Re: Notice of License offer

Dear Mr. Thomas,

K.Mizra LLC and its subsidiaries("K.Mizra") own and license portfolios of patents, including patents that cover various aspects of software and services, networking equipment and services and data storage. As the owner of patents in this field of technology, K.Mizra is very concerned about potential infringement and is therefore actively engaged in detecting and resolving unlicensed use of technology covered by its patents. Our most recent success is described in this article link: <http://www.fosspatents.com/2022/08/pokemon-go-infringes-cloud-architecture.html> ("Pokémon GO infringes cloud architecture patent: Munich court ruling puts pressure on Niantic (Google/Nintendo) to settle with licensing firm K.Mizra"). Other enforcement actions taken by K.Mizra can be found on our website.

K.Mizra's patent portfolio is an aggregation of portfolios that originated with more than a dozen entities. Our portfolio contains patents that originated with well-known companies such as IBM and ZTE. Other portfolios in K.Mizra's holdings originated with research institutes such as Nederlandse Organisatie voor Toegepast Natuurwetenschappelijk Onderzoek (Netherlands Organization for Applied Scientific Research). So that you have a full understanding of our portfolio, a list of K.Mizra-owned patents is found on our website.

We believe that certain patents in the K.Mizra portfolio are likely being infringed by Citrix. We would be happy to share other information under the appropriate settings. As you are aware, infringement of a valid patent may give rise to certain remedies for the rights owner. However, we would prefer to regularize Citrix's activities amicably and therefore would offer your company a license under our portfolio as part of one arrangement and on commercially attractive terms.

Can you advise on some dates/times you or someone from your offices can discuss this further?

Sincerely,
