SKECHERS U.S.A., INC.,

Defendant.

Case No. 2:25-cv-00744-JRG

PLAINTIFFS' AMENDED DISCLOSURE OF ASSERTED
CLAIMS AND INFRINGEMENT CONTENTIONS

Pursuant to the Court's October 20, 2025, Order and Local Patent Rules 3-1 and 3-2, Plaintiffs make the following Amended Disclosure of Asserted Claims and Infringement Contentions and Accompanying Document Production as to Defendant Skechers U.S.A., Inc. ("Skechers"). This document collectively refers to Plaintiffs as either "Plaintiffs" or "HFL."

HFL waives no claim, contention, or argument regarding the factual and/or legal details of the following preliminary infringement contentions. The following should not be construed as HFL's preliminary construction of any asserted claim or claim term. HFL reserves the right to change, amend, supplement, or otherwise alter these contentions based on receipt of further information that will be provided by, produced by, or otherwise made available by Skechers through discovery that is not available at the time of these disclosures. For example, HFL does not have available to it, and Skechers has not yet produced, Skechers documents describing all of its products with designs and functionality similar to what is described in this document. As explained in HFL's motion to compel on the issue, Skechers has failed to meet its technical-production obligations and is refusing to produce technical materials that would permit a more fulsome analysis of all of its footwear—including thwarting the ability of HFL to determine some of the structures and functionality not apparent from photos of the outside of the footwear. We therefore expect that once we receive the needed technical information we will review it and may add more models and styles to the various Features Sets described below. We are, however, amending these contentions now out of an abundance of caution and as part of our ongoing diligence to update the contentions as more information arrives.

Moreover, ~~t~~he claim charts in the attached Exhibits are not designed to represent the entire scope of infringement but are merely intended to illustrate examples of manners in which the Accused Products infringe the identified claims of HFL's Patents. Further, the division of claim elements in the attached claim charts is neither intended to be a modification of the claim language itself nor an admission that the claims should be construed by the division. Rather, the division of claim elements is provided for convenience and clarity. HFL's contentions apply to Skechers' products and any other similar past, present, or future products with the same or substantially similar features. HFL reserves all rights to rely on additional evidence in its possession and evidence yet to be discovered.

There very likely are additional products within Feature Set 1 that are not, but should be, listed under Feature Set 2 because they have Stretch Fit uppers. Because of issues with Skechers production, including producing images (and nothing more, including no text descriptions of whether there is a stretch-fit upper) of certain products, it is difficult to determine everything that should be included in Features Set 2. Footwear styles not listed here but that fit within the Feature Set 2 description are also accused under Feature Set 2. HFL reserves the right to supplement this and the other Feature Sets after Skechers adequately supplements its production.

These disclosures are based at least in part on HFL's present understanding of the meaning and scope of the claims of the patents-in-suit absent discovery. The claims also cover substantially similarly designed models, to the extent they exist. Discovery in this matter is ongoing and HFL's investigation regarding the grounds contained herein and other grounds of infringement continues. HFL has not yet obtained discovery. Further, HFL has not yet obtained 30(b)(6) deposition testimony on the Accused Products. This disclosure is given without prejudice to HFL's right to amend or supplement this disclosure as additional facts are ascertained, analysis is made, research is completed, and claims are construed.

3. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(d)

HFL believes that each element of each asserted claim is literally present in the Accused Products. To the extent any element of any claim is not literally present in any Accused Functionality, HFL contends that each such element is present under the doctrine of equivalents. HFL reserves the right to supplement and/or amend its infringement contentions regarding the doctrine of equivalents in light of ongoing discovery and/or the Court's claim construction rulings.

4. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(e)

HFL asserts that the claims are entitled to the following priority dates:

- At least as early as November 12, 2009: Asserted claims of the '101 patent;

- At least as early as December 19, 2019: The 'D614 patent.

HFL reserves its right to amend the priority date of the Patents based on discovery in this case, including any discovery from third parties.

5. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(f)

HFL does not intend to rely on an assertion that its own apparatus, product, device, process, method, act, or other instrumentality practices the claimed inventions of the Asserted Patents.

Document Production Accompanying Disclosure

1. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-2(a)

HFL is not aware of any documents in its possession, custody, or control that describe the subject matter set forth by this Rule.

2. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-2(b)

HFL has produced ~~contemporaneously herewith~~ various documents related to the conception, reduction to practice, design, and development of each claimed invention created on or before their respective priority dates at the following bates ranges: HFL0007443 to HFL0007550.

3. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-2(c)

HFL has produced ~~contemporaneously herewith~~ a copy of the file histories of the patents-in-suit at the following bates ranges: HFL0000164 to HFL0007442.

CONCLUSION

Consistent with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the local rules of this Court, HFL expressly reserves the right to supplement this disclosure, including the right to supplement its disclosure of asserted claims and infringement contentions, as discovery is ongoing and additional information regarding Skechers' acts of infringement are likely to be uncovered through the course of discovery.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
MARSHALL DIVISION

HANDSFREE LABS LICENSING, LLC, FAST

Plaintiffs,

v.

SKECHERS U.S.A., INC.,

Defendant.

