About Hypervolt

About Us

At Hypervolt, we're driven by a singular mission: to help you move better, feel better, and live better. We believe that optimal recovery is the cornerstone of peak performance, whether you're an elite athlete pushing boundaries or simply navigating the demands of everyday life. Our commitment to this vision has led us to meticulously engineer the Hypervolt product line, including the Hypervolt 2 Black, Hypervolt Go 2, and Hypervolt 2 Pro, each designed with our patented Quiet Glide Technology to provide unparalleled percussive massage therapy.

We've poured countless hours into not only developing our innovative products but also in crafting a seamless and informative online experience for you. We've continuously refined our website, from simplifying navigation to ensure you can easily find the perfect Hypervolt for your needs, to integrating rich product descriptions and helpful "how-to"

Our History

Hypervolt was born from the vision of Hyperice, a company founded in 2010 with a mission to revolutionize recovery and movement enhancement. Building on years of expertise in vibration technology, Hyperice introduced the original Hypervolt in 2018, aiming to make state-of-the-art percussive massage accessible to everyone. Since then, we have continually innovated and expanded our product line, evolving with advanced features like Quiet Glide Technology and HyperSmart connectivity, ensuring that our products continue to set the standard for muscle relief and performance enhancement globally.

guides. Our dedication extends to presenting customer testimonials and video reviews clearly, empowering you to make informed decisions and truly understand the transformative power of Hypervolt.
