Counsel,

Following up on our request below. I've re-attached the proposed supplemental cover pleading here, addressing the '428 prior art document production served yesterday.

Regards,

Patrick

Subject: Cerence v. Samsung (2:24-cv-00181) | Supplemental Invalidity Contentions

Counsel,

Samsung is amending its invalidity contentions. The amended cover pleading (subject to a placeholder for a forthcoming document production) and the additional claim charts (Exhibits A-27 to A-28, B-27 to B-28, C-27 to C-28, and D-16 to D-18) are attached. The amendments are directed to (1) including the prior art and grounds asserted in Samsung's IPRs filed against the asserted patents, and (2) amending Samsung's § 112 enablement and written description defenses with respect to the '428 patent.

Samsung intends to seek leave with the Court to amend its invalidity contentions.

Samsung has good cause to seek leave because, for example, Samsung discovered the prior art after serving its invalidity contentions, the stage of the case remains early, and there is no prejudice to Cerence. Please let us know whether or not Cerence opposes leave to amend.

Regards,

Patrick
