Kris,

Wonderful. Matt (copied here) is pulling together a joint motion to get on file with the court today. We will send it along for your review.

Best,
Sam

Sam,

Our team discussed this further, and we can agree to stay the case pending the FWD in the 337 IPR.

Kris

Hi Kris,

I had a chance to give a little more thought to our discussion yesterday. I also saw that the director just rejected Resonant's arguments for a discretionary denial in the Nintendo case. From our perspective, the most efficient course is for Resonant to agree to stay this case pending IPR as we are just a few months out from a final written decision anyway. Otherwise, we should move forward on the current schedule.

Happy to hop on a call to discuss further.

Best,
Sam
