ORDER NO. 10: PROCEDURAL SCHEDULE

(May 7, 2025)

Pursuant to Order No. 9 (April 23, 2025), the parties and Commission Investigative Staff ("Staff") submitted a Joint Proposed Procedural Schedule on May 5, 2025, which is attached hereto as Attachment A.[1] The Private Parties and Staff identified two areas of disagreement as to (1) the deadline for the Notice of Prior Art ("NOPA") and (2) deadlines for substantial completion of production of documents and things; the proposed schedule otherwise generally complies with the Ground Rule 2, with the exception of the omission of a deadline for responses to requests for remote witness testimony and a deadline for disclosure of expert witnesses, which have been added.

As to the deadline for the Notice of Prior Art, Complainants seek to set the deadline on June 6, 2025, while Staff and Respondents propose a deadline of September 24, 2025. Complainants state that an early deadline is "more consistent with typical schedules at the ITC" and that waiting until September would "subvert the whole purpose of the NOPA, which is to provide Complainants with an early identification of prior art . . . so that Complainants are afforded the opportunity to seek fact discovery during the ITC's compressed fact discovery period." Proposed Procedural Schedule at 2. Respondents and Staff, in response, contend that the June 6, 2025 deadline is unreasonably early in discovery and prejudicial to Staff and Respondents. Id. at 3-4. Respondents and Staff also note that the September deadline is consistent with the order of events contemplated by Ground Rule 2.

[1] The Private Parties and Staff by email to chambers jointly requested—and received—permission to submit the proposed procedural schedule on May 5, 2025.

Upon review of the submissions of the parties, the undersigned adopts the Notice of Prior Art deadline of September 24, 2025 proposed by Staff and Respondents, which follows the order of events contemplated by Ground Rule 2.

As to a substantial completion deadline, Complainants seek (a) a deadline of June 16, 2025 for substantial completion of discovery responses and document productions in response to RFPs and responses to non-contention ROGs / RFAs served before May 5, 2025; and (b) a cutoff for supplementation of burden contentions only applying to discovery received from Respondents on or before August 25, 2025, which is one month prior to the cutoff date on September 25, 2025. Id. at 4-5. Complainants contend that these deadlines "will aid in streamlining of discovery and early resolution of discovery disputes." Id. at 5. Complainants state that Respondents TSMC has "refused to provide Complainants with any indication of when it will begin producing any of the key technical documents, such as process flows, recipes, or technical presentations (such as 'training guides')" in the investigation. Id. Respondents oppose a substantial completion deadline and state that an additional deadline is unnecessary and will cause, rather than prevent, discovery disputes. Id. at 6. Respondents also object to the timing of Complainants' proposal, which Respondents contend was not identified until May 5, 2025. Respondents also object to the proposed limit on responses to contention interrogatories, and contend that Ground Rule 4.4.2 lays out the process for supplementation to contention interrogatories. Id. at 7. In Staff's view, the proposed deadline for substantial completion is four months prior to the close of fact discovery, which is "untenable." Id. at 7-8. Staff further believes that the proposed limit to burden contention interrogatories is unnecessary. Id.

Upon review of the submissions of the parties, the undersigned declines to impose a substantial completion deadline at this time. However, to aid in an efficient discovery process, the parties should meet and confer regarding the timing of key document productions and should submit on June 16, 2025 a joint status report identifying (1) the status of the production of key document categories, including key technical documents; and (2) a description of any disputes concerning document production for which the parties anticipate requiring judicial intervention.[2] As to the proposed limitation on the responses to contention interrogatories, the undersigned declines to alter the event descriptions in Ground Rule 2; Ground Rule 4.4.2 provides the standard for amending responses to contention interrogatories.
