Motion to Quash (3rd Party Discovery)		Denied in part granted in part
Disclosures & Discovery L Objections L Objection: Relevance District Court Procedural Issues L Venue L Venue Discovery		The court granted in part plaintiff's motion to quash defendant's discovery requests which in part sought information beyond what was relevant to defendants' motion to transfer venue. "[T]he Court does not find that the frequency [Plaintiff's individual owner] is in California on behalf of third-party entities is relevant to Defendants' Motion to Transfer. Instead, what is relevant to a Section 1404(a) analysis is the location of [the entity Plaintiff] and the location of [the individual]. The fact that [the individual] may regularly travel to California for matters unrelated to the operations of [the entity Plaintiff] is irrelevant to a Section 1404(a) analysis."

		Motion to Dismiss - Failure to State a Claim (FRCP 12(b)(6))	Granted
		Infringement - Joint/Divided Infringement - Exercise of Direction or Control Infringement - Joint/Divided Infringement - Joint Enterprise District Court Procedural Issues - Pleadings - Sufficiency of Pleadings	The court granted defendants' partial motion to dismiss because plaintiff failed to adequately plead divided infringement of one asserted patent. "Plaintiff . . . argu[es] the existence of a joint enterprise between Defendants and Google. . . . Plaintiff attaches an article that includes the following language: 'Google paid $8 billion to make its apps default on [Defendants'] phones. Google offered to pay [Defendants] $200 million over four years, so [Defendants'] app store would become available within the Google Play Store rather than preinstalled on the device. The idea was later abandoned, and Google signed the current deal with [Defendants] that totals $8 billion over four years.' The Court finds this insufficient to plead a joint enterprise theory of direct infringement. At a minimum, Plaintiff's allegations, which are contained only in its opposition, fail to plead facts as to the fourth element, i.e., that [Defendants] and Google each have 'an equal right to a voice in the direction of the enterprise, which gives an equal right of control.'"
		Motion to Dismiss - Failure to State a Claim (FRCP 12(b)(6))	Granted
		Direct Infringement - Acts Of Infringement - Testing District Court Procedural Issues - Pleadings - Sufficiency of Pleadings	The court granted defendants' partial motion to dismiss because plaintiff's testing-based infringement allegations fell short of the pleading standard. "Plaintiff's allegations that Defendants infringe the '540 Patent by testing the accused process is merely part of a boilerplate sentence of potentially infringing actions. The Complaint exclusively focused its direct infringement allegations on a user's allegedly infringing activity, not on Defendants' testing or troubleshooting. While the Court finds it plausible that Defendants may have tested the accused process or otherwise executed the allegedly infringing method during product troubleshooting, these factual allegations do not appear in the Complaint."
		Motion to Amend or Supplement Pleading	Granted

Motion to Transfer Venue for Convenience (28 USC § 1404(a))		Denied
Venue
L Transfer Of Venue For Convenience
L Venue & Jurisdiction Proper in Transferee Forum	The court denied defendants' motion to transfer venue from the Eastern District of Texas to the Northern District of California and concluded that defendants failed to show venue in the proposed transferee district was appropriate. "Defendants represent that neither SEA nor SEC are a California corporation. . . . Defendants allege that 'SEA has offices with over 200 regular full-time employees in the NDCA.' To support this allegation, Defendants cite a declaration from . . . the Vice President of R&D Project Management at SEA. However, [the] declaration merely states that 'SEA has several facilities throughout California, including the NDCA, and employs over 600 regular full-time employees in California as of June 30, 2024. This includes over 200 employees in Mountain View, California, as of June 30, 2024.' Defendants fail to support this allegation with evidence of these facilities' addresses or support that either Defendant operates a regular and established place of business at these unidentified facilities. Courts in this District have found similar broad allegations insufficient to establish this threshold issue."
Motion to Transfer Venue for Convenience (28 USC § 1404(a))		Denied
Venue
L Transfer Of Venue For Convenience
L Private Interest Factors (Venue)	The court denied defendants' motion to transfer venue from the Eastern District of Texas to the Northern District of California and concluded that the relative ease of access to proof disfavored transfer. "Defendants' documents in Korea are equally inconvenient and accessible for both this Court and the Northern District of California and are neutral in the transfer analysis. For non-party Google documents, while the Court agrees that these documents are much closer to the transferee district—either in or near the Northern District of California—the Court recognizes that non-party Google documents are only relevant to Plaintiff's infringement claims against Defendants' mobile devices with Google Maps technology. Non-party Google documents are not relevant to Plaintiff's infringement claims against Defendants' mobile devices with Defendants' SFT technology and Defendants' watches running Wear OS software. . . . Plaintiff conversely identifies sources of proof located in this District."
Motion to Transfer Venue for Convenience (28 USC § 1404(a))		Denied
Venue
L Transfer Of Venue For Convenience
L Public Interest Factors (Venue)	The court denied defendants' motion to transfer venue from the Eastern District of Texas to the Northern District of California and concluded that the local interests disfavored transfer. "Defendants admit that SEA maintains an office in this District. In fact, SEA advertised that its office in this district 'is home to [SEA's] second biggest employee population in the U.S. across multiple divisions.' Defendants admit that as of October 2024, SEA has 604 employees in this District—out of 998 identified employees—that work in different business units relevant to the accused products. Defendants also do not dispute that Defendants have tested at least one of the accused functionalities in this District. Defendants have not presented evidence that any party maintains a significant presence in the Northern District of California."
