02/23/2024	58	TEXT ORDER: Defendants' motion to redact certain portions of the February 7 and February 9, 2024 telephone conference transcripts 54 is GRANTED. Andrew Cohen, Vice President and General Counsel of JSR North America Holdings, Inc., states in a declaration that disclosure would reveal "non-public details about the tender offer," which "could improperly affect the market, including by disrupting the timing of the tender offer transaction, threatening its consummation, and impacting its price," and "interfere with the acquisition plans of non-party JICC." (Dkt. No. 54-3, 4-5). The proposed transcript redactions are narrowly tailored as required by Local Rule 5.3(a). See Lugosch v. Pyramid Co. of Onondaga , 435 F.3d 110, 120 (2d Cir. 2006). And the Court finds that the public's right of access to this information is outweighed by the interests in privacy and the protection of business transactions. SEC v. Telegram Grp. Inc. , No. 19-cv-9439, 2020 WL 3264264, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. June 17, 2020) ("[P]rotecting the privacy interests of non-parties, including their business and financial records, represents a legitimate basis for sealing judicial documents." (quoting United States v. Amodeo , 71 F.3d 1044, 1050-51 (2d Cir. 1995) (stating that "[t]he privacy interests of innocent third parties... should weigh heavily in a court's balancing equation"). Plaintiff's related motion requesting that the Court order Defendants to file a request to seal by February 16, 2024 47 , and request for permission to file a reply letter to Defendants' February 14 letter 50 are DENIED as moot. 03/27/2024		TEXT NOTICE: Oral argument on the pending motion 24 for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction is set for 3/28/2024 at 09:30 AM in Syracuse before Chief Judge Brenda K. Sannes. (nmk) (Entered: 03/27/2024)
03/27/2024	74	TEXT ORDER: Defendants' motion to redact certain portions of Defendants' Opposition to Plaintiff's motion for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction 61 is GRANTED. Andrew Cohen, Vice President and General Counsel of JSR North America Holdings, Inc., states in a declaration that disclosure would reveal "non-public details about the Tender Offer, and the private and confidential business plans of JIC, JICC, and JICC-02, Ltd.," as well as "non-public details of Inpria's net income and revenue" and "confidential information about Inpria's proprietary research, technologies, and product development strategies." (Dkt. No. 61-2, at 1-3). According to Mr. Cohen, disclosure of this information "could improperly affect the market, including by disrupting the Tender Offer..., and would otherwise invade the privacy of non-parties JIC, JICC, and JICC-02, Ltd." and "potentially place Inpria at a competitive disadvantage." (Id. at 2-3). The proposed redactions are narrowly tailored as required by Local Rule 5.3(a). See Lugosch v. Pyramid Co. of Onondaga, 435 F.3d 110, 120 (2d Cir. 2006). And the Court finds that the public's right of access to this information is outweighed by the interests in privacy and the protection of business transactions. SEC v. Telegram Grp. Inc., No. 19-cv-9439, 2020 WL 3264264, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. June 17, 2020) ("[P]rotecting the privacy interests of non-parties, including their business and financial records, represents a legitimate basis for sealing judicial documents." (quoting United States v. Amodeo, 71 F.3d 1044, 1050-51 (2d Cir. 1995) (stating that "[t]he privacy interests of innocent third parties... should weigh heavily in a court's balancing equation")). These redactions reflect Defendants' private and confidential business plans in which the Court has previously found that they have privacy interests that outweigh the strong presumption of public access afforded the material under Lugosch v.