Case No. 2:25-cv-00744-JRG

PLAINTIFFS' AMENDED DISCLOSURE OF ASSERTED
CLAIMS AND INFRINGEMENT CONTENTIONS

Pursuant to the Court's October 20, 2025, Order and Local Patent Rules 3-1 and 3-2, Plaintiffs make the following Amended Disclosure of Asserted Claims and Infringement Contentions and Accompanying Document Production as to Defendant Skechers U.S.A., Inc. ("Skechers"). This document collectively refers to Plaintiffs as either "Plaintiffs" or "HFL."

HFL waives no claim, contention, or argument regarding the factual and/or legal details of the following preliminary infringement contentions. The following should not be construed as HFL's preliminary construction of any asserted claim or claim term. HFL reserves the right to change, amend, supplement, or otherwise alter these contentions based on receipt of further information that will be provided by, produced by, or otherwise made available by Skechers through discovery that is not available at the time of these disclosures. For example, HFL does not have available to it, and Skechers has not yet produced, Skechers documents describing all of its products with designs and functionality similar to what is described in this document. As explained in HFL's motion to compel on the issue, Skechers has failed to meet its technical-production obligations and is refusing to produce technical materials that would permit a more fulsome analysis of all of its footwear—including thwarting the ability of HFL to determine some of the structures and functionality not apparent from photos of the outside of the footwear. We therefore expect that once we receive the needed technical information we will review it and may add more models and styles to the various Features Sets described below. We are, however, amending these contentions now out of an abundance of caution and as part of our ongoing diligence to update the contentions as more information arrives.

Moreover, the claim charts in the attached Exhibits are not designed to represent the entire scope of infringement but are merely intended to illustrate examples of manners in which the Accused Products infringe the identified claims of HFL’s Patents. Further, the division of claim elements in the attached claim charts is neither intended to be a modification of the claim language itself nor an admission that the claims should be construed by the division. Rather, the division of claim elements is provided for convenience and clarity. HFL’s contentions apply to Skechers’ products and any other similar past, present, or future products with the same or substantially similar features. HFL reserves all rights to rely on additional evidence in its possession and evidence yet to be discovered.

Shared Features of the Accused Products

Further, various Skechers models include additional elastic elements such as stretch laces, elastic tongue strips, and elastic gores. For instance, Ultra Flex 3.0 Right Away lists “Jersey mesh upper with stretch laces” under Design Details.⁴ Models with discrete tongues such as Glide-Step Pro feature elastic strips attached to the tongue as depicted below.

Skechers variously combines those features—e.g., a Stretch Fit upper, elastic elements (tongue strips, stretch laces, gores)—in footwear that includes a sole, an upper, and a firm heel structure, to form various infringing combinations. The following table summarizes categories some of those combinations (as “Feature Set Nos.”):

Feature Set No.	Features
1	Sole, upper, and firm heel structure
2	Feature Set No. 1 + Stretch Fit upper
3	Feature Set No. 1 + Elastic tongue strips
4	Feature Set No. 3 + Stretch laces
5	Feature Set No. 1 + Elastic gores
6	Feature Set No. 5 + Stretch laces
7	Feature Set No. 2 + Stretch laces

Skechers offers infringing Hands Free Slip-ins shoes exhibiting at least the features according to the sets identified above. The following shoe models are non-limiting examples of those feature sets, and include all color variants and men’s, women’s, boy’s, and girl’s versions exhibiting substantially similar features:

There very likely are additional products within Feature Set 1 that are not, but should be, listed under Feature Set 2 because they have Stretch Fit uppers. Because of issues with Skechers production, including producing images (and nothing more, including no text descriptions of whether there is a stretch-fit upper) of certain products, it is difficult to determine everything that should be included in Features Set 2. Footwear styles not listed here but that fit within the Feature Set 2 description are also accused under Feature Set 2. HFL reserves the right to supplement this and the other Feature Sets after Skechers adequately supplements its production.

These disclosures are based at least in part on HFL's present understanding of the meaning and scope of the claims of the patents-in-suit absent discovery. The claims also cover substantially similarly designed models, to the extent they exist. Discovery in this matter is ongoing and HFL's investigation regarding the grounds contained herein and other grounds of infringement continues. HFL has not yet obtained discovery. Further, HFL has not yet obtained 30(b)(6) deposition testimony on the Accused Products. This disclosure is given without prejudice to HFL's right to amend or supplement this disclosure as additional facts are ascertained, analysis is made, research is completed, and claims are construed.

3. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(d)

HFL believes that each element of each asserted claim is literally present in the Accused Products. To the extent any element of any claim is not literally present in any Accused Functionality, HFL contends that each such element is present under the doctrine of equivalents. HFL reserves the right to supplement and/or amend its infringement contentions regarding the doctrine of equivalents in light of ongoing discovery and/or the Court's claim construction rulings.

4. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(e)

HFL asserts that the claims are entitled to the following priority dates:

- At least as early as November 12, 2009: Asserted claims of the '101 patent;

HFL reserves its right to amend the priority date of the Patents based on discovery in this case, including any discovery from third parties.

5. Disclosure Under P.R. 3-1(f)

HFL does not intend to rely on an assertion that its own apparatus, product, device, process, method, act, or other instrumentality practices the claimed inventions of the Asserted Patents.
