Petitioners oppose Patent Owner's request for a third opposition brief for several reasons:

First, rather than addressing a change in circumstances or new guidance from the Office, PO is instead trying to readdress arguments they have already made in the briefing.

Second, PO is seeking to introduce new evidence in PO's third brief. This is not the proper time to introduce new evidence into the record.

Third, PO is seeking to introduce new evidence for "Boards Eyes Only." Petitioners vehemently object to evidence not being shared with us that would potentially be used to deny our IPR petitions. We are already on a shortened schedule, with the institution decision on the merits due next month, and the timing does not enable the parties to reach agreement with the Board on an appropriate protective order.

Respectfully

Acting Director Stewart and Honorable Board,

Patent Owner seeks to correct an inaccurate statement in Petitioners' Discretionary Denial Sur-Replies, filed today in IPR2025-00515, -00516, & -00517. Specifically, regarding licensing activity, Microchip Technology Incorporated took a license to the patents-at-issue in April 2021; and Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd., took a license in October 2022. Both licenses predate Petitioners' petitions.

If Your Honors deem it necessary, Patent Owner offers to file the licenses under seal under the designation "Board Eyes Only."

Petitioners indicated that they oppose Patent Owner's request.

Respectfully,
Richard Bemben

Acting Director Stewart and Honorable Board,

Patent Owner opposes. Petitioners have not established good cause and did not meet and confer in good faith. When Patent Owner asked Petitioners to identify the factual statements they believe are either incomplete or incorrect in order to evaluate Petitioners' request, Petitioners' counsel responded: "I'm not going to disclose the contents beforehand, I just asked if you oppose. We will proceed with notifying the Board of our request without your consent." The Consolidated Trial Practice Guide at 9-10 advises the parties to meet and confer and try to resolve disputes before approaching the Board. Petitioners failed to do so, and should not be granted the relief they request.

Respectfully,
Richard Bemben

Acting Director Stewart and Honorable Board,

Petitioner requests authorization to file a 3-page sur-reply to Patent Owner's recent reply briefs (filed yesterday, June 30, 2025) on discretionary denial in each of the above-noted IPRs (see emails below). Good cause exists because the new arguments presented in the Patent Owner's recent reply briefs recite factual statements that are either incomplete or incorrect. Petitioner's briefs will be limited to the new arguments presented in Patent Owner's recent reply briefs. Upon approval, Petitioners can submit these 3-page sur-replies by the next business day.

The parties have communicated by both emails and phone. Patent Owner has not indicated consent.

Thank you,

HAYNES BOONE

RE: IPR2025-00515; IPR2025-00516; IPR2025-00517

Acting Director Stewart and Honorable Board,

Patent Owner requests authorization to file a 5-page reply to Petitioners' discretionary denial opposition briefs in each of the above-noted proceedings. Patent Owner filed a discretionary denial brief in each proceeding on April 25, 2025. Petitioners filed opposition briefs on June 24, 2025.

Good cause exists at least for the following reasons. First, the circumstances regarding the underlying district court litigation have changed since Patent Owner filed its discretionary denial briefs. For example, the district court granted a motion to stay on Monday, June 23rd. Petitioners discussed the stay extensively in their oppositions, and Patent Owner should have an opportunity to respond.

Second, the Acting Director has issued decisions clarifying the new discretionary denial factors since Patent Owner filed its discretionary denial briefs. For example, decisions such as iRhythm Technologies, Inc. v. Welch Allyn, Inc., IPR2025-00363, and Dabico Airport Solutions Inc. v. AXA Power ApS, IPR2025-00408, provide guidance on the "settled expectations" factor, which is applicable to these proceedings because the challenged patents issued between 9-11 years ago.

The parties have conferred. Petitioners indicated they oppose on the following basis: "Petitioner opposes such a request – this process is already delayed a month more than normal, no need for more delay."

Respectfully,
Richard Bemben
Counsel for Patent Owner
