint letter, (D.I. 518), hereby ORDERS that case narrowing shall be conducted as follows: (1) A one-stage cut down is appropriate here. That is because this case is fairly far along and has already required a significant investment of Court and party resources--making it doubly important that going forward, the parties are focused and efficient in identifying and pursuing their key claims and defenses. That type of efficiency will also help "keep the case on schedule" so we can proceed to trial on the currently scheduled trial date. (Id. at 4); (2) By no later than June 23, 2025, Plaintiff shall narrow the number of asserted claims to 20.; (3) By no later than July 7, 2025, Defendant shall narrow its total number of invalidity grounds to 45.; (4) With regard to "invalidity grounds," the Court ADOPTS-IN-PART Plaintiff's proposed definition. (Id. at 1 n.1) That is, the definition of an "invalidity ground" shall include: (a) a single reference that anticipates the claim or renders the claim obvious, or (b) a combination of references that renders a claim obvious. See also Confluent Surgical, Inc. v. HyperBranch Med. Tech., Inc., Civil Action No. 17-688-LPS-CJB, Oral Order (D. Del. Oct. 30, 2017). The Court will not deem "a single argument based on [Section] 112 (e.g., enablement or written description or indefiniteness[)]" to be an invalidity ground for the purposes of case narrowing at this time. That said, the Court expects the parties will further narrow the number of asserted claims and invalidity defenses prior to trial. And it will consider limiting the number of Section 112 defenses prior to trial if Defendant does not sufficiently reduce them organically. See, e.g., Natera, Inc. v. ArcherDX, Inc. , Civil Action No. 20-125-GBW, D.I. 589 (D. Del. May 5, 2023); 10x Genomics, Inc. v. Celsee, Inc. , Civil Action No. 19-862-CFC-SRF, Oral Order (D. Del. July 1, 2021).; and (5) To the extent that subsequent developments suggest that there is good cause to do so, the parties may, of course, seek to modify these limits in the future. See In re Katz Interactive Call Processing Pat. Litig. , 639 F.3d 1303, 1312 (Fed. Cir. 2011). Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 5/6/2025. (mlc) (Entered: 05/06/2025)
