Our Work

A Pioneer in the Business

The Invention Investment Fund (IIF) is a pioneer in patent licensing, having invested over 3 billion dollars in patents acquired across more than one thousand distinct transactions to develop a comprehensive and finely tuned portfolio. Over the past 20 years, IIF's patents have generated billions of dollars in licensing revenue. With deep licensing expertise, IIF operates at a scale few companies can match.

We offer licenses which grant companies rights to patents in diverse technical categories acquired from a variety of sources; from independent inventors, universities, startups, small-and-medium-sized businesses, to Fortune 500 firms—all while generating a return for our investors. Our team of experts in patent licensing, portfolio strategy and technology manage this large and robust portfolio and continue to unearth new applicability and derive additional value from the patents as businesses and technologies advance.

Many companies, including top global technology firms, have recognized the value of the IIF portfolio by licensing the IIF patents.

Explore Our Technology Blocks

Spanning 16 technology areas, the IIF patent portfolio was sourced from top inventors around the globe and is relevant to core technologies across a diverse set of industries.
