Taylor	3 1 P R O C E E D I N G S 2 JOE MADDEN: Well, thank you, 3 everyone, for a great panel. 4 And -- and now I'd like to turn to a 5 special part of our program. I'd like to bring 6 Peter Vetter and Dr. Ted Rappaport up to the 7 stage, and they have a special award to present. 8 Peter? Ted? 9 TED RAPPAPORT: Thank you, very much, 10 Joe, and thank you for doing such a great job 11 emceeding this second Brooklyn 6G Summit. 12 It's a pleasure to be here with you, 13 Peter, for this very special time in each of our 14 summits to present an award -- a Pioneer's Award 15 to someone very special; isn't it? 16 PETER VETTER: Yeah, indeed. Also, 17 this year, we're going to announce a -- a great 18 award on behalf of Nokia Bell Labs. It's -- 19 it's -- it's really an honor to do this every 20 year, the Brooklyn 6G Summit Pioneer Award. 21 TED RAPPAPORT: Yeah. And, you know, 22 we've had three amazing technology leaders who

But, 11 right now, Peter, why don't you present this 12 Brooklyn 6G Summit Pioneer Award to a true 13 pioneer, Tom Wheeler. 14 PETER VETTER: Thanks, Ted. So as 15 you already said, it's a very prestigious award. 16 Only three. We started to -- to do this back in 17 2018 in -- at the Brooklyn Summit with Marty 18 Cooper, then we had Irwin Jacobs, and then last 19 year Professor Paulraj. 20 So Tom Wheeler is now joining this 21 very selective crowd for impact for work in the 22 telecommunications industry for the past four

5 1 decades. 2 Very befitting to the Brooklyn Summit 3 and to NYU, I want to highlight his work at the 4 FCC to open up the spectrum for cellular 5 electrodes above the 24 GHz range. That is 6 really an important milestone for the 5G era. 7 This is the first time in the industry that 8 millimeter wave spectrum could be used for 9 access. 10 But he's also an important 11 entrepreneur. He helped start up many 12 companies, started his own companies many times 13 in cable, in wireless, in video communications. 14 And he's actually -- interesting to know -- the 15 only person that has been inducted both in the 16 Cable Television Hall of Fame and in the 17 Wireless Hall of Fame, something that President 18 Obama joked about when he said: He's the Bo 19 Jackson of the telecom industry. 20 And I don't know what President Obama 21 would say about now adding the Brooklyn Pioneer 22 Award, but I can say on behalf of all my	7 1 really led the way to 5G back in 2014 when Nokia 2 and NYU teamed up. It's wonderful to have the 3 FCC commissioner who, at that time, allowed the 4 entire industry to finally move out of the 5 basement, below 2 GHz and 3 GHz, and move up to 6 the millimeter wave. 7 Tom, thank you so much for being here 8 and for accepting the Brooklyn 6G Summit Pioneer 9 Award. Congratulations. 10 TOM WHEELER: Thank you, Ted. 11 And, you know, if we have a correct 12 record here, Ted, we should make sure that when 13 -- when we did the millimeter wave proceeding, 14 we should make sure that this record shows that 15 in the specific citations of that order, we 16 referenced your work on why this was possible. 17 So to receive this award from the father of 18 millimeter wave is itself terrific. 19 TED RAPPAPORT: Thank you. 20 Peter, final last words? 21 PETER VETTER: Again, well-deserved. 22 The importance of -- of the milestone and for
6 1 colleagues at Nokia and Bell Labs, a -- a warm 2 congratulations with this award, Tom Wheeler. 3 TED RAPPAPORT: Congratulations, Tom. 4 Well-deserved, and thank you for being this 5 year's Brooklyn 6G Summit Pioneer Award winner. 6 TOM WHEELER: Well, Peter and Ted, 7 thank you very much. I mean, what a great 8 honor. And, I mean, my goodness, to be 9 mentioned in the same breath with Marty and 10 Irwin and -- and Paul is -- is a huge honor in 11 and of itself. But to be recognized by leaders 12 like you and the job that you've been doing at 13 the Brooklyn 6G Summit is -- is a great honor, 14 and I'm -- I appreciate it very much. 15 And, Ted, I look forward to -- to our 16 visit in a few minutes. 17 TED RAPPAPORT: Yes. Thank you very 18 much. 19 Peter, we'll be sending Tom his very 20 special customized Brooklyn 6G Summit Award via 21 Express Mail in a few days. But it's really 22 wonderful, I think, for this Summit, which	8 1 all the work, Tom Wheeler, that you have done 2 for the industry, thank you and congratulations 3 again. 4 (The recording was concluded.) 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22
